Boy Corn Growers Get 232 Bushels An Acre

Washington, D. C.—The visit to Washington of a small army of boy and girl agricultural club winners, has opened the eyes of experts of the department of agriculture to what can be done in the way of increasing the yield of corn per acre.

The four prize winners and their corn records are: Walker Lee Dunson, of Alabama, 232.7 bushels on an acre at a cost of 19.9 cents per bushel; J. Ray Cameron, of North Carolina, 190.4 bushels at 33.29 cents; Edward J. Wellborn, of Georgia, 181.72 bushels at 30 cents; J. Jones Polk, of Mississippi, 214.9 bushels at 21.4 cents.

Railroads Assured of Consideration—Prouty

New York—Fair treatment of the railroads and decision of their applications for increased rates are assured, according to Charles A. Prouty, of the Interstate Commerce commission in a letter received here. Regarding his speech before the Lotus club, Mr. Prouty says: "I have already resigned as a member of this commission, but you are correct in your prophecy that the railroads will be fairly treated. When they show that they are entitled to an advance in transportation charges, that advance will be granted, but the commission must have facts."

"It clearly appeared in the investigation I conducted into the affairs of the New Haven railroad that if that company had never spent a dollar outside of its legitimate railroad operation it could today easily pay a dividend of 8 per cent and carry a handsome profit."

Economy Campaign Is Urged

Washington, D. C.—Difficulties experienced by postal officials in teaching the people to "save and economize" are set forth by Third Assistant Postmaster General Dockery in his annual report made public Thursday. To minimize the problem Mr. Dockery recommends inauguration of a campaign of education by which the people might be brought into closer touch with the postal savings service.

Leaps Through Train Window

Nebraska City, Neb.—Vincent Adams, a federal prisoner who escaped from the United States prison at Fort Leavenworth eight months ago and was recaptured a few days ago at Missouri Valley, Iowa, leaped through a train coach window and escaped Thursday afternoon. The train was going at the rate of 40 miles an hour. Adams was handcuffed and officers chased the fugitive through the snow nearly four miles, recapturing him. He was practically uninjured either by the broken glass or the fall from the train.

De La Barra Guest of Japan

Tokio—Senor De la Barra, Mexican minister to France, arrived here Wednesday. He was received as a national guest with much honor. Ostensibly he came to thank the mikado for Japan's participation in Mexico's national exposition two years ago. Really, it was rumored, he sought a Mexican-Japanese alliance. This was denied at the foreign office, but no one believed the foreign office would admit it even were it true.

William Krause Released

Washington, D. C.—Word has reached the State department from the City of Mexico that, at the instance of Nelson O'Shaughnessy, the American charge, the federal government has ordered the unconditional release of William Krause, an American, who had become involved in some of the plotting incident to the present revolution. College Short Course Will Interest Farmer

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis—One of the principal features of the present revelation in agricultural industries is that of farm accounting. Progressive farmers have learned that it is impossible to stop the small leaks that rob the industry of much of its profits without first finding and locating the leak. There is no sure and exact way to do this aside from systematic farm accounting. Many farmers are aware of this fact but are not prepared by training or otherwise to practice a system of bookkeeping. They will be given an opportunity to learn the necessary steps in farm accounting at the winter short course of the Oregon Agricultural College, January 5 to 31.

Newberg Growers to Displace Middleman

Newberg—Inspired by an account given by Senator Paulhamus of what has been accomplished for the farmers of the Puyallup valley of Washington, 600 fruitgrowers gathered at the Newberg opera house and subscribed stock necessary to purchase a cannery and finance fruit-selling operations next season. Growers will market direct to the consumer.

Mills Are Big Help to District About Banks

Banks—This section of Washington county shows an increase in business activity. Banks are thriving in anticipation of early operation of a lumber mill here. The Eccles company forerunner for the mill are on the ground and part of the site is cleared. Work has started on the Buxton Lumber company's new sawmill.

A force of 20 men was put to work on the site, about a mile from Buxton. More than 50,000,000 feet of timber is standing in this vicinity and the capacity of the mill is scheduled at 75,000 feet daily. A flume will be constructed and a spur track about one-half a mile long will be laid.

A smaller mill, it is said, will be erected on the site of the Davies mill, two miles northwest of Banks. Three surveyors are on the ground, but refuse to divulge their plans.

$4286.46 Left in Treasury From 1913 State Fair

Salem—Frank Meredith, secretary of the State Fair board, announces that from the proceeds of the fair of 1913 all debts have been paid, and that there is a balance in the treasury of $4286.46. All records for attendance were broken, which was largely due to the propitious weather fair week, and the exhibits were finer than usual. The balance is probably the largest in the history of the association, and with good weather next year there is every reason to believe that it will be augmented.

Accidents in State 338

Salem—Labor Commissioner Hoff reports that there were 338 accidents, 10 of which were fatal, to persons employed in Oregon industries in November. Sawmill workers head the list with 44 accidents, paper mills second with 38, and machine, foundry and boiler shops third with 37. Thirty-two persons were injured by railroad trains and 14 were injured while engaged in railroad construction.

Bridge Work Under Way

Eugene—The bridge-building equipment of Willard & McCreary was moved to the second Noti crossing last week, and erection of the only large bridge yet to be built east of Noti tunnel will be begun at once. Laying of track through the tunnel and down the Siuslaw watershed can now be begun. The first Noti crossing was completed this week, and while track was being laid for the mile between the two bridges across Noti, the contractors placed the steel for the first crossing over the Long Tom river.

December Strawberries Ripe

Comforts in Guest-Rooms.

Dickens, who traveled much and suffered many bedsores, gave special regard to the equipment of the guests' sleeping apartments in his famous home, Gad's Hill. In "Charles Dickens as I Knew Him," Charles Dolby records: "Each of these rooms contained the most comfortable of beds, a sofa, an easy chair, cane-bottomed chairs—in which Mr. Dickens had great belief, always preferring to use one himself—a large-sized writing-table profusely supplied with paper and envelopes of every description, and an almost daily change of new quilt pens. There was a miniature library of books in each room, a comfortable fire in winter, with shining copper kettle in each fireplace, and, on a side table, cups, saucers, tea caddy, teapot, sugar and milk."—London Tit-Bits.

"Why not?" queried Seabury, in surprise.
"Well," said Mrs. Seabury, "you didn't have any confidence in him when he told me I ought to go to Europe."—New York Times.
