The City and Vicinity

The new Baptist minister will be in Corvallis about the middle of November.

Miss Hazel Winkley is visiting her sister, Mrs. Dr. Hamby, in Portland this week.

The Ashland Commercial Club has adopted the slogan "10,000 population for Ashland, 1912."

As a precautionary measure the house at Third and Jefferson, where the young man Hinnell died of spinal paralysis, has been fumigated.

Mrs. B. R. Norton and son, Fred, of Portland, have arrived in Corvallis and will visit for a couple of weeks at the home of W. P. Norton.

The Eugene Merchants' Protective Association has granted students the right to solicit ads for the U. of O.—O. A. C. program to be distributed at the big game.

Sheep driven through this city yesterday trampled several parkings and yards. This makes some people rather huffy. One of these days some fellow will sue the sheep for trespass.

Mrs. W. A. Jolley, of Philomath, who underwent a surgical operation in Portland last week, is improving nicely, but will have to remain at the Sanitarium some time for treatment.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Christian church is now making preparations to hold its annual holiday bazaar, December 2, 3, and 4. This year the event will be made more attractive than ever, the ladies making every effort to this end.

There is now in the public estray pen one spotted Jersey cow with a crumpled horn. If she isn't claimed in a few days it will be necessary to sell her to pay expenses. A cow in the pen several days ago belonged to a Thompson on Beaver Creek. The animal had wandered to Corvallis and landed behind the bars.

Before the remains of Thomas Henry Hinnell were taken to the train for shipment to Lyle, Wash., yesterday evening, a short funeral service was held at the home. Dr. Bell made appropriate remarks and W. W. Davis, wife and daughter furnished music. Mrs. Hinnell was shown every loving kindness and given evidence of sincere sympathy by many friends.

Objections to valuations as set by the Board of Equalization must be in by tomorrow. The law provides that the Board may listen to objections for one week and then have another week in which to go over the situation. The first week of the Board's session will be up tomorrow so if objections are not in by tomorrow evening there will be nothing doing. Up to date there have been very few kicks.

The rain of the past few days has been a godsend for the farmers of this county and plowing will be rushed as fast as possible. The weather bureau predicts more rain tomorrow. During the past three days the amount of rain which fell is a record breaker, totalling 2.62 inches, as follows: On October 19, 1.02 inches; October 20, 70 inches; and on October 21, 90 inches says the Albany Herald.

Beneath a picture that makes him a prize beauty, the Oregonian announces that Prof. J. B. Horner, of this city, will give a lecture on "Oregon Literature" in Women of Woodcraft Hall, Portland, Friday night, to which the general public is invited. It will be given under the auspices of the Portland Women's Club. The Oregonian says Professor Horner is widely known throughout the Northwest and is a popular lecturer. He is peculiarly fitted to talk on the subject that has been announced.

Yaquina News Reporter:—"The last excursion of the season from the interior took place Sunday last and brought over to the beach about 200 people who spent a very enjoyable afternoon's outing. The weather was cloudy but pleasantly warm. It would no doubt be very profitable to the R. R. Co. if it would run a few excursions to the beach during some of the rough weather and give the inland people an opportunity to see the ocean when it is really rough. This is one of the grandest and most inspiring sights that human eyes and mind ever feasted upon.

Four women in conversation last night agreed heartily with "House-keepers' wall about the scarcity of dressmakers. Two women in different sections of the city telephoned their acquiescence to that phase of her article. A prominent business man said this morning that the dressmakers do not need to advertise, for they are crowded with work, and he cited one them near his home who is 'always over-burdened with work. He said his wife had decided to make her own dress and suggested that "House-keeper" and others might well do the same. That's just like a man.

ECZEMA A GERM DISEASE

Myriads of Microscopic Animals Infest the Skin of the Sufferer

When the skin of an eczema sufferer itches and burns in untold agony, do you know what is going on within the pores of that skin?

Myriads of microscopic animals are gnawing at the flesh, breaking down the fine cells and causing festers, thick scales and that terrible itch. The germs multiply faster than nature can throw them off.

Now, there is only one way to get rid of these germs—they must be killed in their lodging places. Dosing the stomach or trying to cure the blood will not, of course, kill the germs, and that is why all the blood remedies fail in eczema; that is also why salves which do not penetrate can do no permanent good.

Ordinary oil of wintergreen properly compounded in liquid form will penetrate the pores of the skin and kill the eczema germs. If properly mixed with thymol, glycerine and other ingredients (as in D. D. D. Prescription) this wash will build up the tissue of the skin and promote its healthy growth, giving nature a chance, while killing the germs faster than they can multiply.

Druggists Allen & Woodward, of this city, recommend D. D. D. Prescription, also D. D. D. soap.

A Pleasant Way to Cure Catarrh.

Poor deluded victims! Continually sprinkling and spraying and stomach dosing.

What are you doing it for? Trying to kill the catarrh germs? Might just as well try to kill a cat with fresh milk.

Sticking a piece of chewing gum in the upper left hand corner of the right ear would slaughter just as many germs. You can't kill the germs that cause catarrh unless you get where they are.

You can get where the germs are by breathing Hyomei, the powerful yet soothing antiseptic, which is prepared especially to kill catarrh germs.

Just breathe it in, that's all. It gives joyful relief in five minutes. It is guaranteed by Graham & Wells to cure catarrh, or money back.

It is sold by leading druggists everywhere. A complete outfit, including inhaler, costs $1.00. Extra bottles, 50c. Cures sore throat, coughs and colds.

"I take especial pride in recommending Hyomei to asthmatic sufferers, as I know by experience that it is a remedy that cures. I have not since using Hyomei had any recurrence of asthma."—Mrs. Wm. Burton, Owosso, Mich., June 22, 1909.
