The City and Vicinity

Dr. Lowe next Monday.

Walter Meek, of Monroe, was in Corvallis today.

H. L. Bush, who is living at Summerville, was in Corvallis today. Mr. Bush is ex-assessor of Benton county.

Secretary Frank Groves, of the Commercial Club, is just now sending out invitations for two meetings at the club rooms next Tuesday. Tom Richardson talks in the afternoon and Congressman Hawley at night.

The cornerstone of the new Presbyterian church will not be laid next Sunday as anticipated. The inclement weather has made it impossible for the workmen to finish the work necessary before the cornerstone can be laid.

S. N. Wilkins left today for Portland. He will probably return about December to look after his interests. Before leaving Mr. Wilkins vouchsafed the information that while here he started something that will prove good for Corvallis.

Mrs. Mary E. Davidson, of this city, and Geo. C. Garfield, of Clackamas county, were married here today at noon, J. R. N. Bell performing the ceremony. After a sumptuous dinner, the couple left for Yaquina for a short stay. Both are well known here and highly respected.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Fowells gave a reception last night in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Webster, Iowans who have been their guests for some time. The guests at this affair were all former residents of Iowa and they had a very pleasant time with their reminiscences. Mr. and Mrs. Webster leave tomorrow for their eastern home.

The Ladies Aid of the Congregational church turned yesterday's monthly meeting at the Berchtold home into a social affair, with Mrs. C. E. Lunt as the central figure. Mrs. Lunt has been an energetic member of the society for years, contemplates leaving for Pennsylvania next week, and was presented with a silver berry spoon as a token of the regard of her fellow members.

Tomorrow afternoon the regular monthly business meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Commercial Club will be held at the club rooms. As matters of importance are to be discussed it is hoped that every member will be present. Mrs. Lenora Fisher, of Lancaster, Ohio, will present the project of the Auxiliary giving a play and the question of doing this will be taken up at this meeting.

"Oregon will be well represented by a band of horny-handed sons of toils at the Farmers' National Congress at Raleigh, N. C., next month. With Tom Richardson to tell them where to go, and William McMurray to show them how to get there, and A. H. Averill to tell them what to use, and S. A. Lowell and W. M. Colvig on the side lines, Dr. Kerr will be kept busy telling them how we farm to advantage in this greatest section of the world's garden."—Oregonian.

George Bauerlin, aged 44 years, died at Salem on Sunday and was buried Tuesday. He was a resident of Corvallis twenty-five years ago, a son of Mrs. Gherber. While a boy he was a little "wild" and it was predicted that he would never amount to much. Mr. Bauerlin disappointed those who offered such predictions, and made good. When he died he was a fairly prosperous and highly respected citizen of Salem. He was president of the Engineers' Association, a member of the Woodmen's lodge, and was buried by the Masons.

Thomas H. Hinnell, seventeen-year-old son of Mrs. Josephine Hinnell, died at the family home, Third and Jefferson, last night about 9 o'clock. The difficulty was spinal paralysis, the young man having been seriously ill only since Monday evening, though he had not been robust physically for some time. Undertaker Bovee has prepared the body for burial and the same will be shipped this evening to Lyle, Wash., from which place the Hinnells came more than a year ago. The State Board of Health reports 175 recent cases similar to this. Dr. Pernot, local health official, will furnish some information about it tomorrow.

The Jacobs family, residents and active participants in the business and social life of this community for countless years, is preparing to leave Corvallis. They expect to make Portland their home and will depart next week if all things go smoothly. This change comes as a result of several members of the family engaging in business in the Rose City and the desire to keep the entire family together. In early days the head of the Jacobs family was one of this city's most prosperous business men and was a strong factor in the progress of this commonwealth. During all its history, Corvallis has had no family more active socially. A host of good friends here will be deeply grieved at the departure of the Jacobs.

On account of the illness of Rev. M. A. Dimier, who is in St. Vincent's hospital, Portland, Rev. H. A. Gabriel will go next Saturday, October 23, to Monroe, and will return to Corvallis Sunday afternoon to hold the usual evening service at half-past seven o'clock.

The Fred Peterson sale at the Greenbury Smith farm on Soap Creek yesterday was attended by a large crowd. The property sold well and the buyers had plenty of cash to pay for what they bought. Auctioneer Stevenson succeeded in disposing of $4000 worth of stock and implements without much trouble. 800 sheep brought from $3.87 to $4.50 per head; while horses sold as high as $169. Forty-five hogs were sold.

At the home of Mrs. Anna Bryant last night at 8 o'clock, her daughter, Elsie Fisher, and Ira E. Putnam were united in marriage by Dr. J. R. N. Bell. About twenty friends were present. The decorations of cut flowers were lovely and a wedding supper was very elaborate. Mr. Putnam is a plumber in this city and a member of the city band. His bride is a pleasant little lady, quite young, but with many friends. Both Mr. and Mrs. Putnam have the best wishes of all.

AS EUGENE SEES OUR FOOTBALL

Specialist on Register Views Local Activity from Afar

Eugene Register:—"Reports coming from Corvallis indicate that the O. A. C. football team is all torn to ribbons. The prospects at the beginning of the season were anything but bright with but five old men back. But early last week Wallace, the big guard, got in a mixup with Coach Metzger and either quit or was requested to hand in his suit.

Then Carl Wolff, the big full-back, got the "skidoo" when he failed to show up for practice one day. It is understood that Wolff has been kicked out for good and the days of favoritism at the Agricultural college, so far as Coach Metzger is concerned, are over. Wolff's actions of former years are well known here, and while the news of his dismissal is something of a surprise, yet it is not to be wondered at. With such unruly on the bench and a system of good, hard work and systematic training, such as Metzger intends to enforce, O. A. C. will stand a much better chance for a winning team than in the former condition.

"The alumni game Saturday showed the "farmers" to have a weak line at present. The old timers tore through the undergraduates line at will, bucking the ball from one end of the field to the other. Once on the kick off one of the alumni players got through for a clear field, but, so the report states, he was so groggy with refreshments that he became so exhausted before reaching the goal line that he stopped and walked, whereupon the college men overtook him and brought him to earth. The Aggie's alumni were more kind than were Oregon's. They could have scored almost at will, but laid down whenever they were in danger of crossing the line and gave Keck a chance to punt out of danger.

"Captain Evendon is the only old man left on the line. Endburg, last year at end is playing half this year. Keck, the other old player, has been trying out at quarter, but it is likely that he will go back to fullback, and quarterback position will be filled by Gilbert, a new player. Bergman, O. A. C.'s sprinter, is trying for halfback, and he is said to be making good. Davis, of last year's baseball team, is also a candidate for halfback. The back field is said to be good, but the line is showing up deplorably weak.

"This is early dope, however, and too much faith in the Aggie's poor prospects should not be accredited yet. They have a good coach and if he can whip new men into shape, they will come out strong before the Oregon game on November 20."

LATEST FROM PHILOMATH

PHILOMATH, October 21.—The Mary's Peak trip was a grand success. Great preparations were made and as the day was ideal, everybody entitled to go was ready at five o'clock last Saturday morning with his basket of good things to eat and in the happiest possible mood. At 11 o'clock lunch was eaten at the foot of the peak. At 2 o'clock the summit was reached and the jolly people were looking westward into the Big Elk country and eastward viewing the snow-capped peaks of the Cascades. Corvallis and Philomath were distinctly visible. They saw the remains of the wireless telegraph station which has recently been moved to Newport. The descent was made in about two hours and supper was eaten before the return trip. On reaching Philomath the following persons reported a good time: Pres. R. S. Kindel, Miss Georgia White, Misses Nettie Willoughby, Marie Ware, Alta Kenoyer, Verna Springer, Julia Bogle; Wallace and Mrs. Gail Gove, Albert, Ray and Ward Haines, Roy Willoughby and Paul Wallace.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wood is quite ill at the family home.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wyatt have moved from their country home into the house recently built by Mr. Ewing.

A. C. White passed through town last Saturday evening on his way to Corvallis, having spent the day on his farm near Blodgett.

The pupils of the public school have on exhibition some very nice paintings and penmanship copies in Horton's Drug store.

Rev. A. J. Ware, Miss Nettie Willoughby and Miss Julia Bogle were attending to business matters in Corvallis this week.

A recent arrival in Philomath from Indiana was heard to say that this is the first time he ever saw it rain and not stop. "Why it has rained for three days and three nights!"

Miss Cathey, who has charge of the School of Music at the College of Philomath, was in town Wednesday afternoon and
