The City and Vicinity

"You will have to show me." "The Man From Missouri." To-night.

Lee Willard and company twelve people are registered at the Hotel Corvallis.

Mrs. George W. Belt caught 18 large salmon trout and two big bass while trolling yesterday at Halfmoon Bend.

"The Sunny Side of Broadway," scheduled for an appearance here could not jump from Astoria in time to fill its booking here and the date was cancelled some time ago.

M. H. Bauer received a telegram this morning from his brother stating that their mother was critically ill at Lincoln, Neb., and he and Mrs. Bauer left here at noon for that city. Friends here hope that the tidings are not as serious as the telegram would seem to indicate.

Mrs. A. J. Johnson and little daughter, who went with Senator Johnson to Burns and returning stopped off at Tygh Valley to visit a brother, is expected home tonight. A son, Darrow, is afflicted with something akin to diphtheria and is now quarantined at the home here.

The numerous stockholders in Corvallis of the United Wireless Telegraph company are congratulating themselves over the fact that a new central station has just been established at the Hotel Perkins, in Portland, and that the company is preparing to establish a number of new stations up the Willamette valley.

The Walters stock company closed its engagement at the Palace theater Saturday night, and was greeted by packed houses at each performance. The picture program, entitled "Marble Heart," was a top-notch and was thoroughly enjoyed. The Star put on a moving picture program and at times people were standing in line out into the street waiting to get inside the theater. This week the Palace will put on a motion picture program and a full orchestra will play at each performance.

W. K. Taylor, member of the Board of Education, says that while the location of the north school building is low, that section is not unsanitary. Drainpipe being laid there has a fall of five feet in 700, amply sufficient. While there is no sewer system, a septic tank will be used, and these tanks are now replacing sewer systems in some towns. Mr. Taylor agrees that some extra dirt about the building will make the location better, and this will be put there as soon as the board can see it way clear. The Board is now interested in getting some good walks in that vicinity.

Evan P. Hughes, pastor at the Congregational church, read his resignation yesterday. The health of both himself and wife requires that he give up the work for an indefinite time, hence the resignation. Mr. Hughes will remain here and continue his work until his successor is secured. His enforced cessation of activity brings sincere regret to the Congregational people. Mr. Hughes has been entirely satisfactory and his scholarly capacity was ever a source of pride and pleasure to those who attended his church. Mr. Hughes' plans for the future are not definitely known.

J. C. Donovan, charged with violating speed laws of the city, was arraigned before Judge Denman this morning. He pleaded guilty and was fined $25. On Saturday Donovan indicated that he might fight the case and he was rather insistent in his statements that the arrest was an outrage. He was even angrier this morning when assessed for the first offense the highest penalty provided. He felt that his voluntary return here and final pleading entitled him to consideration, but Judge Deman has the idea that he is going to convince careless people that it is better not to violate ordinances.

Frightful Fate Averted

An adjourned meeting of the Commercial Club will be held Tuesday night, Oct. 26. At that time Congressman Hawley will be in the city and will probably talk to the citizens assembled at the club.

A. J. Johnson is at home from his trip to the Seattle fair, and Eastern Oregon where he went to look after his banking interests. At the fair the Willamette Valley Stock and Land Co's fine Hereford cattle won $859 in cash prizes. At Burns, Mr. Johnson found the First National Bank, of which he is the principal stockholder, doing a $510,000 business. The business of this bank has grown to that figure from $180,000 three and one half years ago.
