Mrs. Lyniff conducts the popular "Driftwood" Hotel at Long Beach and is well known to hundreds of people who visit that well known resort.

Eye strain saps the general nervous system. It is most troublesome for most headaches, and much stomach trouble. An interior examination of the eye, as well as a careful consideration of the nerves and muscles is essential if accuracy is desired. Drs. Lowe and Turner are equipped with the latest electrical instruments for examining the eyes, and carry a complete stock of eye glass mountings, frames and lenses. They have had more than 20 years experience as exclusive eye specialists. They put science into their examinations, and the result is service and satisfaction. Consult them at St. Helens Hotel Monday, March 23rd. Scores of references. Don't forget the date. Death to headache. Glasses fitted by Drs. Lowe and Turner.

ONE-FOURTH TAXES PAID

About 10 Day Remain for Payment of Balance

Up to Thursday night County Treasurer Hattan has issued 1727 tax receipts and collected $92,815.96 of the tax roll. This amount represents only about one-fourth of the taxes to be collected and there only remains 10 days before the balance will become delinquent. The payments are now being made at a rapid rate and Judge Hattan has been compelled to employ additional help in the office. James Hunt is now busy making out tax receipts in the office.

T. J. CLEETON

Judge of Multnomah county, to succeed Lionel R. Webster, who had resigned; was elected county judge at the regular election of that year, having received the nomination upon both the Republican and Democratic tickets; was chosen president of the County Judges' and Commissioners' association of the state of Oregon for the year 1912; was chosen to succeed himself for the year 1913, and became circuit judge of Multnomah county for Department No. 6 on June 1, 1913.

Judge Cleeton's Platform: He offers himself as a candidate for supreme judge upon the Republican ticket, subject to the primary election to be held on the 15th day of May, 1914. Judge Cleeton said: "My policy, if elected, will be the same as that which I have endeavored to carry out while on the circuit bench.

"To eliminate, as far as possible, technicality and delay in the hearing and determining of cases.

"To recognize and give effort to the fact that law was made to serve the people and protect the welfare of society.

"To decide matters upon the strength and merit of the cause, rather than upon the strength of the plea,

"To consider justice superior to precedent.

"To consider and interpret law in the light of modern conditions and the needs of modern society, with justice as the sole aim and end."

Sparks From the

By T. G.
He lay upon the deep green
Beneath the shade of a tree
A dagger sticking in his breast
Far off the booming sea.
No mother there to soothe him
Those staring eyes to him
Perhaps alas, she'll never see
Just how her poor boy died.
And thus I left him lying dead
With his Maker and his God
And covered his poor form
And placed thereon some sod.
Then walked away with aching
While hot tears filled my eyes
And aware with shooting pain
Confound those old minstrel
