OFFICIAL PAPER OF COLUMBIA COUNTY

VOL. XXXII. ST. HELENS, OREGON, FRIDAY, JULY 11, 1913 NO 28.

THREE TIMES AROUND WORLD

INTERESTING ACCOUNT OF TRIP OF THE GOOB SHIP GALILEE

Captain Hayes of the Bktn. Amazon now at the shipyard for repairs, had a signal honor shown him and a decided compliment to his knowledge of navigation on the high seas when in 1905 he was chosen to command the Brig Galilee on a tour of the North and South Pacific Ocean. The expedition was under the auspices of the Carnegie Institute at Washington, D. C., and was for the purpose of getting the variations of the compass in the different parts of the world. The Galilee, under command of Captain Hayes and with a picked crew, also several noted scientists aboard, sailed from the Golden Gate late in the summer of 1905. The first stop was made at Fanning Island, near the equator and about 3300 miles from San Francisco. Observations were taken there and the instruments corrected. From the Fanning Island the little vessel continued her trip to Pago-Pago, the Samoan Islands, then down to the Fijiis. At each place observations and comparisons were made and notes of scientific interest recorded. From the Fijiis the party continued their journey to Guam, which, by the way, is the island that Uncle Sam kindly relieved Spain of during the unpleasantness between those nations. It was Capt. Glass aboard the Cruiser Charleston that steamed to Guam, fired several shots at the fortress, expecting some show of resistance, but instead of having his shots answered by cannon from the forts, Captain Glass was surprised to see steaming toward his vessel a steam launch on which was the Governor of the Island, accompanied by his staff. On arriving at the Charleston, the Governor made profound apologies for not answering the salute stating that the home government (Spain) had not sent him any powder and he could not return the salute. He was much surprised to learn that war had been declared against Spain and quickly surrendered to Captain Glass, who after leaving a detachment in charge of the "powderless" fort took the Governor and his staff as military prisoners and delivered them at Manilla. At Guam, it might be mentioned, are found the deepest soundings in the world, a a cable ship having made a sounding of 6 1-4 miles, and even then not having found the bottom of the ocean on account of the sounding line not being long enough. Guam is supposed to have been a volcano in ages past and great depth of water there is supposed to be on this account. The Island is now an American cable station. From Guam the little vessel sailed to Manila, thence to Yokahama and from the Japanese port to Sitka, Alaska. Returning, Honolulu and other ports in the Hawaiin Islands were visited and the vessel then weighed anchor for San Diego, California. After a few days there, they again sailed, going to the South Sea Islands, New Zealand and Australia and returning via Honolulu. The result of the long cruise was very important and several changes were made in charts which no doubt have saved numerous vessels from going on the rocks of the Pacific, at least the Institute in Washington was well satisfied and its Bureau of Terrestial Magnetism thought the trip so important that a couple of years ago a similar expedition was started out on the Atlantic and the vessel has just now returned. Captain Hayes states that he was gone from home for three years and two months, and during that time sailed about 70,000 miles, or almost three times the circumference of the world.

The little vessel was recently sold to a fishing concern and is now in Alaska codfishing which is quite an ignominious ending for a vessel which had played so important a part in making the paths of the great Pacific, and marking out the danger spots so larger and more important vessels could follow her paths with more safety.

SHIPPING NOTES

The Steamer Klamath, Capt. Edward Jahnsen, arrived in Monday, and after discharging her 60 passengers here so they could take the boat for Portland, went to the shipyard for some minor repairs. She began taking on a full cargo of ties yesterday and should leave out Sunday with over a million feet for cargo and her full complement of passengers.

The Steamer Yellowstone arrived in Thursday and after taking on 500M ft. of lumber and 1000 empty creosote oil drums, sailed Thursday night for San Pedro and San Diego.

The Schooner Beulah arrived in Astoria Thursday after a run of 20 days from San Pedro. She will probably arrive in St. Helens today and will receive a full cargo here.

The Bktn. Lahaina arrived in Astoria Thursday after a run of 20 days from Mahukona in the Hawaian Islands. The bar tug Wallulu brought her direct to the St. Helens shipyard where she will undergo extensive repairs. She then goes to Portland for her cargo of lumber for delivery at South African ports.

The Steamer F. S. Loop, after taking on a consignment of lumber at the docks of the Columbia County mill sailed Thursday night for San Francisco.

The Schooner W. F. Jewett is now out 7 days from San Francisco for St. Helens and is expected here during the coming week.

H. A. GALBRAITH, CITY MARSHAL

MAYOR AND COUNCIL MAKES TEMPORARY OFFICER PERMANENT

There were five applications and petitions for the position of City Marshal when the council met last Monday evening. After nominations had been made and votes taken it was found that Mr. H. A. Galbraith was the choice. Mayor Mueller promptly appointed him and the appointment was immediately confirmed by the council. Mr. Galbreath has had years of experience as a police officer, having served for about 8 years on the Portland police force. He is thoroughly competent and able to handle the position and has showed, during the time he has held the position temporarily that he will perform the duties in a most satisfactory manner.

Never in the history of prize voting contests in the state of Oregon has any been launched that has met with the hearty approval and support of the public as the one now being condected by the Mist. On every street corner, in the hotel lobbies, in the barber shops where town topics are always discussed, the Mist's voting contest is the real subject of conversation. Competition is commencing to develop in each district and before next issue there will be others in the race, and anyone saying that this or that candidate is sure to win are putting themselves in a position to make an awful blunder, for the race is young yet, in fact, has just started, and likely as not there will be some winners who have not been entered yet. Several new names have been entered this week and a few have withdrawn for personal reasons. Subscriptions are coming in from all parts of the county, with request that votes be given this or that candidate, which shows that each one has numerous friends who are willing to help.

NOMINAEE YOUR FAVORITE.

If the name of your favorite does not appear in the list above nominate her at once on the nomination blank printed on page six. There is plenty of time to get into the race as it has just started in earnest, but don't delay any longer, as from now on it is going to be serious, and the ones who get an early start will have a little the best of it.

J. W. Fisher

WELL KNOWN EDUCATOR PASSES AWAY IN PORTLAND

After an illness of over three months, J. W. Fisher passed away at his late residence, 1653 East Eithth street, Portland, Ore., July 7th, at 10 p. m. He was born in the state of Ohio, October 27th, 1856. He leaves a wife and one son, Wallace C. Fisher, and one brother, H. M. Fisher of Spokane, Wash., and three sisters, Tillie M. Fisher, Mrs. McElhany and Mrs. Anbuy of Pittsburg, Penn., to mourn his loss. He was a man highly esteemed by all who knew him. He led a clean, conscientious life, such as equaled by few. He spent his entire life as an educater, and taught in the states of Washington and Oregon for the last thirteen years. The funeral took place July 9th at 3 p. m. from the Sellwood undertaking parlors, Rev. Johnston officiating, and interment was in Riverview cemetery, Portland. Mr. Fisher was well known in this county, having been principal of the Warren schools during 1911-12.

BAND IS ON THE ROCKS

CITIZENS MUST HELP OR BAND WILL DISBAND

The St. Helens Band is on the rocks of financial embarassment. The practice last night in the basement of the Court House was the last one until some arrangements are made for supporting a band. For nearly two years now the boys who have been taking part in the band have been paying the expenses of music and an instructor from Portland once each week until it has become a burden to them and they feel that unless the citizens of the city can lend at least a helping hand they will disband. It takes some money to keep a band going and if there are enough men and boys who are ready and willing to devote their time to it the funds for the actual expenses should in some way be raised by the people of the town. So unless some enterprising and public spirited citizens come to the rescue the St. Helens Brass Band will be a thing of the past.

A Serious Injury

SMALL SON OF H. O. HOWARD HAS FOOT BADLY CUT

The 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Howard of Yankton met with a very serious and painful accident last Tuesday which may cause the loss of a foot. The little fellow was following along behind the mowing machine, being very close to the sickle when the horses slowed up and the boy stepped over and in front of the sickle. Just then the horses started up again and the boy's foot was caught severing the bones of the foot. Dr. Ross was called and tied the lignments together, but it is yet uncertain whether or not the foot can be saved.

Musical July 19th

MISS WATTS WILL ENTERTAIN AT CITY HALL IN ST. HELENS

The musical to be given by Miss Watts of Scappoose at the City Hall on Saturday evening. July 19, promises to be one of the enjoyable events of the season. Miss Watts will be assisted by Miss Maud Watts of Scappoose, soprano, and Miss Rosamund Walker, of Portland, contralto. Miss Maud Watts is a favorite singer of Scappoose, while Miss Walker is one of the popular singers of Reed College, Portland, and a member of the Calvary Presbyterian church choir. It was announced in the Mist last week that Miss Watts would also give a musical at Scappoose on the 12th, but this has been postponed until the 26th, at which time she will be assisted by the same singers as at the St. Helens entertainment.

Flagg Residence Gets Slightly Burned

The fire bell rang out loud and clear last Monday between 12 and 1 o'clock and the fire fighting apparatus was hauled to the Flagg residence on Columbia street in record time, where sparks from the chimney had caught in the moss on the roof and burned several holes. The fire was all on the outside, so it took only a few minutes for the firemen to extinguish the flames and only slight damage was done. This fire demonstrated two things, however, that the firemen are becoming proficient ond that the house owners should remove the moss from the shingles.
