BOOSTERS, AND WHO THEY ARE

Talking of boosting, take Clayton Dow's place at the corner of 9th and Adams. Mr. Dow's residence is anything but pretentious, and a little paint would help, but he has a "heap" of flowers there and it seems they are always blooming even when others' have given out. Inside and outside the entire front of this property there is a wondrous profusion and variety of roses, pansies, asters, etc. These flowers are set out largely without regard to order, but the glorious array of beautiful blossoms covers all error of omission, and occasions much pleasant comment. The writer has heard many passengers on the C. & E. trains grow enthusiastic about that display of flowers. Any man who can, will and does create a favorable impression upon a stranger within the gates, or an abider therein, is a booster and a good one. Mr. Dow's flowers, being located where they are, do a great deal of boosting, and better boosting than is done by a whole lot of people who use only their tongues. It takes work and constant care to have beautiful flowers, but they are worth it, and add most to the glory of any town.

R. E. Burger, at the corner of 9th and Jefferson, is another entitled to credit. Mr. Burger's place is not a "bower of roses," but it always looks "trim" and neat. A few flowers add pleasing variety, but the feature of the place is its absolute cleanliness. A garden at the south side of his residence fronts on the street but, unlike the average garden, lacks much of being unsightly. Throughout the summer that garden, the well-kept lawn, trim looking trees and the wide porch extending around his residence have made many people better pleased with themselves and the city. Mr. Burger joined others on that block in putting a curb on Jefferson street, and he has just built a nice residence across the street from his present abode. Cement walks and curbing are about the property and before a great while a splendid lawn on the corner, added to that of Mrs. Lee and the Huston property, will make that block the most beautiful in the city, by far. R. E. Burger is the kind of booster that counts.

Many people who dislike hedge fences in front of their property find them desirable for division fences. That the hedge fence can be improved on even for this is evidenced by the fence that is between the Grant Elgin and

Chas. Pernot properties on north Seventh street. Those properties are separated by rose bushes, and there isn't a prettier sight in the city at the present time. The roses there are of good variety and there is a wealth of superior blossoms from the front to the rear of the properties, a distance of 75 to 100 feet, probably. This fence has all the hedges in the city beaten to a frazzle in appearance and less labor keeps it in condition.

team; Malcomson, of S. A. C.; Edwards and Donald, of S. A. C. Huston, a University of Oregon man, is also entered in the races, and competition in the sprints and hurdles is expected to prove the keenest on the program. In the 100-yard dash several world-famous athletes are entered. Among those who will compete are Hamilton, Chicago Athletic Club and member of the Olympian team, who has covered the distance in 10 seconds flat; May, also a member of the Olympian team from the University of Illinois, who ran the 100 yards in 9 4-5 seconds, beating Huff, who won the senior event at the Jamestown exposition; Knox, of the Olympic Club, who won everything this year and is credited with a mark of 9 4-5 seconds in this event; Gerhardt, of the Olympic Club, credited with doing the distance in 9 4-5 seconds. Huston, of the University of Oregon and Multnomah Club, who has never been beaten in the Pacific Northwest, and who lays claim to a record of 9 4-5 seconds; Nelson, of Boston; Cowles, of the Sixty-second Coast Artillery Corps. Forline, of Missouri Athletic Club, of St. Louis; McConnell, of Vancouver; Jack Nelson, of Washington State College and Seattle Athletic Club; Martin, of Whitman and S. A. C., and Courtney, of the S. A. C.

Seattle Looks Good To Them

Lake Union shore lands, at Seattle two-thirds of which are submerged, and with an appraised valuation of not more than $20,000 sold on the courthouse steps at public auction Saturday for $100,000. What the Leading Dry Goods Journals Say:
 Those merchants whose foresight guided them to purchase Cotton and Wool Fabrics early in the Spring will find themselves fully justified in their action and be in a position to offer their customers merchandise at a saving of from 15 to 25 per cent. of the advanced prices, and it is up to them to advise their patrons of these market conditions.

We sell more Blankets in August than during any other month of the year. Seems strange, doesn't it, that people should fill cold weather needs in mid-summer? Must be a reason---there is---and a mighty good one, too.

During the month of August we sell good Fresh, Sweet, Warm, Full Sized Blankets at the Lowest Prices of the year.

We buy Blankets ahead of season--stacks and stacks of them--when manufacturers most need orders to keep their help at work, and we secure big price concessions by so doing. In turn we are able to offer our customers extraordinary price inducements to buy Blankets for Fall and Winter in mid-Summer.

Here's how richly we reward you for buying Blankets now:

- 50 pairs Cotton Blankets, 76 inches long, 56 inches wide. Pink and blue borders 50c pair
- 100 pairs white, tan and gray Cotton Blankets, 76 by 56 inches. . . 75c pair
- 100 pairs white, tan and gray Cotton Blankets, 10-4 size. $1.00 pair
- 50 pairs white, tan and gray Cotton Blankets, full 12-4 size. . . $1.25 pair
- 50 pairs good heavy, fleecy Blankets, 11-4 and 12-4 sizes. $1.50 pair

J. M. NOLAN & SON'S Early Purchases

Our purchase of these 400 odd pairs of Cotton and Wool Blankets was made as early as March last, and bought at old prices. We would advise your early buying, as later shipments will be at advanced prices, added to which selections will not be nearly as liberal. To those preparing student rooms, this will be an exceptional opportunity.
