Mrs. M. F. Hazen returned Tuesday from a two weeks stay at Sheppards Springs on the Columbia. She comes back very much improved in health and has many good things to say about the curative properties of the water for rheumatism.

E. E. Quick and Jay Deming left here Wednesday morning bound for the Nehalem country where they will spend two weeks fishing and hunting. When these two famous nimrods go after fish they are always successful and all their friends are remembered with a nice string of trout when they return. We are all hoping.

Harold Randall, a young man 22 years of age who had been employed by J. D. Brown on Sauvies Island, was drowned while in swimming last Saturday. The body was recovered the next morning and brought to St Helens where it was prepared for shipment to his home in Massachusetts. Little was known of the young man here except that he was well liked and industrious. His parents residing in the east were notified and they directed the shipping of the body which was done.

For a good job of plastering see L. E. Gulker, the Columbia County plasterer, Rainier, Ore.

A fire alarm turned in from box 33 last Monday night at 12 o'clock was the cause of a fast run by the firemen to the corner of willamette and Winter streets, where they discovered that somebody had turned in an alarm for fun. The fire boys and the public generally felt rather out of sorts over the alarm and are after the person who turned it in. There is a severe penalty for turning in a false alarm and if the person is found who did it, he will face pretty serious trouble.

The Congregational parsonage has been completed and will be ready for the occupancy of Rev. F. J. Meyer and family today. The congregation has been congratulated by many out-of-town people on the convenient little residence which they have acquired, and they feel that only through Mr. Crouse, the contractor's personal interest, could such a complete little bungalow have been built for the contract price.

Dr. McLaren of Rainier was in St. Helens this week arranging for a fishing trip to the McKenzie river with a number of local nimrods. While standing on the railroad track at Houlton waiting for the train back to Rainier the "spirits within" moved the doctor who made the scientific discovery that the rails came to a point at the end of his vision. We would be pleased to print a scientific treatise on this important discovery if the Doctor will supply the "Dope."

Frank Parks, from South Center, Kansas, is making a tour of the western states and stopped over in St. Helens last week to visit with M. F. Hazen, an old friend from the same place. He will leave within a few days for Los Angeles, but expects to return here later.

Miss Leona Perkins returned Monday from a four weeks trip to Southern California and Mexican points. She reports a most enjoyable trip, going down on the Merced and returning on the Klamath. While going down she was made quite a heroine by her prompt action in shooting a large eagle which was soaring over the vessel and about to attack a small child on the deck. The large bird was brought down the first shot and was presented to the Eagles Lodge of Los Angeles, where it was mounted and occupies a conspicuous place in the lodge room.

ST. HELENS WINS

torrid corner in good style, while Danny Richardson filled Dill's place at short in a most acceptable way.

The game seemed salted after the first inning when with two men on Morton landed on a choice one for a home run, making the score 3 to 0 for St. Helens, but the Portland team never quit fighting and shortly after tied up the score. From then on to the end of the game it was nip and tuck all the time, but when the last half of the eighth came, St. Helens was imbued with a spirit of "do it now" and Danny Richardson made a home run, putting St. Helens one to the good. Safe hits by Dill and Ballagh put two men on, and then Morton came through with his second home run of the game and scored three runs with his trusty bat. This seemed to take the heart out of the Portland pitcher and players and they were not able to score in their ninth inning, the game ending 10 to 15 in favor of the St. Helens Club.

SOME NOTES OF THE GAME.

Notwithstanding the fact that he had a finger broken, old man Ballagh held down the initial sack in faultless style, and also performed well with the stick. From all appearances, he will outlast Mathewson, which is due to the great care he takes of himself.

Little Danny came through with a lusty clout over the left field fence in the eighth inning, which put St. Helens one to the good. Danny is improving in his batting rapidly and likely some big league will grab him before long.

Morton had some day at the bat—two home runs, a two-base hit and a single out of five times up is a good record for a "has been."

Little Mac in the right field pulled off several stellar catches which would look good even in the big league.

St. Helens plays the fast Timm-Cress team on Sunday next. Don't miss this game as it will be a dandy.

Earl Perry at second gave a good account of himself, accepting several difficult chances and getting away with them in good shape. When it comes to playing second base Rodgers of the Beavers has nothing over Earl, and McCredie had best grab this youngster for "future reference."

WORLD'S PRIZE COW

the island, although the most noted, but the principal agricultural crop is potatoes, the average crop being about 60,000 tons, which are shipped out to England and France. The herd of cattle which were brought here by Mr. West consists of 29 young cows and one bull. The choice of the herd is a 2-year old heifer which took the Gold Medal at the fair in May of this year at St. Helier in a contest in which 167 of the very best cows of the island were entered. This young cow produced 3 pounds and 6 ounces of butter in 24 hours. The other cows are all young and the very best that could be obtained, while the young bull is a half brother of the prize cow. Altogether this is the finest herd of Jersey cattle ever brought to America, and Mr. West is justly proud of his possession.
