PLAZA PHARMACY

BANK BUILDING ST. HELENS, OREGON

1914, to form a State Association. There are now fifty four clubs of hunters and fisherman in Oregon, and the ready response received from these clubs indicate that there will be a full representation of all sportsmen at the convention.

The overwhelming majority of the sportsmen are in favor of the protection of fish and game, and the improvement of the game resources of the state. It will be the purpose of the State Association to work along the lines of game protection, to agree upon legislation in order to bring that about, and to exert the united influence of the sportsmen of the state to procure the passage of such legislature.

The objects which the organized sportsmen have in view are particularly close to the heart of each angler and hunter, because of the fact that the fund of $100,000.00 or more annually used for fish and game protection and propagation, is created by the license fees paid by them. There is a wide-spread feeling that the sportsmen's fund has not always been used to best advantage, and that at times its disbursement has been influenced by motives other than the furtherance of the fish and game resources of the state.

It is thought that the state association, which probably will be known as the Oregon Sportsmen's League, will adopt a system which will give to each club in the state belonging to the League, one vote in the affairs of the League, irrespective of the membership of the club or the number of delegates sent by the club to the convention. The purpose of this is to prevent the domination of the affairs of the League by a few of the stronger clubs.

Among the entertainment features proposed for the delegates are a trap-shot and fly-casting tournament on the day preceding the convention, and a beefsteak dinner at the close of the convention, followed by motion pictures of a special interest to sportsmen.

CHAR PITTING

In comparing the air pitting method with blasting the price of a set of burners are probably equal to the amount of money invested in powder required to blast 30 or 40 large stumps, and the money paid for powder can only be applied once, while the burners can be used indefinitely and the results are that by burning with the improved method you do not have to fill the holes made by blasting and dispose of the stumps after they have been blasted. This method will be demonstrated at the Dr. Ross farm near Yankton on the 26-27-28th of March, 1914, and any one interested in stump land will be welcome to investigate.

You will find this method of interest to you as it will save you much powder money and labor.
