The City and Vicinity

Mrs. W. J. Kerr and daughter, Vesta, went to Portland last night.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cummings this morning at 1:30, a daughter.

J. R. N. Bell and Capt. Crawford left today for Dallas to attend Presbytery.

W. P. Lafferty will leave tomorrow on a business trip to Yreka and other California towns.

Mr. Hans Popeschel, violinist just acquired by the O. A. C. School of Music, has arrived.

The Y. W. C. A. is giving a reception to new students this afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30. Shepard Hall is the scene of the activity.

Miss Georgia White, head of the business department at the College of Philomath, was in Saturday arranging for books required in the course of study under her direction.

The Coffee Club will give the first of its popular fall dances next Saturday evening. An effort to make this a terpsichorean revel of more than passing pleasure is the intention.

There will be a regular communication of Corvallis Lodge No. 14, A. F. and A. M., Wednesday evening, Oct. 6. All members are expected to attend. Visiting brothers cordially welcomed.

H. W. Kaupisch, Clyde Phillips and W. H. Kerr made the trip from Portland to Corvallis yesterday in an auto. They started at 3:30, found the roads in excellent condition, but they stopped at various places en route and landed here after 12 o'clock.

As a proof that the Newtown Pippin is practically indigenous to the Willamette valley, a resident cites the fact that trees of this variety planted fifty years ago are still bearing fine fruit. The trees to which he refers are on a farm near town, have never been cultivated, nor sprayed until the past two years and last year fruit from the trees was on exhibition in this city and sold for $1.50 a box.

A special service at the Presbyterian church last night was attended by an audience that occupied all the room and then some. The music was in charge of the young people and a chorus of thirty or forty did splendidly. A special feature was a solo by Mrs. Birdean F. Gamble, which was greatly enjoyed. This service was arranged with the idea of securing song books. Dr. Bell wanted 100 books donated, at 24 cents each, and he congratulates himself, the church and the congregation that in less than ten minutes 70 books were pledged. The remainder will be forthcoming.

County Fruit Inspector E. W. Cooper, who has just returned from a tour of Linn county, says that some varieties of apples have yielded very poorly, but that Jonathans, Black Twigs, Ben Davis and Spitzenbergs are yielding well. There will also be a fair crop of Baldwins, though some of this variety, are damaged by rot. Mr. Cooper says the quality of local fruit is good and there will be approximately a dozen cars of No 1 marketable apples for exportation. He finds that the crop would have been much larger if growers had sprayed properly, but the prospects for a yield seemed so poor this Spring that many growers neglected spraying.

The fourteen foot cement walk about the Occidental corner is finished and now being used by pedestrians. It looks like a genuinely first-class, substantial, piece of work. It is reinforced with iron braces, rods and wire and is so built that the dirt beneath can be excavated without damage to the walk. M. S. Woodcock, owner of the Occidental corner, hopes to see a fine new building go up there one of these days, hence the extra work put in on this walk. It is said that Walter Kline is ready to widen the walk in front of the Kline store but would like for owners of property between his own and that in front of the Hemphill property to do so at the same time, thus making one job of the work.

Some of the football boys are going to do professional eating. Coach Metzger has established a training table and henceforth the prospective members of the big team will have their food measured and weighed out to them. They will not be allowed to put gravy on their meat and sugar is barred from the coffee. No amount of pleading will induce Metzger to allow any member more than four pounds of meat at any one meal and if pie is served at all it will be confined to pieces about the size of butter patties. Any man taking a bite of anything, even an apple, between meals will be hung up by the thumbs, and he who gives way to one cigarette or a pipe full of leather trimmings and sawdust will be shot on the spot. Dunn, Hawley, Wallace, Evendon, W. Davis, Sitton, H. Davis, Gilbert, Enberg and Keck are the victims of this dictum thus far. Others will be on the list shortly.

Rev. W. A. Orr, new pastor at the M. E. church south, received word yesterday that a brother had been killed by a train at Morristown, Ky.

A representative of the Morris Bonding Co., Portland, was in Corvallis today looking after the matter of refunding the indebtedness of Corvallis.

The new High school at Alsea is being pushed along quite rapidly. The foundation is laid and the framework will be up by tomorrow according to contractor McHenry.

A. M. Goldman and family have moved from Linn county and are domiciled near the college. Mr. Goodman was consul to China under the Cleveland administration.

The City council meets in regular session tonight. Tomorrow a special session to open bids for paving Second street will be held. The bituthic and Hassam people are bidding.

Attorneys Bryson and Denman came home Saturday evening from their hunting trip through the Alsea mountains. They got two bucks, and also got wet, very wet, there being much rainfall while they were in the hills.

The Bell Telephone Co. proposes to let the public know where its central office is located. Normal L. Hayes is just finishing on the office windows two monster Bell trademarks, and the paintings are loud enough to be heard a block. The work is complimentary to Hayes.

The big merry-go-round at the corner of Third and Monroe is doing quite a heavy business these sunny days. This merry-go-round is different from most in that its organ actually plays tunes. The amusement is ever popular with the youngsters. Free rides are being offered now.

The Watters real estate agency continues to add to its museum of Benton county products. Within the past few days some very fine specimens of grapes and Italian prunes have been bottled. Fine pears, peaches and cherries are on display there, together with excellent specimens of vegetables.

Eight hundred and ninety were registered at O. A. C. Saturday evening. This is somewhat in advance of the registration on the same date last year. However, the registration next Saturday will have to pass 1000 in order to be in excess of that of the corresponding week last year. Quite a number of students came in today and none doubt that next Saturday will show up satisfactorily.

As he arose to the surface of the water in the Y. M. C. A. swimming pool Saturday evening, Leslie Palmer, a student from Seattle, gave an enthusiastic kick and hit something that cut his foot badly. Dr. Rowley fixed up the injured foot and Mr. Palmer walked home. Several stitches were taken in the wound and the patient now awaits recovery. He does not know what his foot hit when he kicked.

J. H. Dawson & Son, the paint contractors of Corvallis, have just returned from Shedd, Linn county, where they have just finished painting one of the finest barns in all that section of the country for Arhison Bros., who, by awarding the contract for the work to these Corvallis experts, show that they knew where to go to get good painting and satisfactory work. Dawson & Son have made themselves good in Corvallis.

ORIGINAL BEAUTY PARLORS HERE

To the ladies of Corvallis desiring the service of a competent massuer, hair dressing, manicure, scalp treatment for falling hair, massage for wrinkles, shampoo, etc., at their own homes, can get it now, as I have secured the service of Miss Kapich, (lately returned from the east.) RECEPTION TO MINISTER NICKLE

The members and congregation of the Methodist Episcopal church will tender a reception to their newly appointed pastor, Rev. S. N. Nickle, at the church parlors, corner Fourth and Madison, on Tuesday evening, October 5, at 7:30 o'clock, to which all persons interested are cordially invited.

Frightful Fate Averted

"I would have been a cripple for life, from a terrible cut on my knee cap, writes Frank Diberry, Kellihier, Minn. 'without Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which soon cured me.'" Infalible for wounds, cuts and bruises, it soon cures Burns, Scalds, Old Sores, Skin Eruptions. World's best for Piles. 25 cents at all druggists.

Sunday Excursions to Newport

The C. & E. Railroad will run regular excursions to Newport every Sunday until further notice, leaving Corvallis at the same time as heretofore. Fare for round trip, $1.50.

Case of Too Much Ham.
One morning not long ago there tripped up to a butcher stall in a Baltimore market a dainty little thing out for her first marketing.

"My husband bought a couple of nice hams from you not long ago," she announced.

"Yes'm," said the smiling butcher; "I remember well. Fine hams, weren't they?"

"They were delicious," said the young wife. "Have you any more like them?"

"Lots," responded the butcher, indicating a row of hams in the rear of the stall.

The young thing surveyed the hams thoughtfully. "Are you sure," she finally asked, "that they're from the same pig as that from which my husband bought?"

"Yes'm," answered the butcher without so much as a quiver of an eyelid. "Then you may send me three more of them," she said.—Pittsburg Post.

The Caspian Sea.
The Caspian sea is, as Herodotus said 2,000 years ago, "a sea by itself, having no connection with any other." Every schoolboy knows that now, but it is remarkable to find Herodotus saying so, because centuries after his time such authorities as Strabo and Piny believed that it was connected with the northern ocean by a long and narrow gulf. Geography seems to have had a setback in the interval through false information received at the time of Alexander's conquests. Herodotus says that the Caspian's length was fifteen days' voyage with a rowboat. Its breadth eight days'. Since the actual figures are 750 miles and 400, this shows that a rowboat of the time did fifty miles a day.—London Graphic.

Shank's Mare.
"I haven't got a limousine or any aeroplane; I haven't got a coach an' six, nor e'en a special train; I haven't got a bicycle nor yet a boss an' team. I git along all right, by jinks, 'bout gaserline or steam. I travel jest by shank's mare an' never hev no fear but what I'll reach my stoppin' place the same day in the year. No artificial rigs for me, no busted tires or bones, no landin' all up in a heap upon the highway stones. I may be slow a-gettin' round an' cause the world to stare, but I will git there by an' by all right side up with care."—Boston Herald.

TRESPASSERS.

As two of my registered sheep were shot and killed by hunters last year, and recently two of my best ewes were torn up by hunting dogs, I have therefore given strict orders to my men employed to gather evidence to prosecute all trespassers with gun or dog found on my premises, and particularly to shoot and kill all dogs found on the farms. So that no one may be taken by surprise, I publish this notice.

FIFTY DOLLARS REWARD is hereby offered for the arrest and conviction under section 36 on page 419 of the session laws of 1909, of any person found trespassing by hunting with gun or dogs on my farms.

TWENTY DOLLARS REWARD is also offered for the arrest and conviction of any person for tearing down, cutting, destroying or defacing this notice, posted on my farms Sept. 30, 1909.
