SHIPPING NOTES

The Barkentine Amazon arrived down from Portland Thursday and went direct to the shipyards for some necessary rigging work. The Amazon has on a full cargo of lumber destined for the west coast of South America and as soon as repairs can be made will leave down river.

After having put the Steamer Merced through her trial trip and made a couple of voyages on her to see if she was just right, Captain Edward Jahnsen assumed command of the flagship Klamath on Saturday last. The Klamath arrived at St. Helens under command of Captain A. Asplund and since the Merced was here loading the transfer was made here, each Captain taking with him his bridge officers and stewards department.

The Steamer Klamath, after taking on a million feet of lumber and piling for San Pedro left out Wednesday night. She carried her full passenger list, as usual.

The Steamer Yosemite, Captain Norberg, arrived Tuesday night. She loaded a full cargo of ties and piling for delivery at San Francisco and sailed Thursday night. She also had on quite a few passengers.

The Schooner Irene, Captain Mitchell, was a get-away Tuesday morning on the tow lines of the bar tug Wallulu. She goes to San Francisco this trip. On her return to St. Helens she will load a full cargo for Tasmania. This will be the first time the Irene has gone foreign in the last eight years.

The Steamer F. S. Loop arrived in Monday noon and went direct to the docks of the Columbia County Lumber Company, where she completed her cargo of lumber for delivery to the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

The Steamer multinomah, under command of Capt. Chas. marro, arrived in the river yesterday and is now discharging her up cargo at Portland. From there she will come to St. Helens, loading for Southern California ports.

SCAPPOOSE

Miss Hazel Watts arrived home for the summer from Wellesly College on Friday evening.

The Ladies Aid of the Congregational church gave an entertainment at Watts & Price Hall last Friday. The program was excellent, as was the social hour that followed.

O. M. Washburn and children spent Sunday with Mrs. Washburn in Portland. He reports that she is making rapid progress toward regaining her strength and looks for her home in a few days.

The South Side Timber Co. camp began operation Monday. The high water had stopped them from work.

Mr. J. D. McKay returned Monday from a short trip up the Columbia.

A ROYAL CHINOOK

A Royal Chinook salmon weighing exactly 74 pounds and measuring 4 feet, 2 inches in length was packed by Jas. Sheldon yesterday having been caught by John Young, a fisherman of this locality. The fish was worth in the neighborhood of $6 to the fisherman and by the time it is put up into pound cans and placed on the market at retail will bring in $15, making 5 dozen cans of fine Columbia River salmon. Mr. Sheldon is planning on sending the big fish to one of the Chicago hotels to be served at a banquet as a specimen of the fish industry of the Columbia river. Old fishermen say that there has not been such a large fish caught here for over 15 years.
