

A Continued Story---

And like all good stories we want our patrons to read more of it.

Every woman likes to be well gowned and most women in Corvallis and vicinity know they can get everything needed to complete their outfit at

THE WOMAN'S SHOP

But we like to continue telling them because we know we always have good things to talk about when we call attention to our splendid line of Suits, Cloaks, Jackets, Waists, Underwear, Corsets, Hosiery, Gloves and all the pretty furnishings so necessary to women's wear.

The City and Vicinity

Mrs. David Osborn and daughter Edna went to Newport yesterday to spend New Years.

Salem needs $85,000 to run her business affairs and has levied a 6 1-2 mill tax to get the amount.

Miss Fay Armstrong has gone to Palo Alto, Cal., to spend a couple of months with her sister, Mrs. H. Keating.

There will be a business meeting of the K. L. C. E. at the United Evangelical church Thursday evening at 7:30. All come.

The Weekly Gazette-Times has contained twelve pages each of the last four issues and this week is a sixteen page issue. Subscribers won't get through reading until the next issue is out.

There will be a special meeting of Canton Corvallis No. 18, Patriarchs Militant, I. O. O. F. in Odd Fellows Hall, Monday evening, Jan. 3, 1910. A Grand Officer will be present to give instructions in the work. E. V. Hawley, Clerk, E. L. Strange, Captain.

At the special road meeting in District No. 1 held yesterday afternoon a five mill tax was voted. C. W. LeVee called the meeting to order and Robert Wylie acted as secretary. C. W. Mitchell made a motion that the tax be five mills, and the vote resulted: Seven "yeas" and no "nays." It was agreed that one half the tax should be spent on the main road and one-fourth on each side road. G. H. Lindeman was recommended as supervisor. The people of this district say their roads can be put into very good condition with a little expenditure and the right kind of attention at the right time.

With 1222 in its school enumeration Corvallis claims a population in the district of 5,400. On the same basis Albany would have 6,200.—Albany Democrat. But Albany's "boost literature" and newspapers claim 7,000. Corvallis has not at any time claimed more than 5,000. 5,400 was figured out on the basis used by other towns, but Corvallis knows this to be exaggerated. The government census will have to be padded a hundred or so to make 5,000 for Corvallis, and probably it will have to be padded some to make Albany 6,000 instead of the 7,000 claimed. It isn't well to have our hopes too high at the time when Uncle Sam's enumerators are about to make a count.

Looking One's Best.

It's a woman's delight to look her best but pimples, skin eruptions, sores and boils rob life of joy. Listen! Bucklen's Arnica Salve cures them; makes the skin soft and velvety. It glorifies the face. Cures pimples, sore eyes, cold sores, cracked lips, chapped hands. Try it. Infalible for piles. 25 cents at all druggists.

H. L. and Miss Helen Holgate are at Portland for a brief stay.

WANTED—A woman or girl for light housework, phone 170, Second and Van Buren. 12-30-4t

W. H. Jenkins, one of the S. P.'s big moguls, was in Corvallis today looking after business affairs.

Joseph Henkle and bride returned to Portland today after a pleasant visit here with Mr. and Mrs. Lee Henkle.

The stockholders of the Oregon Apple Co., will hold a meeting on Monday, Jan. 10, 7 p. m., at the parlors of the Benton County National Bank. This is for the election of officers and general report.

Mark Rickard sends from Los Angeles an official program of that city's Motoring Association. Races at Ascot Park, watched by Mark, show Barney Oldfield, "king of the track drivers," as winner of three or four events. Evidently Marcus Aurelius is right in his element. When he returns to Corvallis he will give the citizens a real sample of speeding—but not over Second street bumps.

The McKenzie & Moore Fun Makers last night drew a packed house at the Palace theater where they put on the charming western drama, "The Desperado." Each member of the company appeared at his or her best and the characters were each well sustained. Vin Moore, as the Chinaman, was the best ever and his witty sayings kept the audience in an uproar. This play will be repeated tonight. The moving pictures are above the average, the subjects all being excellent.

At the Skating Rink tomorrow evening the Corvallis Athletic Club's basketball team will play with the Independence Athletic Club team. This will be a game on foot and the knowing ones say it will be a hummer. The Independence team claims to be out after state championship honors, while the local team will be made up of the men who defeated O. A. C. a couple of weeks ago. All of which insures a good game. "Skeeter" Swan, one of the best of the local bunch, says his team, while a good one, has no cinch in this game and the boys have been doing some hard preliminary work. The Rink will be a good place at which to spend a couple of hours on New Year's eve.

F. F. Coolidge and family are here from Frazier, Colorado, and if all things look good to them they will remain, that their boys may enter O. A. C. They are now at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marsh Armstrong, who are relatives. Mr. Coolidge was once a newspaper man in Colorado, and nearly starved to death, as most newspaper men do. He stole a cow, or somebody gave him one, and he started a cattle ranch. Free range for cattle was more profitable than writing free puffs for neighbors, hence he waxed prosperous. Finally the coming of the Moffatt railroad put the cattle business in his section to the bad and he decided to hike for old Oregon where opportunity unlimited still exists. Mr. Coolidge has a son who desires to specialize in raising fine stock. If things work out properly there will be, sooner or later, a sign board over the entrance to one of our big farms: "Coolidge & Sons' Pure Bred Stock Farm." Here's hoping.

At the home of Mrs. W. J. Kerr yesterday afternoon the College Folk Club entertained in honor of Mrs. E. R. Lake, who, with Mr. Lake, leaves for Washington City about February 1st. Japanese tea, served from a genuine Japanese tea set and prepared by a Japanese culinary artist came first on the afternoon's program, then 500, at which Mrs. C. M. McKellips and Mrs. McElfresh were winners. This was followed by substantial refreshments. At the proper time Mrs. McKellips gave voice to the club's regret at the loss of Mrs. Lake and extended best wishes for her happiness in the far Eastern home. Mrs. McElfresh told a humorous story in which a little boy disgusted with school and building fires at the school house was asked where he thought he would go when he died. He said he guessed he would just keep on building fires for school ma'ams. The afternoon was one of real pleasure and a splendid testimonial of the esteem in which Mrs. Lake is held.
