

THREE STUDENTS GRADUATE FROM OTI UNDER KLAMATH EDUCATION PROGRAM

Helen finished her 3-year medical technology course, thereby becoming a registered American Medical Technologist. She is still in training, however, having begun x-ray technology immediately after completion of medical technology. She plans on completing that course, normally 3 school years in length, in 2 2/3 years, allowing for training already received common to both courses. At the conclusion she will qualify as both a medical and x-ray technician and, she anticipates, a highly specialized position. Post-graduate plans include possible acquisition of the old Klamath Agency hospital building.

"I would like to buy the agency hospital if I had the backing and set up a hospital for Indians." She believes that such a project would help fill a great need.

Leroy, completing his two-year course in screen printing, is hopeful of procuring a job in that field. He advises that a new screen printing shop will likely be opened in Klamath Falls soon and "would like to get on". If unable to line up a job there or elsewhere he plans an additional year of training, in illustrative arts.

Laurence, completing a two-year gunsmithing course, has no definite plans at this time.

Recreation Council Election Held; Roger Wright Named Chairman

Elected early in June to head the Chiloquin Area Recreation Council was Roger Wright, past vice-chairman of the organization. Wright has been an officer of the Volunteer Firemen and the director of the local civil defense group. Also elected were Mrs. Dwight Souers, vice-chairman, Lenora Evans, secretary-treasurer, and Marie Norris and Frank Hale, members of the board of directors. Marie Norris is a member of the Klamath Tribe who has taken an active part in community affairs, particularly as a member of the Klamath Reservation Discussion Group.

The Chiloquin Area Recreation Council was formed over a year ago for the purpose of studying recreational needs and coordinating the recreation programs of the community. The council, composed of many leading organizations in the Chiloquin area, has been designated by the City Council as the recommending body for the disbursement of city recreation funds, as well as the body to coordinate activities at Spink Community Park.

The Chiloquin City Council is looking to the recreation council for recommendations as to the disbursement of the City's recreation funds. The recreation council will be assisting the Park Commission in the coordinating of activities at Spink Community Park, as well as making a continuing survey of Community recreation needs.

Tribal Personal Property Sales Held, Scheduled

Sealed bids on the 53 items advertised in KTP-2-59, the second sale in the series of tribal personal property sales, were opened at the tribal land sales office on June 9, 1959. Bids opened at that time were from 10 individuals bidding on 30 items. Sealed bids from tribal members interested in meeting the high bids on these items were opened on June 22. Final results of the bidding showed 37 of the 53 items sold, either through the original bidding or execution of preferential offers by tribal members. The total sale price for the 37 items was $7,276.66, as contrasted with the total appraised value of the items of $3,353.41. Earle Wilcox, head of the tribal land sales office and also in charge of personal property sales, points out that most of the difference in the appraised value of the items and the selling price is accounted for in execution of preferential offers by tribal members applying the purchase price against their pro rata shares.

Wilcox announces that the tentative date for the next personal property sale, KTP-3-59, is July 23, 1959, starting at 10 A. M. The sale will be held at Klamath Agency. This sale will be somewhat different from previous ones as the property will be sold entirely by oral auction bids. Each of the approximately 70 items to be put up for sale will first be subjected to oral auction bidding by non-members. Immediately following the indication by the auctioneer as to the amount of the high bid on the item, the tribal members present will be given an opportunity to indicate if they want to meet the high bid. If more than one member is interested oral auction bidding between members will then be held until the item is sold. Wilcox emphasizes that members as well as others must be present to bid.

Tentative dates for viewing the property, which includes furniture, office equipment, automotive vehicles, gas ranges, etc., are July 20, 21, 22, and up to 10 A. M. on July 23. The property may be seen at Klamath Agency.

"Follies" Raises Ambulance and Recreation Funds

The "Reservation Follies" was the theme of a highly entertaining variety show sponsored by the Klamath Reservation Discussion Group on June 20 in Chiloquin.

The "Follies" was held for the purpose of helping to raise money for the ambulance fund and the summer recreation program.

The following performers contributed their talent to round out two full hours of entertainment, emceed by "Moot" Nelson: Ramon and Rosie Zamudio, guitars and song; Elido DeBortoli, accordion; Judy Adamo, piano; Norman Jackson, guitar; Norma Souers, tap dance; Marie Norris, Carmelita Hatcher, guitar and song; Marie Norris, Ima Jimenez, son gand dance; Mickey Ochoa, piano; Flava Yates, harmonica; "Bunky" Baker, Leroy Jackson, and Bobby Jackson, guitars; "Punchy" Jimenez, Sheila Riddle, The Charleston; Clifford Daw, guitar; Joe Jackson, guitar; Cynthia Martinez, Linda Jimenez, accordians.

The Reservation Discussion Group sponsored a similar show last year, all proceeds of which went to the ambulance fund. The members of the Group are hoping that the Follies will become an annual event to give local people a chance to share their talent with the community.
