They ordered it made in Portland and it was to be appropriately lettered for their millinery and ladies' furnishing business, but the manufacturers at the first trial turned out a market sign with a large steer as the attractive feature and a drug store design at the second attempt, finally getting what was originally ordered. The awning is being put in place today.

Elbert Hubbard, one of the most prolific writers of the world today, and by all odds one of the most popular platform men, is scheduled for a lecture at the Agricultural College on October 2. He will give his famous "heart to heart talk" on the "March of the Centuries." Elbert Hubbard has been castigated in public print as few other men, and in his monthly Philistine he carries to his readers all the vilest things said about him. But it is also true that few men have been permitted to read more kindly things said of themselves than have been said of Hubbard. The Fra says what he thinks and apologizes to no one; his aim in life, according to the Philistine, is to make others think—and he does it.

WANTED—Boy or man for several days' work about house and yard. E. D. Ressler, 142 N. 7th. 9-8-tf

J. M. Nolan & Son have just finished refitting their ladies' department so as to be in readiness to receive their patrons at the opening of the fall season. Handsome twentieth century cabinets have been installed for the display of the large line of tailored suits and wraps and the floors covered with beautiful Axminster rugs, making the department very attractive.

M. M. Long has cement walks about his new home at the corner of Fourth and "A" streets and is now making a lawn. He has an attractive bungalow there, different in style from most in the city, and with a green lawn there will have a fine property. Frank Scott, the mail man, has built a new house just now and will put down cement in the spring. That corner will loom up in great shape next summer.

It's a crying shame that the cement walk on Fourth street between Adams and Washington, should not show to the credit of the city. That walk cost good hard cash, and yet it looks like the effort of amateurs in a town no larger than Summit. In the first place, the owner of the property at the corner of Fourth and Washington streets, built a good walk and he built a wide one—the city ordinances at that time having prescribed a wide one or, perchance, made no provision at all. The ordinances now declare for a six-foot walk, and such a walk has been laid north of the corner man's property. As a result there is a "jog" of one foot between the two walks. But that is not the worst of it there. The workmen who laid the new walk must have eyes so crossed that the tears run down their backs when they cry. The outer edges of that walk have bows in them that make the average pedestrian seasick as he passes. The Gazette-Times has insisted that some competent person should be appointed to look after walk construction, or that the city should contract the walk in districts and build it for the property owners. The council proposes to take some action—but it could not take it too quick. More than a little walk put down recently is far from the best that can be laid, and this had not been paid for. It should not be.

CITY COUNCIL TALKS LICENSE

ORDERS MONEY COLLECTED AND NEW ORDINANCES DRAWN.

TO APPOINT PARK COMMISSION

City Dads Hold Long Session and Wade Through Considerable Business—Will Tax Bicycles $2 per Year—Councilmen Shocked at Vaudeville.

The city council in regular session last night discussed the license question, protested against vaudeville shows, took steps preliminary to the appointment of a Park Commission, and ordered bills paid. With the exception of Skelton and Bogue, all members were present.

The committee on licenses recommended that ordinance be drafted fixing license for card tables, busses, express wagons and laundries. This committee reported that a number who should pay license had not done so. It was ordered that they be notified to pay up, and then brought before the court if they failed to do so.

A license of $2.00 per year is to be required of all bicycles. This license money will be used for the purchase of members such as are placed on autos. This plan is devised that violators of the bicycle ordinance may be captured without so much difficulty.

It was decreed that moving picture theaters should pay a license of $50 per year or $25 per quarter.

The council discussed the present unsatisfactory arrangement of ordinances and ordered them codified at an early date.

Councilman Cordley was made a committee of one to investigate and report in regard to tree planting in cities noted for their beauty.

The advisability of appointing a Park Commission was discussed and preliminary steps taken.

Judge Denman and Chief Wells reported the collection of $113 from fines; $80 was collected from sale of gravel. The police department is paying for itself and the council jokingly tendered a vote of thanks.
