Don't compare St. Helens dairy milk and cream without a trial. Phone 107. Mrs. J. Jeffery of Portland, spent the week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Mann. Jas. Hudson brought in a coyote scalp last week for which he received the usual $1.50. Miss Lulu Parnley of St. Johns, spent the week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Stone. The Scappoose and Trenholm correspondence was received too late for this week's issue of the Mist. Mrs. Frank Wood of Portland, spent several days the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wellington. H. O. Strom of the Strand, has rented the Saxton property and his family arrived here this week. Mr. and Mrs. James Rice of Clatskanie, spent the week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Morton. New Summer Millinery now on display at the Hat Shop. Prices below any ever before offered in St. Helens. Senator Geo. M. McBride came down from Portland Saturday and was an interested spectator at the launching. Guy Lane was killed Wednesday, when he was struck twice by a log at the Kerry camp near Mist. His home was in Nehalem and he was a member of the Mist ball team. I am now making many different kinds of Candies. Special sales every Saturday and Sunday. All kinds at 25c per pound in pound lots. Royal Confectionery and Candy Kitchen. We regret very much that we were absent from the office Saturday when E. B. Hall of the Ridgefield Reflector called. He was over here to witness the launching. Call again, neighbor. To buy pure, wholesome and unadulterated Candies, go to the Royal. Visit my candy kitchen, where all kinds are made in the good old town of St. Helens. Royal Confectionery and Candy Kitchen. L. A. Peterson of Mist, Ore., who is at a Portland hospital being treated for an aggravated case of blood poisoning, is now getting along nicely, according to reports received by his sister, Mrs. Elmer Blackburn, and expects to visit St. Helens, where he has many friends, before returning to his Mist home. The Inter-City League schedule has been changed and Montavilla will cross bats with the St. Helens boys in this city Sunday. Be sure and see this game as the home boys are determined to win. Come out and boost and watch them do it. The steamer Georgiana is again on the Portland-Astoria run. During the past few weeks she has been completely overhauled and repainted and Captain Hosford declares that she will make faster time than ever. The Georgiana will make a daylight run, leaving Astoria at 2 p. m., and arriving at Portland at 9 p. m. May 3rd. "Excuse Me."

Lunch at Mason's. Mrs. M. E. Miller was a Portland visitor Tuesday. Nick Blumensadt of Rainier, attended the launching Saturday. Mrs. Jack Tunzat spent several days in Portland this week. Mr. Avery of Eugene, was one of the interested spectators at the launching Saturday. G. L. Tarbell of Yankton, the "fair" man, was transacting business in the city Tuesday. Mrs. L. R. Farris and children left Wednesday for Napavine, where they will make their future home. Remember our Candy Sales on Saturday and Sunday. 25c per pound in pound lots. Royal Confectionery. E. B. Piper, managing editor of the Oregonian, was among the Portland excursionists to witness the launching. Ladies, be sure to see the Easter offerings at the Hat Shop, now located in Columbia Rooming House building. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Delaney of Eugene, were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Hamilton, manager of the Standard Oil Company's Portland branch, was in the city Tuesday looking after the business of the company he represents. J. H. Sheldon was down from Portland on Monday looking after his large business interests here. Incidentally he renewed his subscription to the Mist. Thomas Crowley fell from a scaffold on the City of Portland at the shipyard last Friday, and broke his leg. He was taken immediately to a hospital in Portland. The Congregational Ladies' Aid will hold a sale of cooked food, hot cross buns and fancy articles, aprons, etc. The latter articles are priced at 50 cents or under. At Guild hall, Saturday, April 22, at 2 p. m. Mrs. John A. Jeffrey, wife of a prominent Portland attorney, was down to witness the launching of the City of Portland and was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Mann. Phil Metschan, Jr., manager of the Imperial hotel, with wife and party, motored down from Portland to witness the launching of the vessel which bears the name of his home city. Many of our business men regretted that the launching was scheduled for Saturday, as they were unable to get away from the usual Saturday run of business. Easter will be fittingly observed on the evening of April 23rd, at the Methodist church, by the rendition of a sacred concert, at which will appear two new soloists, in addition to the regular choir. You are cordially invited to be present. The Guild had their election for officers last Tuesday afternoon, at which the following were elected: Mrs. M. E. Miller, re-elected president; Mrs. Edwin Ross, re-elected vice president; Mrs. J. Tunzat, secretary; Mrs. Robt. Dixon, re-elected treasurer. J. N. Rice of Clatskanie, who from 1896 to 1900, was sheriff of Columbia county, was last Friday and Saturday attending to business pertaining to his logging interests here.

ADDITIONAL SPORTING NEWS

A Few Personals For the benefit of those residents who have come here during the last year, we wish to state that both Joe Day and L. G. Ross went to the opening game Wednesday. This will not be news to the old timers, because they all know both offices of these well known professional men are closed every time Portland opens the season on her home lot. Of course we would expect to find the doctor at some Portland hospital and Joe Day arguing a case in one of the Multnomah courts, at least that is the impression they try to leave here. During the exciting ninth Sunday, when St. Helens had two men on the bases and a good chance to tie up the score, Harry Bennett became so excited that he stood up and began making motions like he was stropping a razor when he is excited, but Harry is as a usual thing not of an excitable nature. Rees Hall attended the Grocers' convention at the Vaughn street grounds Wednesday. Harry Bennett is much enthused as to the prospects he has for making a fortune in the mushroom business. He has already planted two beds and expects to have mushrooms within the next forty days. It seems to us that instead of the mushroom crop, most any other barber would be more interested in the mo-hair crop. Councilman Ballagh went to Portland Wednesday to get prices and samples of hose for the local fire department. Not being used to driving his car in the crowded streets of the big city, he left it at the baseball park and walked up the stairway to the grand stand. Rod and Gun Club Scores Sunday the St. Helens Rod and Gun Club had another interesting shoot. The club now has 15 members and from the interest being taken in the weekly shoot, it is probable that the membership will grow rapidly. The Score Birds Broke C. D. Sutherland 50 41 Ben Copeland 50 40 S. Devers 50 36 E. Lundgren 50 35 E. Harrison 50 33 C. Stevens 50 32 J. T. Taber 25 16 Reese Hall 25 16 E. I. Ballagh 25 17 H. Esterbrook 25 17 A. Kelly 25 15 If they were real birds, Sutherland would come back with enough for all of his friends. One or two more practices and Copeland will take the high score away from Sutherland. An ammunition concern has offered a handsome trophy for the marksman hanging up the highest score for a series of shoots.
