The City and Vicinity

Mrs. James Dryden is having a siege of rheumatism. She has been confined to her bed the past few days.

The new set of moving pictures expected by the Palace theater failed to arrive today, and in consequence, the house will be dark tonight.

O. J. Freese has just had a fine old-fashioned open fire place built in his home on North Eleventh street at which to toast his shins during the coming weather.

Joseph Underwood, formerly at the Graham & Wells drugstore, now at Lebanon, is reported as having been married recently. Mr. Underwood is well-known in this vicinity.

In a letter received this morning from M. H. Bauer he states that his mother, whom he was hastily called east to see owing to her critical illness, died at Lincoln, Neb., Wednesday, October 20, the day before he and Mrs. Bauer arrived there.

Forrest Smithson, champion hurdler, was beaten at San Francisco last Friday in the 120 yard hurdles. One Edwards, of the University of California, covered the 120 yards in 15 1-5 seconds, equalling Smithson's time at Seattle and his time in the 110 metre hurdles at London.

Beginning Nov. 1st the registry fee at all postoffices will be increased from 8 cents to 10 cents and the indemnity will be raised from $25 to $50. This increase in fee means several million dollars to the Government each year and is inaugurated for the purpose of reducing the postal deficit.

A burglar broke a pane of glass from Jesse Moses' store at Tangent a few nights ago and entered. Mr. Moses was sleeping in the store and as the burglar struck a match he fired. The intruder ran out the front way and was fired at twice more. He fell and it is thought one bullet took effect, but the burglar got away.

"The Spoilers" pleased a large audience Saturday night. The company is said to have been well balanced, of more than average ability and the play was one of deep interest. There was an occasional approach to the noisy melo-drama, but as a whole "The Spoilers" was good, fully up to the heralding given it.

The College Folk Club gave an affair at Shepard Hall Saturday night attended by members and ladies of the faculty of O. A. C. The entertainment was of the Halloween order—bobbing for apples, pinning the eye on the donkey, "chewing the rag," kissing the blarney stone, fortune telling, etc., etc. At just the right time rather substantial refreshments were served. The affair was thoroughly enjoyed.

Chief Wells captured two or three quarts of Albany booze last night, but the man who brought it over for distribution jumped from the buggy and ran too fast for Wells to get him. The Chief got onto this bootlegger by following him over the city as he drove about in his drunken wanderings and finally stopped him. At this the fellow jumped, abandoned his horses and ran down the middle of the street like fiends were after him. Wells stayed with the rig, searched it and found a couple of quart bottles and a pint, full, and a couple of pints largely consumed. He confiscated these and the rig was delivered to the stable which owns it.

A gentleman who signs himself as "I'm Agin the Dawg," sends the following interesting clipping: "A Pike county farmer," says the Ellsberry Democrat, "solved the sheep killing problem in a novel way. After he had lost thirty sheep, he built in the pasture a square pen of logs and roofed it. He left a big hole in the middle of the roof and suspended a part of a sheep beneath it. Nearly morning when he went to the pen he found one or more dogs in there, which he quietly put out of business. In the course of a winter he caught about forty dogs and didn't lose any more sheep. Moreover he neighbors, which is a hard thing to do when you shoot their dogs and go about bragging about it."

Wm. Burgett is here from the Soldiers' Home at Roseburg to spend a few days with his daughter, Mrs. John Chambers. Mr. Burgett went to the home from Kings Valley about four months ago. He is badly crippled up from rheumatism, but though scarcely able to bobble around he is full of good cheer and able to joke. Mr. Burgett has nothing but kindly words for the Soldiers' Home. He says the matron, Mrs. Ferguson, is an excellent woman who cares for everything in the very best way. The 150 soldiers there are treated splendidly, being given good beds, clean bed clothing, first-class meals, and a suit of clothes occasionally. As Mr. Burgett puts it—"we get all we want but whiskey and tobacco." According to him, the Indian war veterans are getting but $8 a month, while the widows of these get $12 a month—in other words they are worth more dead than alive. Mr. Burgett expects to remain until about Nov. 1st.

Let Us Show You

Henkle & Davis

George W. Henkle has just returned from a business trip to Independence.

Born—Saturday evening, October 23, in Portland, to Mrs. John F. Allen, a son. J. F. went down Saturday in time to welcome his new heir.

The Junior-Soph game Saturday resulted in a scoreless tie. The boys fought like demons but neither could do more than secure a goose egg. The tie will be played off at an early date.

Tom Richardson will not be in Corvallis until Wednesday, and will address the ladies and gentlemen of the Commercial club Wednesday afternoon. No reason is given for this change from Tuesday, except that Mr. Richardson could not get here as agreed. Tom makes as good speech on Wednesday as he ever does on Tuesday, so none should fail to be at the club simply because of this change.

O. A. C. won from the Catholic Young Men's Club of Portland last Saturday 12 to 0. The visitors started out by ripping O. A. C.'s line to pieces, but couldn't keep up the work. Good luck in getting hold of the ball on fumbles gave O. A. C. the two touchdowns. The second touchdown was rather spectacular, little Reynolds, the quarter, making a great run just a few minutes after being practically knocked out. He carried the ball within one foot of the line. O. A. C. shows better team work at each appearance and is effective in individual plays, but is poor at blocking and fumbles too much. The Catholic Club is a husky, well-balanced team with a heady quarter.

A Prize of $50 Suit is Offered

necessary. Its reputation speaks for itself as a modern, up-to-date cloak and suit house, carrying the latest designs. Remember we give you unrestricted choice of this immense stock.

For One Week's Work

This magnificent prize is given for one short week's work. All the candidates will start together in both districts, the winner to be the contestant receiving the most votes from the combined districts. Only the votes received during this offer will be counted. No candidate is placed at a disadvantage. The contest itself has only two more weeks to run and every effort toward winning the suit means an effort toward winning the big Los Angeles trip. All of the votes turned in during the special prize offer will count also on the big trip and any one of the candidates can, by devoting her time to winning the suit offer, gain for herself a large number of votes and possibly, by hard work, a large enough lead to cinch the big trip too.

Closes November 1

Good hard work is what will count now. The special offer closes in one week, Monday, November 1, at 5 p. m. If you have any promises close them up at the earliest possible moment. Don't wait for the last few days as it will be impossible for you to close them up in such a short time. In the rush of the closing days some are very apt to be forgotten. The main contest closes Monday, November 10. Do not wait for the last nine days but begin work at once. The standing of the contestants follows:

DISTRICT No. 1
Marie Cathey	115,650
Clara Baker	111,900
Pattie Durrell	109,950
Mabel Rich	6,650
DISTRICT No. 2
Rose Ingram	44,800
Lulu Gibson	41,900
Hazel Caldwell	39,200

Inducements For Electric

Welch should insist on the other. It is said that there is a strong probability of getting an electric line direct from Portland and this makes it unnecessary for the United to come here from Albany, but this is only conjecture.

Suspect C. & A.

Some here are inclined to believe that the line Mr. Welch represents will come to Corvallis, and they indicate a belief that the C. & A., Carver's road, is but a link. No definite reason for such a conclusion can be given, except that they can see no other valid excuse for the existence of the C. & A. The average person can not see that the C. & A. is now or ever can be a paying investment, so they conclude that this road is now, or is to be, a part of some line—Southern Pacific, Oregon Electric, United Railways, and just now the decision is in favor of the latter.

Opportunity For Writers

The decision of the judges will be absolutely impartial. There are prizes for 80 writers and the chances for winning are so many that entries in the contest should be large. That the publicity resulting from the prize offer will be wide and that much good will be realized for the whole Pacific Northwest is assured.

That the Czar of Russia will have a royal orchard in Southern Oregon is the information given out by two nobles of his court, Anton Petroskovich and Peter Peterhof, who have just completed an inspection of the Pacific Northwest to locate such an orchard. They decided to recommend the Rogue river valley and are expected to close negotiations just made for a tract near Medford.
