CHAS. L. SPRINGER, Business Mgr.

In a speech at Springfield Saturday John H. Hartog, champion booster of the Willamette, said: "The secret of boosting is continuous repetition of the name of the town. When the newcomer arrives the real estate men will take care of him."

WORKING FOR STATE.

What is regarded as the most important conference ever held between the Congressional delegation of this state and the commercial interests of Portland took place this week when the needs of the state were discussed for two hours and suggestions made as to needed improvements that require government aid. Senators Bourne and Chamberlain met with 15 prominent business men and when the conference ended, the Senators had pledged their aid to secure as big appropriations as possible for this state. Among the big projects for which aid was enlisted were the improvement of the Columbia river from Portland to the sea; the free canal and locks at Oregon City; the Celilo Canal and the improvement of Coos bay. These improvements are expected to cost about as follows: Columbia river improvement, $15,000,000; $3,700,000 for the completion of the Celilo Canal; $2,700,600 for the improvement of Coos bay, and $456,000 for the free canal and locks at Oregon City. Out of the money needed for the latter project, the state has already authorized an appropriation of $300,000, leaving only $156,000 to be furnished by the government.

James J. Hill will not extend the Oregon Trunk beyond the Oregon line but will confine his operations in connection with that project to developing this state. Stories to the effect that the ultimate destination of the Oregon Trunk is San Francisco were denied by Mr. Hill this week, who said: "All the building the line will do will be done in Oregon. There is plenty of room for new feeders in the state and the mileage which we intend to add to our system will be confined to Oregon. We have no intention of entering California."

Oregon apple growers are assembling exhibits for the National Apple Show at Spokane November 15-20. The state will participate to a greater extent than ever before and some magnificent displays will be sent. Hood river, the Rogue river valley and the Willamette valley apple-growing districts will make strong bids for many of the prizes. Carload lots will be sent by some exhibitors and in all departments, Oregon's showing will be a fine one. Entries will close November 13.

A movement has been started to erect at Salem a suitable monument to the memory of Samuel L. Simpson, the well known Oregon poet, who wrote "Beautiful Willamette." Mr. Simpson was an alumnus of the Willamette University and it was thought fitting that the movement to procure the memorial to the poet should have its start at the university and that the monument should stand near it. An association for the purpose has been formed among the alumni of the university. It is intended to interest the entire Northwest in the movement.

"THE SPOILERS"

"The Spoilers," which will be seen at the Opera House next Saturday evening, is said to be a real dramatic treat. It tells a story of hearty good fellowship, hard knocks, that go to make life real in Alaska. Rex Beach, that popular author, jumped immediately in the lime-light of success when he wrote "The Spoilers." Mr. Henry McRae has given the play an excellent production, with a strong cast, which is headed by Miss Margaret Oswald.

TRESPASSERS.

As two of my registered sheep were shot and killed by hunters last year, and recently two of my best ewes were torn up by hunting dogs, I have therefore given strict orders to my men employed to gather evidence to prosecute all trespassers with gun or dog found on my premises, and particularly to shoot and kill all dogs found on the farms. So that no one may be taken by surprise, I publish this notice.

FIFTY DOLLARS REWARD is hereby offered for the arrest and conviction under section 36 on page 419 of the session laws of 1909, of any person found trespassing by hunting with gun or dogs on my farms.

TWENTY DOLLARS REWARD is also offered for the arrest and conviction of any person for tearing down, cutting, destroying or defacing this notice, posted on my farms Sept. 30, 1909. 9-30-D&W-tf M. S. WOODCOCK.

BROADHEAD'S FALL FABRICS

J. M. Nolan & Son are now having a special sale on the always popular "Broadhead's" all wool fall dress fabrics, for which they are the exclusive sellers in Corvallis. This sale, like all of Nolan's bargain attractions, is proving to be a drawing card, the ladies of Corvallis and vicinity showing their appreciation by buying right at the start, in large numbers. In this issue, Nolan & Son's have a prominent display advertisement on the last page, calling particular attention to their line of "Broadhead's" fabrics and describing the exceptional opportunities offered to their patrons at this special sale.

FORMER BENTON GIRL HONORED

Miss Nettie Spencer, a native of Benton county, and at one time a candidate for the School Superintendency of this county, has come into considerable honor at Berlin, Germany, where she now is. According to press dispatches, Miss Spencer is considered the true type of the American girl, by Rudolf Marcuse, a noted sculptor of that city, who has recently finished a bust of her in bronze. The bronze bust is in the Imperial Art Gallery in the German capital, and attracts considerable attention as a work of art and a specimen of the cast of countenance of American womanhood, which Mr. Marcuse has been proud to render into lasting material.

Miss Spencer is a native of Oregon, having been born in Benton county. She is a graduate of the O. A. C., and for nine years was a teacher in the public schools of Portland. She later was graduated at the University of Chicago, and is at present engaged in teaching English in Berlin.

A plaster cast of the bronze bust is now in the possession of a relative of Miss Spencer, in Portland, having just been released from the custom-house. The bronze fac-simile is valued at $2000.

The True Economy of Wooltex

We spend annually $50,000 that Wooltex in style may be supreme.

We do more than any other maker of women's clothing to put extra quality materials and extra careful workmanship in the garments bearing the mark of Wooltex.

We limit our output to garments that are good enough to stand a two-season guarantee, and we guarantee every garment that we make.

Yet Wooltex garments—coats, suits, skirts or dresses—cost you no more than common garments which utterly lack Wooltex style, Wooltex quality, Wooltex individuality.

Coats · Suits · Skirts · Dresses

For Well Dressed Women

The reason why the extra quality in Wooltex costs you nothing extra in price is this:

Where other makers can find an outlet for only 10,000 to 100,000 garments, Wooltex, because of its style and its quality finds a ready market for 250,000 garments.

In buying materials for 250,000 garments, instead of 10,000 garments, we not only save money but we are enabled to insist upon the quality of the materials.

We are able to specify to the cloth manufacturers that we use nothing but the purest, the softest, the silkiest of wool.

And these extra quality cloths cost us no more than is commonly paid for cloths of inferior quality.

The $50,000 a year we spend for style is divided among 250,000 garments. It amounts, as you see, to but a small sum a garment. The large demand for Wooltex enables us to bring into our organization the best designers, cutters and tailors that can be found.

And all of this extra quality costs you nothing extra. That is the true economy of Wooltex.

Because of the large demand we find it impossible to manufacture enough garments to meet the needs of those women who appreciate the true charm of color and line and design which is to be found in Wooltex.

Of every one thousand women we can supply Wooltex garments to but eight.

That is why Wooltex is to be had at but one store in each community.

That is why only those who are prompt can secure Wooltex.
