PRICE FIVE CENTS

SCHOOLS TO HAVE HALF-DAY SESSION

NORTH SCHOOL WILL NOT BE READY UNTIL NEXT MONDAY

ALL GO TO CENTRAL BUILDING

Detail of Plan Outlined So That Parents and Pupils May Understand Clearly When Children Are to Put in An Appearance.

On account of some delays in the work at the North building, especially, with the heating plant, school will not begin there next Monday as had been planned. The school board last night decided to delay school no longer but to have the pupils attend for half day sessions, beginning Monday, October 4. The 1st and 2nd grades will not be called together until further announcement is made. All other grades will attend school in the central building. All pupils in the 3rd, 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th grades, who live east and south of a line separating the two wards, will attend in the morning and those living west and north of this line will come in the afternoon. This line runs from the northern boundary of the district south on the old S. P. track on 6th street to Harrison, west on Harrison to 10th, south on 10th to Jefferson, and west on Jefferson to the district boundary.

In the high school, the 9 A, 9 B, and 11 A, will report at 9 o'clock Monday; the 10 B at 10:30, and the 10 A. at 1 o'clock. While there is more or less inconvenience in this arrangement, this plan is probably the best that can be devised to meet the present energy.

THE NEW PASTOR

The new pastor of the M. E. church, south, Rev. W. A. Orr, will hold his first service Thursday evening at 7:30, it being the evening for the regular prayer service. The full membership of the church is requested to be present.

It is desired to make this service a social occasion as well as religious, and in order that the new pastor may get acquainted with people as much as possible.

All persons are cordially invited to attend all services. Sunday School Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, preaching at 11 o'clock, and at 7:30; League service at 6:30.

BANKER AT PITTSBURG GETS HIS

Not Every Man With Money Can Escape The Law

William Montgomery, the Pittsburg convict banker, on Tuesday was started from Riverside penitentiary to the Government prison at Leavenworth, Kan. Montgomery, who for years was a power in Pennsylvania politics, was driven through the streets of Pittsburg chained to other convicts. He had been one of the most unruly prisoners in Riverside, and it is said he was at the head of a plot to liberate many prisoners soon and that this had tended to hasten his departure to the Government prison.

Montgomery fought when the officers appeared, and declined to put on his trousers unless they were creased. Finally he was overpowered and dressed. He was sentenced to 15 years at hard labor for wrecking the Allegheny National Bank.

FINE INCREASE AT BIG SCHOOL

Prospect of Attendance Finally Reaching 1600.

820 were enrolled at O. A. C. at the close of yesterday's registration. According to official figures, this is exactly 14.5 per cent increase over registration at the close of the first day's session last year. Further official figures say that the ratio of increase kept up throughout the year will give a total attendance of 1545.

These figures bring exceptional pleasure for the reason that the authorities did not expect an increase in attendance and would not have been surprised had there been a slight decrease. High standards for entrance, and dissatisfaction over fees last year were expected to interfere more or less with the attendance this year. Perhaps it has in a measure, but not sufficiently to keep down the normal yearly increase that seems to have become a certainty in recent years.

A large number of the High Schools over the state are represented in the student body this year.

ALBANY AND CORVALLIS FIGURES

What a Comparison of School Enrollment Shows.

It is interesting to note that while the first day's registration for Corvallis' city schools was 671, Albany's registration at the close of the first WEEK was 761. Albany's increase over the corresponding week last year was 101. Corvallis increase over the FIRST DAY last year was 114. Albany, in all its advertising literature, claims 7,000 inhabitants. By the figures named above, Corvallis may as reasonably claim 7,000 inhabitants, for the end of the first week of school will show as many pupils enrolled as at Albany.

WILL NOT TOLERATE HAZING

PRESIDENT KERR TELLS STUDENTS HOW TO BEHAVE.

THEY MUST NOT USE LIQUOR

First Convocation of Year at O. A. C. Devoted to Address by President Who Outlined Policy--The Students Seemed to Appreciate Utterances.

O. A. C.'s first convocation of the year was held this morning. The Armory was filled to overflowing and not a little enthusiasm was manifested by the student body as occasion offered opportunity. The hour was devoted largely to an address by Pres. Kerr, who outlined the general policy of the institution for the coming year. After felicitating the students on the increased conveniences made possible by the $200,000 appropriation, and expressing pleasure at the increase in attendance, Pres. Kerr told the students that HAZING WILL NOT BE TOLERATED. He dwelt at length on the unmanliness of hazing and made it clear that knowledge of participation in any hazing episode will result in dismissal.

KNOWLEDGE OF STUDENTS USING LIQUOR will result in their instant dismissal, the President being sole arbiter in this matter.

SMOKING on the campus will not be tolerated.

Parents of students will be furnished two reports of the students' progress—and oftener if occasion seems to demand.

The President urged the students to be ladies and gentlemen, not rowdies and hoydens, and offered every encouragement there is in the earnest statement that each instructor and the President himself is sincerely interested in their welfare and anxious to listen to any troubles or difficulty in connection with their school work.

Music on Program

At this service, Mrs. May Babbit-Ressler, a recent addition to the faculty of the School of Music, rendered Liszt's Rhapsody No. 2 to the delight of the audience. She gives evidence of being a brilliant performer and doubtless will become popular.

Genevieve Baum-Gaskins sang Dudley Buck's "My Redeemer, My Lord," and gave much pleasure.

SCHOOL FAIR AT M'MINNVILLE

The fourth annual school fair and stock show at McMinnville opened yesterday with a large attendance and with large exhibits in the pavilion from the various school districts in the county.

The two grand prizes, consisting of a piano for the best general display from the larger schools and a piano for the best general display made by the small country schools, have had the effect of stimulating competition among the districts in the matter of making a school display.

ALBANY TALKS OF DOING THINGS

COMMERCIAL CLUB HOLDS MEETING AND ENTHUSES

WOULD PAVE EVERYTHING

One Would Build Cheap Houses to Rent for $10 to $15 a Month; Another Would Improve Highways and Build Railroads.

Monday evening, Albany's Commercial Club inaugurated a monthly "Get Together Smoker" at which various men told what they would do to make Albany greater. According to the Herald, Chas. Pfeiffer addressed the crowd on "Beautifying the City." His address was no doubt the best of the evening. He said, "If I owned Albany, I would do more paving; I would pave all the streets from the river to Ninth street, and the street from Washington to the eastern parts of the city. I would park the residence streets which would reduce the cost about $1 per front foot. I would cut down the maple trees which are no good and are detrimental to cement walks and paving, and would plant elm trees and walnut trees. The parking section would be made beautiful with roses, while clusters of lights would be placed on every block. Albany is at present disgracefully lighted and makes a bad impression on all newcomers." He advocated the building of a new $75,000 hotel, although he owns the Revere Hotel building. He also would have the alleys paved and thus kept clean. Mr. Pfeiffer closed his remarks by encouraging the maintenance of parks.

Would Pave Alleys

E. D. Cusick advocated working up small factories; Judge Hewitt spoke on "Paving." He said that the noise of the horses' hoofs on the paving sounded good to him—so much like the city. He believes in extending the paving of the streets and the alleys as well.

J. K. Weatherford talked for improvement of highways and extension of rural railways, and advocated that industries be secured by not taxing them for ten years or more.

Architect Burgraff showed that four-room apartments would pay ten per cent on the investment and said these apartments are needed.

J. C. Hammel argued for another good hotel. Dr. Hill had found that houses renting for $10 to $15 per month were most profitable, and there is a strong demand for them. He proposes to keep ahead until he has erected ten of these.

UNIVERSITY HAS GOOD INCREASE

The registration at the University had reached 531 Monday afternoon at the closing hour. According to the Eugene Register this is 115 more students than had registered last year on the same date. U. of O. has been in session a week.
