Cleans Blood Through Kidneys
A Most Important Function and One to be Carefully Guarded.

The purpose of the kidneys being to filter the blood the question of treating supposed kidney weakness should be considered carefully. Instead of drugs and lined kidney stimulants the better plan is to purify the blood with an antidotal effect such as you get from S. S. S. It should be remembered that the kidneys are made up of a fine net work of blood vessels, and it is to stimulate the functional activity of kidney tissue through this capillary net work that S. S. S. shows one of its most remarkable effects.
The medicinal value of the components of S. S. S. are relatively just as vital to healthy kidney action as the nutrient obtained from grain, meat, fats, sugars, or any other part of our daily food is to the natural reconstructive requirements of the tissues. And there is one component of S. S. S. which serves the active purpose of stimulating the cellular tissues of the kidneys to a healthy and judicious secretion of its own essential nutrient.
Think in cases of rheumatism, cystitis, chronic sore throat, hoarseness of voice, bronchitis, asthma, and the myriad of other reflex indications of weak kidney action, first purify your blood with S. S. S. so it will enable the tissues to rebuild their cellular strength and regain their normal health.
You can get S. S. S. at any drug store, but take no other so-called blood purifier. S. S. S. is purely a botanical product, and you will make a great mistake to have some antiseptic pain off a mercury, arsenic or iodine of potassium preparation that may do you irreparable harm.
S. S. S. is prepared by The Swift Specialty Co., 109 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., and if you have any deep-seated or obstinate blood trouble write to their Medical Department for free advice. It will be worth your while to do so.

Ways of the Philippine Head Hunters.

Dean C. Worcester, formerly of the University of Michigan, and now secretary of the Philippine Islands, gives some interesting particulars about the head hunters of the island of Luzon in a recent issue of The Geographical Magazine. He states that six or seven of the tribes found in the northern part of the island have been addicted to head-hunting. "When I first entered the country of the Ifugaos," he continues, "I found many of the houses ornamented with fresh human skulls, and I saw many victims of head-hunting raids."

"When an Ifugaos war party returns with a head it executes a ceremonial march or dance—a one hardly knows which to call it—which defies successful description. The men have their split raincoats on their backs. On the insides of these raincoats are pockets, which form convenient receptacles for gory trophies.

"I have seen a house with a tasteful ornament frieze of alternating carabao skulls and human skulls extending around it at the height of the floor. I have seen others with great open-work baskets of skulls hanging under the eaves.

"A man who loses his head is considered to have treated his family and friends somewhat shabbily. He is not buried as an ordinary person would be, but is carried to a resting place on some hillside far from his native village. A tunnel is excavated in the earth, his body is carried into it and placed in a sitting position and the tunnel is then filled. A lance is thrust into the ground over the grave to show that he was killed in war, and an auto image rudely fashioned out of grass is left to watch over his last resting-place."

In—How Long?
A number of men gathered in the smoking car of a train from Little Rock to another point in Arkansas were talking of the food best calculated to sustain health, says the House-keeper.

One Arkansan, a stout, florid man with short gray hair and a self-satisfied air, was holding forth in great style.

"Look at me!" he exclaimed. "Never had a day's sickness in my life. All due to simple food. Why, gents, from the time I was 20 to when I reached 40 I lived a regular life. None of these effeminate delicacies for me. No late hours. Every day, summer and winter, I went to bed at 9; got up at 5. Lived principally on corned beef and cornbread. Worked hard, gents—worked hard from 8 to 1. Then dinner; plain dinner; then an hour's exercise, and then—"

"Excuse me," interrupted the stranger, who had remained silent, "but what were you in for?"

To Grow Hair on A Bald Head

BY A SPECIALIST.
Thousands of people suffer from baldness and falling hair, who, having tried nearly every advertised hair tonic and hair-grower without results, have resigned themselves to baldness and its attendant discomfort. Yet their case is not hopeless; the following simple home prescription has made hair grow after years of baldness, and is also unequalled for restoring gray hair to its original color, stopping hair from falling out and destroying the dandruff germ. It will not make the hair greasy, and can be put up by any druggist. Buy Rum, 8 ounces; Lavona de Compose, 3 ounces; Menthol Crystals, one-half drachm. If you wish it perfumed, add half to one teaspoonful of To-Kalon Perfume, which unites perfectly with the other ingredients. This preparation is highly recommended by physicians and specialists, and is absolutely harmless, as it contains none of the poisonous wood alcohol so frequently found in hair tonics.

TARIFF MEASURE PASSES SENATE

LaFollette and Poindexter Join With Democrats.

Conferees Are Named at Once—Gallery and Floor Applaud as Doubtful Votes Are Cast.

Washington, D. C.—The democratic tariff revision bill passed the senate at 5:43 Tuesday, 46 to 37. The burst of applause that swept down from crowded galleries found its echo on the crowded floor of the senate. Its passage was attended with surprises in the final moments of the voting, when Senator La Follette, republican, cast his vote with the democrats, and was joined a few moments later by Senator Poindexter, "Progressive."

The democrats had counted throughout the long tariff fight on losing the votes of Senators Ransdell and Thornton, of Louisiana, democrats, who voted against the bill because it would put sugar on the free list. Until the names of Senators La Follette and Poindexter actually were called, however, no one knew definitely the stand they would take, and their votes were greeted with enthusiastic applause. President Wilson expressed great gratification over the end of the long struggle in the senate. Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee, who had piloted the bill through the finance committee, the democratic caucus and the senate, predicted that its passage would bring immediate stimulus to the business of the country.

As it passed the senate, the tariff bill represents an average reduction of more than 4 per cent of the rates of the original bill that passed the house and nearly 28 per cent from the rates of existing laws. In many important particulars the senate has changed the bill that passed the house and a conference committee of the two houses will begin work immediately to adjust these differences. Leaders of both houses predict that the conference will consume less than two weeks.

The senate endeavored to hasten the bill on its progress to the White House by naming its members of the conference as soon as the bill passed. Vice-President Marshall appointed Senators Simmons, Stone, Williams and Johnson, democrats, and Senators Penrose, Lodge and La Follette, republicans, as the senate conferees. Senator Stone withdrew from the committee and Senator Shively was appointed in his place. The house conferees, it was reported, will be Representatives Underwood, Kitchin and Rainey, democrats, and Payne and Fordney, republicans.

The final struggle began at 4 o'clock when, under a previous agreement, arbitrary votes began on pending amendments. In the closing hours of debate Senator La Follette had been the center of interest, proposing final amendments in the cotton and agricultural schedule, and discussing some features of the bill which he deemed favorable.

WAGES ARE FIXED FOR WOMEN

Minimum Scale Adopted by Commission in Portland.
Portland, Or.—The first ruling to be rendered under a compulsory minimum-wage law in the United States, for adult women workers, was made here by the Oregon Industrial Welfare Commission, following a public hearing at the new Public Library, on the recommendations of the conference called to determine proper wages, hours and conditions of labor of women factory workers in the city of Portland.

The ruling is in exact accord with the recommendations of the conference on all its three points—that the working day shall be limited to nine hours, with 54 hours as a maximum week's work; that the minimum weekly wage shall be $8.64, and that the noon-lunch period shall not be less than 45 minutes in length.

It will be unlawful for any employer to disregard the commission's ruling after 60 days, when the commission will make its formal announcement.

The law under which the commission was created and given its powers provides a penalty for conviction of violation of the commission's ruling of a fine of not less than $25 nor more than $100 or imprisonment in the county jail for not less than 10 days nor more than three months, or by both fine and imprisonment.

Any employer who discharges or in any other manner discriminates against any employe because she has testified or is about to testify, or because the employer believes she is about to testify, in an investigation or proceeding under the law shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not less than $25 nor more than $100.

Coin Scattered By Blast

Salem, Or.—Prattum was on the map in large letters Wednesday, for dollars were scattered all about its southern suburbs. A score of persons hunted for them and each one found at least one "simoleon." The postoffice was robbed during the night, the thieves loading the safe on a truck and hauling it away.

At the outskirts of the city they put a charge of dynamite into a hole they had drilled, and safe, money, and everything thereabout went aeroplaning. After the money had volplaned, the robbers picked up about $40 of it and then fled.
