What the Press Say

"The most typically western play since the 'Squaw Man.'"—Milwaukee Sentinel.
"Not in a lifetime has such a typically western comedy been created."—Minneapolis Journal.
"In Wyoming" is a genuine western comedy without the usual gun play."—Duluth News-Tribune.

As Good as "THE GIRL of The Golden West."

DEFENDS ADDITION

such would be greater, it seems only fair the district in question should help to meet the expense. But in any case the people should not be deprived of the water. They are paying for it and granting them the privilege is no more irregular now than in the first place. And the threat to cut off the water is nothing more nor less than intimidation of voters; and we know what that means. A serious epidemic might result from using water from abandoned wells. In case of resulting disease and possible death, at whose door would the blame lie? Let those members of the Commission consult the health officer before they adopt such a rash measure. Now, Mr. Editor, do not say we have had no cause for complaint for you have not resided here long enough to have a knowledge of the facts, except by hear-say. XXX

LOCALS

"The Passion Play" in stereopticon views, with explanatory lecture by Emmett Dunn Angell, at Shepard Hall tonight will be a rare entertainment offered by the College Folk Club. Each member of the club will have two guests present, and all members of O. A. C. faculty are invited.

Court house officials give the warning that persons crossing the lawns there will be arrested and fined if they do not keep to the walks. Near the front entrance to the court house a "cut-off" has been made by thoughtless people and the grass has been tramped out. This is unsightly, wholly incusable, and it is to be regretted that the law does not permit a public flogging of individuals guilty of this deliberate destruction of the lawn. The officials are in earnest and propose to make arrests, and Justice Lane, who is also janitor at the court house, is likely to fix the guilty ones properly. This means YOU, if you are of them.

The streets are now thronged with busy buyers and the merchants are raising their heads in ecstasy. The activity on the thoroughfares beams with metropolitan life. What is the use of harping about hard times? Our town has stood well the test of monetary stringency, our people are living well, our city is progressing, we have all the advantage and resources that could be reasonably wished for. Let us lift our voices and with one accord exult over our good fortune the past year. Let us speak the truth of our resources, our business and our general stability. Ours is a good, solid, progressive, conservative city with brilliant prospects of being some day a metropolis and we can do much for it by speaking of its continual steady advancement. Let us do it.
