One of the really enjoyable films at the Palace tonight and tomorrow night is that one showing various and sundry microbes—"political," "mother-in-law," "auto," etc., etc. This is a real novelty and would make even a dyspeptic Hottentot laugh. It comes amid several pathetic presentations and for that reason is all the more appreciated. It's worth the price.

For Sale—2 acres; 5 roomed house, barn and out buildings, young orchard; for particulars call at Jack Dawson's Poultry Market. 8-18-4t

It is said that all of the Ireland boys, Ned Smith, Frank Whitaker and others are going over into Crook county to take up land. The fact that railroads are soon to reach Central Oregon makes the land seem more desirable, and the fact that it can be secured at $7.50 an acre and is sold without any homestead requirements other than cultivation of the soil, is especially attractive. The father of the Ireland boys has just returned from that section and he thought so well of it that he took up 320 acres. He dug a 27-foot well in one day and found 30 inches of water in it the next day. The well was driven through gravel and loose soil. He thinks that is a good country, though at present it is naught but sage brush land.

Miss Nora Miller, who was burned quite badly Sunday morning, is recovering nicely and will soon be at her place in the postoffice news stand.

The court house wood for the winter is now being put in. It took 100 cords last year. 50 cords of oak are being furnished by the Carver road.

Nolan's "baby window" this week is a real feature. Everything for the baby is to be found there—at least we did not notice that anything was missing—except the baby. Something like 400 married couples in this city are lacking the one thing essential, and therein Nolan loses. If the firm is wide-awake, this ought to be a sufficient suggestion.

A grapevine dispatch from Yachats brings the story of a postoffice clerk, a falling tree and a tent borne to the ground. The fact that makes the story of particular interest to local people is found in the statement that said postoffice clerk licks stamps in an office less than a thousand miles from the Benton County National Bank corner and that the people who narrowly escaped death are part of the population of this fair city. As the story goes, the postoffice man had been shooting at a tree some fifteen inches in diameter, and decided to cut the bullets out, just to see how far they had gone. He whacked away, and on both sides of the tree, and as this tree was immediately over the camp tent he put a prop under the limbs of one side. Unfortunately the prop failed to work at the right time and the tree landed on top of the tent, breaking the ridge pole and creating as much havoc as the proverbial bull in a china shop. Ladies in the tent fell on their knees and thus escaped injury. This camping party is in Corvallis now, and some of them have been having considerable fun out of the young man who chopped both sides of the tree in order to bring it down.

Jesse Edington is confined at his home by a severe case of stiff neck.

Dr. Withycombe and Prof. Dryden returned last night from the meeting of college people in Portland.

WANTED:—Man and wife, German preferred, for general ranch work; good place and steady job. P. O. B. 20-12

The ditch in front of the court house is now being filled with dirt. That place will be filled level with the street.

William Whipple, nephew of J. W. Handy, has come from South Dakota and will locate here. Mr. Whipple was formerly from Iowa.

Mrs. John Smith went to Albany yesterday with her sister, Mrs. Childs, who returned to her California home after an extended visit here.

Mrs. Dr. Flint has entirely recovered from a severe attack of influenza. The Flint home on Third street has just been provided with a new roof.

Sheriff Gellatly, now in a Portland hospital, is improving so rapidly that the trained nurse has been dispensed with, and Mrs. Gellatly cares for him.

A package containing eight yards of chambray gingham was lost on the streets or in the stores yesterday. If you find it, telephone this office, or Mrs. W. C. Shriver.

Councilman C. V. Johnson did not return yesterday with the remainder of the investigating committee. He remained over to see the circus on at Portland and returned later.

Melons on ice—Andrews & Kerr's bakery. 19-13

The Elmore hotel, 4th and Monroe, is being re-opened by E. M. Drown, an easterner. He is cleaning up the place and expects to make it a thoroughly livable place.

An apple buyer from Wenatchee was in this city yesterday trying to contract for fruit in car load lots. He has a market in Australia and is buying fruit everywhere for re-shipment from Wenatchee. Last year he shipped 17,000 boxes from his own 140 acre orchard.

Flour sacks for sale, 25 cents a dozen. Andrews & Kerr's bakery. 19-13

Mr. and Mrs. Victor P. Moses and Miss Moser went to Falls City by auto yesterday to attend the funeral of Miss Myrtle Frank. J. W. Ingle took them over and made the 32 miles is slightly more than an hour. Victor says he does not want to ride that fast in an auto any more.

M. L. Hubler and family and Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Horton returned yesterday from a two weeks' camping trip at Yachats. The party enjoyed a very pleasant outing, and return feeling better for the trip. They were very successful in fishing, some beauties being caught by the men folks of the party.

The fact that an Albany man is in possession of one of the new Lincoln cent pieces is not sufficient cause for any great noise. Sam Hartsock, the best looking druggist in Corvallis, has had one of these cents for three weeks, so long that the coating of copper is almost worn off. Sam is a collector of curios, and has a twenty-cent piece, a 75 cent piece, three dollar bill and a plugged nickel. This last is one of three or four million afloat in the country but is particularly wonderful on account of the size of the hole, which is slightly larger than the nickel.

If any one hears Roy Raber or F. L. Miller telling about catching a half-ton of fine bass yesterday, just call him a fibber. These two gentlemen, accompanied by H. H. Hubbell and Jonee Porter went to the latter's place yesterday and caught exactly 7 1/2 pounds—not 700 pounds nor 70 pounds. Raber might not stretch this catch to 700 pounds, but Miller would. It's a funny thing about these two men; Raber couldn't stretch a fish story if he would, though, if it seemed worth while, he could stretch anything else that came to hand. While on the other hand, Miller couldn't resist stretching a fish story. If he caught a "minny" six inches long, it would be fully sixteen inches the first time he told it, and sixty the second. Just what the preacher would do is a matter of question, but he is the man who gave the correct line-up this time. Just how he came to be in such company is a puzzle.

An exchange, in glancing over the papers, has discovered a number of cases where people have been injured in various parts of the anatomy. Here are a few cases cited: While Miss Pearl Kinsmore of East Wind, Ind., was coming down stairs Tuesday she slipped and bruised herself on the landing. Amos Mittleby of Woolpost, Kan., while harness a fractious horse, was kicked just south of the corn crib; he is able to be out again. While Harold Green of Beulah, Miss., was escorting Miss Violet Goof home from a church social Saturday night a savage dog set upon them and bit Miss Goof four times on the public square. Joseph Tutt of Grinnelsburg, Iowa, climbed on the roof of his house last week to find a leak and fell striking on his back porch, causing serious injuries. Isaiah Trimmer of Dolbery, Neb., was playing with a cat Friday, when the animal scratched him on the verandah.

W. D. Sutton, an Oregon Agricultural College graduate of the class of 1909, and four years a resident of Oregon, died yesterday at St. Vincent's Hospital, Portland, from the result of an accident sustained last Tuesday, when he fell off the North Bank Willamette bridge, a distance of 45 feet. In the fall Sutton's right ankle and wrist were crushed and he suffered internal injuries which finally resulted in his death. The remains were taken East last night by a brother of the deceased to the family home in Darlington, S. C. The surviving members of the family are a sister, a brother and the mother.

What People Want to Know

paying me $1,000 per year and coming to some point in the West with a capital of $1,500 to $1,800, try to secure from 20 to 80 acres of land and engage in diversified farming or fruit growing. You are on the ground and know the exact conditions existing in and around your city, and can probably tell me what land would cost suitable for such a project; also how much money would have to be paid down on such a piece of land as I have mentioned.

I will consider it a favor if you will give me answers to the following questions:

1. Do all kinds of crops grow there without irrigation?
2. Do any of the farmers irrigate in your section? If so, are better crops and fruit grown in that way?
3. What kind of land can be bought for $25 per acre and how far is it from market?
4. What kind of land can be bought for, say, $50 per acre?
5. What do you consider the best time to come to the country, fall or spring?
6. Could one coming in the fall who wished to stay a few months before buying, secure employment of any kind sufficient to pay expenses of keeping a whole family?
7. How much of a payment would probably have to be made on a place costing $2,000 and what terms could be had on the balance?

If you will kindly answer the questions I have asked it will help me to decide whether to locate in Oregon, Washington or Idaho and I will consider it a great favor.

Very truly yours
