Wise Old Gentleman.

An old gentleman, whose character was unimpeached and unimpeachable, for some slight cause was challenged by a dissolute young hotspur, who was determined that the old gentleman should give him honorable satisfaction. The old gentleman very good-naturedly refused to fight, and the fellow threatened to "gazette" him as a coward. "Well, go ahead—I would rather fill 20 newspapers than one ruffin," rejoined the old gentleman.

When an old elm tree in the avenue at Bushy Park, near London, was cut down, the iron framework of an old street lamp was found embedded in the trunk to a depth of several inches about 25 feet from the ground. It is believed that the lamp must have been nailed to the tree many years ago and gradually became surrounded by the wood.

AILING WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Mrs. Hilbert Tells of Her Distressing Symptoms During Change of Life and How She Found Relief.

Fleetwood, Pa.—"During the Change of Life I was hardly able to be around at all. I always had a headache and I was so dizzy and nervous that I had no rest at night. The flashes of heat were so bad sometimes that I did not know what to do. "One day a friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it made me a strong well woman. I am very thankful that I followed my friend's advice and I shall recommend it as long as I live. Before I took the Compound I was always sickly and now I have not had medicine from a doctor for years. You may publish my letter."—Mrs. EDWARD B. HILBERT, Fleetwood, Pa.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dizziness, drowsiness, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetites, weakness and inquietude, and dizziness, are promptly heeded by intelligent women who are approaching the period in life when woman's great change may be expected.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound invigorates and strengthens the female organism and builds up the weakened nervous system. It has carried many women safely through this crisis.

HIS RECORD WAS ALL RIGHT

Black Spots Wiped Out by His Firm Belief in a Noiseless Fourth.

"Before I consent to let you have my daughter," said the grim old gentleman, "there are some questions I would like to ask you. Are you quick tempered?"

"Well, yes, to tell the truth, I'm afraid I am."

"Hm. Ever swear?"

"Sometimes, when I become very angry, I do."

"Smoke?"

"Yes, but I have never noticed that it injured me."

"Every drink intoxicating liquor?"

"I occasionally take a drink, but I'm not a slave to the habit, I assure you."

"Have you ever been in jail?"

"Once. I took some funds to which I had no right, but I did not do it deliberately, I assure you. It was the result of a misunderstanding."

"Yes. It generally is. How about your family? What kind of ancestors did you have?"

"Do you think it is fair to hold a man responsible for what his ancestors did?"

"Answer my question."

"We'll, I can't say that my ancestors amounted to a great deal. My grandfather was—was—in short, he was hanged."

"You've never held a job anywhere very long, have you?"

"I can't say that I have."

"What was the highest salary you ever earned?"

"Nineteen dollars a week."

"Ever jump a board bill?"

"I wouldn't exactly call it that. I own a lady for several months' board that I had three or four years ago, but I fully intend to pay her some day."

"Have you ever rocked a boat?"

"No, sir, never."

"Have you ever set off a firecracker under your grandmother's chair or been hurt while trying to make a racket on the Fourth of July?"

"No, sir. I believe in a noiseless Fourth."

"All right. You may have her. I'm glad to get you into our family."

MERIAM'S CORNER, CONCORD

Meriam's Corner, Concord, Mass., gained lasting fame in the early days of the Revolution because, according to the inscription on a tablet erected there, "The British troops retreating from the old North bridge were here attacked in flank by the men of Concord and neighboring towns and driven under a hot fire to Charlestown."

By the direction of congress investigation was recently made regarding what are known as our four national songs. According to the report the oldest of these songs is "Yankee Doodle." It was sung 150 years ago and next to "Dixie" still is the most popular of our national melodies. There are 16 different theories as to how the song originated, but the most reliable information seems to point to the fact that the song was written by a British officer, brought to this country and first played by British bands, thereafter being appropriated by the colonists. The first printed version of the song is found in Walsh's collection of dance music, published in the year 1750. The most substantial song is "America," written by Rev. Samuel F. Smith, at Andover, Mass., in February, 1832, but this song was set to the music of "God Save the King." The "Star Spangled Banner," which was written by Francis Scott Key, while witnessing the bombardment of Fort M'Henry from a British man of war on which he was held prisoner, has in recent years been adopted as the national anthem and is now played on all patriotic occasions. By order of the government it is received in both army and navy circles with bared heads.

"Yankee Doodle" Oldest of Our National Songs—Origin of the Other Three.

Washington, D. C.—Free sugar in 1916 and free raw wool now are established in the tariff revision bill, having been approved by the Democratic caucus of the senate after a two-day fight. The sugar schedule, as reported by the majority members of the finance committee practically as it passed the house, was approved by a vote of 40 to 6. Free raw wool as submitted by the majority and just as it passed the house, swept the senate caucus by a vote of 41 to 6. This ratification of President Wilson's tariff policy, he having insisted upon the wool and sugar propositions before the ways and means committee in the beginning, came after a long series of developments since the tariff bill passed the house, in which the President has been an active participant. When the fight of the anti-free wool Democrats was getting hot, the President issued a public statement declaring that any suggestion of compromise on his wool and sugar schedule ideas absolutely was out of the question, and later he stirred all administration leaders to action when he made his charge about the existence of an "insidious lobby," investigation of which has brought results regarded as favorable to the tariff bill. When sugar and wool had been disposed of the caucus ratified the committee amendment placing hair of the Angora goat on the free list.

LABOR UNIONS ARE ASSAILED

Atlanta, Ga.—An arraignment of labor unions in which it is charged that they form "the most widespread and aggressively exacting trust in America," is contained in the farewell message of Governor Brown, presented in the Georgia legislature. Governor Brown's criticism is made in connection with his argument for the enactment of laws requiring compulsory arbitration of differences between employees and employers. "The trend of the laws of the present day is to suppress combinations or trusts in restraint of trade," says the message, "yet while it is a matter of public note that the labor trust is the most widespread and aggressively exacting trust in America, politicians pander to it because of its voting power. "The labor unions, by combination which they work through strikes and kindred methods, are aggressively levying a toll on all the other elements of our citizens. They have organized a trust and demand that all other people buy labor at whatever price they choose to put on it. Contemporaneously, they are trying to force from employment all similar workmen who do not join their orders."

Woman Explorer Goes North.

New York—Into practically unexplored regions of Northern British Columbia and Southeastern Alaska, where as yet uncivilized Indian tribes have never seen the face of a white woman, Miss Mary L. Jobe, professor of history in the Normal college in this city, will start a week hence from Prince Rupert, B. C., accompanied only by two Indian guides. Miss Jobe is a veteran of several exploring expeditions. She was one of the two women with Professor Herschel Parker when he reached Mount Sanford, the highest mountain in the Selkirk range. She said she expected to study the traditions, habits, ceremonies and language of the Athabascan or "Carrier" tribe of Indians along the Skeena and Peace rivers.

Canadian Wreck Kills Eight.

Ottawa, Ont.—Eight persons were killed and more than 20 injured Thursday afternoon in a wreck of the west-bound Winnipeg express on the Canadian Pacific railway. The colonist cars, crowded with immigrants, skidded down the embankment and plunged into the Ottawa river. In these the eight known victims, four men, three women and a child, met death. Five of them have been identified as recent arrivals from Scotland and Ireland bound for Western Canada.

Meat Experts to Travel.

Washington, D. C.—Secretary Houston is contemplating the dispatch of four or five of his experts from the bureau of animal industry to Argentina, Australia, Uruguay and Brazil. The placing of meats on the free list by the new tariff bill, combined with the decrease in the supply of cattle in this country, has led the department to the belief that other countries may be shipping beef here in the near future.

Impure Blood Gets Good Bath

Wonderful How Quickly Your Entire System Awakens When the Blood is Cleansed.

If you are down with rheumatism; if you sneeze, feel chilled, are choked with catarrh, have a cough, or your skin is pimply and irritated with rash, eczema, or any other blood disorder, just remember that almost all the ills of life come from impure blood. And you can easily give your blood a good, thorough cleansing, a bath, by using S. S. S. There is no need for anyone to be dependent over the illness of blood impurities. No matter how badly they attack the system, or how unightly becomes the skin, just remember there is one ingredient in S. S. S. that so stimulates the cellular tissues throughout the body that each part asserts its own essential nutriment from the blood.

This means that all decay, all breaking down of the tissues, is checked and repair work begins. S. S. S. has such a specific influence on all local cells as to preserve their mutual welfare and afford a proper relative assistance to each other. More attention is being given to constructive medicine than ever before and S. S. S. is the highest achievement in this line. For many years people relied upon mercury, iodine of potash, arsenic, physics, cathartics and "dope" as remedies for blood sickness, but now the pure botanical S. S. S. is their safeguard.

You can get S. S. S. in any drug store, but insist upon having it. The great Swift Laboratory in Atlanta, Ga., prepares this famous blood purifier, and you should take no chance by permitting any one to recommend a substitute.

And if your blood condition is such that you would like to consult a specialist freely and confidentially, address the Medical Department, The Swift Specific Company, 159 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

DESSERT DISHES OF RHUBARB

pudding, Tapioca or Shortcake, Make Delicious Confection.

Rhubarb Pudding—Mash half a pound of bag or pulled figs, or use dates or raisins, or a mixture of all or of any two of these fruits. Cover with boiling water and cook until water is nearly absorbed. Cut a pound of rhubarb in inch pieces, put a layer of the cooked dried fruit, and repeat until all is used. Add a quarter of a cup of hot water and bake in a slow oven until the rhubarb is soft. Serve cold alone or with cream.

Rhubarb Tapioca—Soak half a cup of tapioca over night and cook until clear in a double boiler. Place in a buttered pudding dish two cups of rhubarb, cut in small pieces; one cup of sugar and a pinch of ginger. Pour the hot tapioca over this, stir in one teaspoonful of butter, cover and bake one hour. Put a meringue on it before serving, if you like, or serve it cold, with plain or whipped cream.

Rhubarb Shortcake—Put two cups of rhubarb, cut small, with a scant cup of sugar in a double boiler and cook until rhubarb is tender and sugar dissolved. Add the juice and chopped rind of one lemon. Make a shortcake by your favorite recipe, but cut and bake it like biscuit. When done, break open, butter them and arrange on a hot dish. Put the rhubarb in between, and when serving pour the juice over them.

Great Virtue.

There is no greater everyday virtue than cheerfulness. This quality in woman is like sunshine to the day, or gentle renewing moisture to parched herbs. The light of a cheerful face diffuses itself and communicates the happy spirit that inspires it.

The sourest temper must sweeten in the atmosphere of continuous good humor. As well might fog and cloud and vapor hope to cling to sun-lit landscape as "the blues" and moroseness to combat jovial speech and exhilarating laughter.

There is no path but will be easier traveled, no load but will be lighter so shadow on heart or brain but will lift sooner in the presence of a determined cheerfulness. It may at times seem difficult for the happiest temperament to keep the countenance of peace and content, but difficulty will vanish when we truly consider that unless gloom and passionate despair do nothing but multiply thorns and thicken sorrows.
