

CORRESPONDENCE

HOULTON.

Mr. Earl and family, late of Saavlos' Island, are now located in Cottage No. 3 on Perry avenue in West St. Helens.

J. E. Lowe of Bend, is now located in our city. Mr. Lowe is a Grand Army man, having served his country during the Civil War. He is not in good health. Should he improve in this climate, he may locate permanently here. We who have been so fortunate as to make the acquaintance of Mr. and Mrs. Lowe, extend to them a hearty welcome as pleasant and valuable acquisitions to our city. We have room for many more just like them.

Mesdames Larabee, Dell and Goodman greatly enjoyed an auto ride on Thursday last, when Mrs. H. J. Anderson took them to Portland in her new Overland.

Prof. Brehaut and family spent Saturday and Sunday in Portland, returning on the train Sunday evening. We really envy the Professor these week end trips to the city.

Messrs. White and Wilson shipped a carload of sheep and cattle to Portland on Saturday and are now buying another car of potatoes for the outside market.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Colen Crouse died Sunday night and was buried Tuesday at Warren cemetery. T. S. White had charge, a short service was held in the family home by Rev. Sanford Snyder of the M. E. church. Little Kleneth was born Sept. 14, 1915. He was never a strong child and his early departure was not surprising. The parents are comforted by the fact that "Of such is the kingdom of Heaven."

The M. E. minister was seen wandering up the creek one day last week. He returned quietly with but one lonesome little trout as the spoils of his trip. He says that he believes in the old adage of try, try, again.

The weather man must be off on a vacation or we should not have the foothills covered with snow when we should be eating strawberries and ice cream. If this thing continues long, we shall certainly demand an early and speedy investigation.

Several of our young men enjoyed an auto ride on Friday night, which might have been more serious. As it was, they managed to upset the car, with the result of quite a smash-up. By the limping of one on the street, and the disfigurement of another, they seem to have had the usual experience of inexperienced and careless joy riders. It takes a clear head and a careful, steady hand to properly handle and guide a gasoline horse. It is surprised by some that John Barleycorn was more to blame than anyone else for the accident.

A couple of our respected citizens celebrated Friday night by getting hilariously drunk. Prohibition laws cannot help men who do not want to be helped. A man's thirst must be abnormal when it causes him to bend outside the state to secure his bug juice, and his ideals of manhood, husbandry and parenthood badly vitiated when he allows himself to get so low and become so helpless that his wife has to be humiliated before the gaze of the public by going to the place of his carousal and leading him home. But then we all know that some men can drink or let it alone, just as they wish, and such men generally prove that they can drink easier than they can let it alone. Such scenes as we had last week will only hasten the day when the shipment of booze into dry territory will be absolutely prohibited.

The M. E. Sunday school is busy drilling and training for their Easter program, which will be given Sunday night in the M. E. church at 7:30.

The younger portion of the M. E. Sunday school will enjoy an Easter egg hunt at B. G. Plummer's, on Saturday afternoon. A good time is expected.

"Excuse Me." May 3rd.

THE BLUE AND GRAY

Veteran Lindsay Has Great Respect for the Men Whom He Fought

In an article last week concerning the naturalization of several aliens, we stated that the color bearer, John M. Lindsay, was a confederate soldier. This was an error, as Mr. Lindsay spent the best years of his life in defense of the stars and stripes and the honor was worthily conferred when Judge Eakin asked him to spread the colors during the ceremony of naturalization.

The following letter from Mr. Lindsay, shows him to be a man among men, a valiant soldier and will gladly take the hand of the "reb" he shot at across the stone wall at Fredericksburg and call him comrade and brother, and it is with much pleasure that we give space to his letter.

Reuben, Ore., April 16.

Editor St. Helens Mist:

Dear Sir—No, no, do not think that you have given me an insult by using the words Confederate soldier in connection with me. I faced the men that wore the gray in too many hard battles, beginning at Fredericksburg, Va., Dec. 13, 1862, and ending at Appomattox, Va., to have anything but the greatest of respect for the Confederate soldier. He fought for what he thought was right and I did the same. I honor him for his bravery as I honor the man that wore the blue, although I know that I was right. Dear sir, if you had been at Gettysburg in 1913 at the Peace reunion of Yanks and Rebs, you would have no doubts as to a reunited country. We surely buried the hatchet at that time on that bloody battlefield. Should trouble come, I know that the man from South Carolina would fight just as bravely as the man from Massachusetts and both would fight to the death. If you would refer back to August or September, 1913, you might find an article in the Mist that I wrote for the paper in regard to the reunion at Gettysburg, and know by that I wore the blue. So far as holding the flag over the new made citizens in the circuit court, I considered it a great favor and I felt proud to know that I was the one to hold the flag in front.

Very truly yours for defense.

JOHN M. LINDSAY,
Late of 116th Penn. Infantry.

WARREN.

Musical Recital

The recital given by the pupils of Mrs. F. M. Hoyt, at her Warren residence Saturday evening, was well attended and enjoyed heartily by the large and appreciative audience present. Mrs. Hoyt has been teaching music for a number of years at Warren and the very creditable entertainment given by her pupils shows the training and instruction they have received has been thorough. HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

On Friday, April 21, a show will be given by Le Barge at the High School auditorium, under the auspices of the High School. Caly Stanwood is managing the show and wants everybody to come, as the admission is only 25 cents, and anyone should be able to give that much to help the High School.

While Fannie Cooper was driving home from school the horse became excited and threw Miss Cooper from the buggy, rendering her unconscious for a short time. She is fully recovered now and back in school.

P. M. Corum, principal of the Patterson grammar school at Eugene, was a visitor here last week. He was formerly associated with Prof. Baker at Roseburg.

A joint program will be given by the boys' and girls' literary societies on May 12, at the High School building. The small fee of 10 cents will be charged for a program which will last about an hour and a half. The proceeds will be used to help clear the High School debt.

The ball game with Scappoose was a great success, the High School winning 16 to 5. This is the first time that Scappoose High School has been beaten by a St. Helens team, but this was the largest score of any. Following is the box score of the St. Helens team:

Table with 10 columns: Player Name, AB, R, H, PO, A, E. Rows include Wellington, Stanwood, Walker, McVey, Davies, Malmth, Faxon, Southard, Perry, and Umpire, Hayes.

Merna Yeomans is expected to visit school at the end of this week. Dale Perry intends to enter the state track meet on May 13.

Adelaide Adams desires to know who was the author of the Bible. No one in English III class can name them all except Lester Wellington, and he refuses to do so.

Walter Zysett is very jubilant over his great increase in spelling grades. His grades have come up from 17 to 54 per cent.

Clarence Goin has been absent this week on account of poison oak.

Mesdames Davies and M. J. Rutherford were visitors at school on Wednesday afternoon.

HIGH SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT

All St. Helens is to have a real treat. On Friday, April 21, 1916, Le Barge is coming to the High School auditorium. This is given under the auspices of the St. Helens High School, who report it to be one of the best entertainments of the season. A few of the many things he will do, are impersonating, fiddling and comedy stunts.

Everybody is invited to come and bring their friends. Help the High School along.

AUTOS SMASH

Sunday afternoon the car driven by Mr. Harns of Warren, and the car driven by Everett Harrison of this city, in attempting to pass one another at a narrow place on the Warren road, came together with a smash. Both cars were badly damaged but none of the occupants were injured.
