The City and Vicinity

R. F. Baker is up from Newport for a short stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Clark, of Lincoln, Neb., are in Corvallis, the guests of Mrs. Ida Pultz.

Today Sheriff Gellatly turned over to Treasurer Buchanan a total $11,000. The total of uncollected taxes is $2500.

Mrs. S. B. Bane is at home from a six weeks' stay at Portland, and S. B. has already developed a Bryan-Taft smile.

Registration at O. A. C. at this date is between 1060 and 1075. From five to ten new students are registering daily.

The ladies hold forth at the Commercial club tonight. Mrs. James Dryden will be hostess. It is said that something special is on hand and that there will be a larger attendance than usual.

A. L. Hathaway, while operating a sharpening machine at his shop this morning, was badly cut on the knee cap by a falling disc. Dr. Farra was called to attend the injury and was obliged to put five stitches in the wound to close it up.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Scudder, of Los Angeles, enroute home from the East, have stopped off here for a ten days' visit with their son, Prof. H. D. Scudder. Prof. Scudder leaves tonight for Seattle to meet his wife who is just now returning from a summer's stay with her home folks in Michigan.

C. D. Thompson, of Hood River, has been in the city the past few days looking after local interests, and incidentally boosting for the Hood River Fruit Fair Oct. 28, 29 and 30. During the fair from 600 to 1000 boxes of the valley's finest apples will be on exhibition at Hood River, and Mr. Thompson is confident that the big show will surpass all former efforts. This Hood River man was once located here and still has property interests near Corvallis. Mr. Thompson is pleased with the general progress of the city and county, which is very noticeable.

Convocation at O. A. C. this morning was turned into a football rally. Coach Metzger made what is said to have been a brilliant speech, enthusing even those who imagine football is not quite the greatest thing on earth. Those who heard him are now willing to swear that he is both a scholar and gentleman, despite the fact that he is a football coach. J. R. N. Bell, mascot of the team, followed in his usual happy vein, and then the whole assembly sang football songs. Prof. Harry Beard played a very enjoyable cornet solo, and Mr. Hans Pospischil, violinist, played a "Romanza" by Svensen. And he was appreciated.

A California gentleman applied for a marriage license yesterday but as he was unknown to the officials, it was necessary for him to make an affidavit. But he knew no one, and neither did he know where his intended wife was located. She was with a Benton county family whose name he had forgotten. Deputy Johnson went with him to the postoffice to see if information could be obtained there. This proved unavailing and all seemed lost, when the two ran into Capt. Robinson, who readily recalled the Californian as a visitor here some time ago, and he also knew the southerner's intended. This fixed matters right and the Californian got his legal paper and went his way rejoicing.

The complaint comes from Philomath that the present train service is extremely unsatisfactory. The single train a day is said to be more than frequently late, and at best it gives scarcely two hours in Corvallis. The Philomath people also say freight accommodations at the station are extremely inadequate. The statement is made by a reputable citizen of that city that the freight handled has doubled and trebled in the past year, and that something should be done. Philomath has been growing splendidly the past year or two and may be reasonably given consideration. The town has a good country about and is going to grow even more. If the C. & E. can provide better service, it will be thoroughly appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Westerlund, of Medford, were guests of Prof. and Mrs. J. A. Bexell today. Mr. Westerlund is manager of one of the great orchard company's interests at Medford. He sold 900 acres the past two or three years solely through letter writing. Mr. Westerlund is an enthusiast about his section, and insists that it is impossible for a man to overstate the possibilities. Quite recently he asked for some nice Comice pears to send to big stockholders of his company. A half box, containing 35 pears, was delivered to him, and he was charged at the rate of 12 1-2 cents each for them. He thinks this is a rather stiff price for home market—but the same kind of pears have a ready sale in New York at 25c and 30c each.

Henkle & Davis

The old Whiteside property, owned by Wm. Wolters, was sold yesterday. There were 117 acres in this tract.

J. W. Shedd, brother of S. L. Shedd, is out here from Rensselaer, Indiana, on his way to Los Angeles, Cal., where he will spend the winter with his sister, Mrs. Graves.

G. L. Sanders, of Grinnell, Iowa, is visiting his cousin, S. L. Shedd, in this city. Mr. Sanders expects to go from here to Modesto, Cal., to remain during the coming winter.

It is interesting to note that Harney county's assessor found 85 dogs within the county limits this year. Strange to say he found but 46 last year. The 46 were valued at $186; the 85 at $470.

The Christian Science Society has opened a public reading room in room No. 11, First National Bank building, where literature devoted to this society may be read and obtained. The public is cordially invited to visit these new headquarters and all requests for reading matter will receive prompt and willing attention.

A little daughter of Alfred Brown at Philomath died last night of a complication of diseases. Undertaker Bovee went out the morning and in an attempt of his horses to runaway, Mr. Brown, who sought to stop them, was thrown down and injured considerably. The funeral of the little girl, Ruth E., who was aged nine years, will be held on Friday at 1:30.

Mrs. J. Mason, the milliner, who has so generously been giving a series of church benefit sales during the past month, says that they have been most satisfactory from every point of view, and that if the pastors, or an accredited representative of the various churches will call at her parlors, corner Third and Monroe streets, she will be very pleased to pay to them the percentage due from their respective day's sale.

Many people watched an unattended horseman attempt to drive about twenty cattle along Third street yesterday. It took him ten or fifteen minutes to traverse a block, the animals scattering and getting on the sidewalks and in open yards. Passing citizens assisted in keeping the cattle in the street. This is one more instance to emphasize the need of a stringent ordinance touching the driving of animals through the streets of this city. People making sidewalk parkings are entitled to proper protection, and the public must be assured that it will get that protection, else there will be little more parking done.

Frightful Fate Averted
