

MIST MISTINGS

Mrs. W. R. Dinham is the guest of friends in Seattle.

Mrs. James Dart left Tuesday for Seaside to enjoy an outing by the sea.

Big sacrifice on Summer Dress Goods. I intend to clean up. Noah's Ark.

Mrs. J. M. Hanson spent a couple of days in Portland this week shopping.

Try the Mist printery for artistic work. Our prices are very reasonable.

Our great hat sale still on. Come now and make your selection. Noah's Ark.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Casratt left Wednesday for Seaside, where they will enjoy life for a brief spell.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Rutherford, accompanied by Mrs. J. W. Allen, motored to Portland Tuesday.

A commercial establishment in St. Helens wishes the services of a bright, energetic young lady. Good wages to right party. Apply Mist office for information.

J. E. Ketel from Neilsville, Wis., arrived here Wednesday to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Ketel. This is Mr. Ketel's first visit to this city and the first visit to his parents in twelve years.

The St. Helens band is in trouble again. Mr. Wykoff, the leader, who has been employed at the shipyard for some time, has given up the work and gone elsewhere. So the boys are "up a stump" just at present.

Secretary of State Olcott has made the apportionment of the state funds for the benefit of county fairs. Under the law one-twelfth of a mill is levied for that purpose. The amount apportioned to Columbia county is $569.29.

Loganberry juice bids fair to banish grape juice from the market. The supply is not equal to the demand. The plant at Salem is shipping a carload daily. A carload consists of more than 2,000 cases of 24 bottles each, and its retail value is about $20,000. Heretofore the berry has proved unprofitable and many of the fields were grubbed up. But now since it is converted into juice there is a ready market for them.

Special sale on Baskets next week, starting Monday. Choice of 200 baskets, 25c. Noah's Ark.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen R. Metsker left Wednesday morning for Tacoma, where they will spend their vacation. Mr. Metsker will visit Spokane and take a whirl at Uncle Sam's land lottery. They will be absent during the balance of July.

Raymond Deavers met with quite a painful accident on Friday of last week. He was engaged in chopping wood when his ax slipped and cut a lengthy gash in his hand. It required several stitches to draw the cut together. Dr. Wade dressed the wound.

County Superintendent Allen returned from Salem Saturday evening, after attending a business session in the capital city of examining papers. Thirty-three of the thirty-five county superintendents of the state were present and assisted in the work. Over 10,000 papers were passed on.

Lloyd W. Shishler of Harrisburg, has been engaged as one of the high school teachers for the St. Helens school. He is a graduate of Willamette university and comes specially well recommended. He is an athlete and also a good musician. There is still one vacancy, a successor to Prof. Sten.

Rev. Sanford Snyder of West St. Helens, was taken quite sick while in Portland Monday and was carried to the Y. M. C. A., where he remained until evening. He was taken to the train in a taxi and reached home the same evening. Heart trouble was the cause of his illness.

Postmistress Dodd informs us that the sale of stamps for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1916, was $4,147.47. For the year ending June 30, 1915, it was $3,674.93, an increase of about 13 per cent over last year. This is a splendid showing and we predict the increase for the coming year will be much greater.

The fourth annual buyer's week in Portland is scheduled for August 7 to 12. This is an event that is regarded with a good deal of importance to business men and the meetings are usually well attended. Special rates have been secured on all roads and merchants purchasing goods to the amount of $500 will have their railroad fare refunded.

Big sale on Millinery still continues. Noah's Ark.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Day were Portland visitors Thursday.

Crepe combination suits, were $1.25, now 89c. Noah's Ark.

Lost—Purse containing 2 keys and small change. Leave at this office.

Miss Lois Dibble of Rainier, while on her way home from Los Angeles, is the guest of Mrs. A. F. Barnett.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Boklage of St. Paul, Minn., and Mrs. Massinger are visiting with their sister, Mrs. Geo. H. Shinn.

Clyde Sutherland accidentally cut his foot at the ankle joint Sunday. It was dressed by Dr. Edwin Ross. It was not a serious injury and Mr. Sutherland is on deck as usual.

Louie Rosasco now rides around in a Ford, and the old nag has to take a back seat. Mr. Rosasco says that when he is in a hurry he simply hits the high places and is back before he could get his horse hitched up.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. M. Ross, Dr. L. G. and Mrs. Ross returned Wednesday from their trip to Seattle. They drove overland and report the roads pretty bad until Chehalis is reached. They had to make many detours on account of improvements being made. They had pleasant weather going and coming but it rained every day during their visit in the Sound city.

The Polk County Taxpayers' League has decided to recall the members of the county court and have placed candidates in the field as their successors. Whether the recall is justified or not, Polk county is picking up a hot number that will smoulder and burn for years to come. However, the best way to bring about the repeal of an obnoxious law is to enforce it.

While it has only been a few days since the rain ceased, dust in clouds roll down the streets and merchants are complaining of the dirty dust. We heard talk some time ago of a possibility of the streets being oiled but as yet it is only talk. It is to be hoped that action will be taken soon. We move and second that the streets be oiled at once.

Deputy Game Warden Brown spent several days in this section during the past week. He is much pleased over the fact that chasing deer with hounds has ceased and deer are more plentiful and less wild. The other day five of them made their appearance on the highway. The warden requests all hunters to continue to be real sportsmen.

John Bowd, a newcomer who has located at Yankton, was a caller at this office Thursday and contributed $3.50 to the D. A. R. relief fund which is being collected by the Mist. This is a generous contribution and the Mist takes much pleasure in acknowledging its receipt. Who will be the next to enlist his name on the honor roll?

Fred Ketel, who is here on a visit to his parents from Trout Lake, Wash., is a professional mountaineer and has made the summit of Mt. Adams 22 times. There was still plenty of snow when he left, July 6. During the winter it was eight feet deep on the level in town and three miles up it averaged 15 feet. Trout Lake is swarming with trout and he brought 12 over a foot in length home with him which he caught before breakfast and could have caught more but he was in a hurry.

"Mickey" McDonald and Sharky left Thursday in the former's auto for Wenatchee, to enter their names in the land drawing. They wanted the company of two more but the rest of our citizens either had land or did not care for any.

COMING EVENTS

One of the mysteries of the Laasy studio is how the dam in the Valeska Suratt production of "The Immigrant" is blown up and a big house completely wrecked without injury to Theodore Roberts, the distinguished star, who was in the building at the time. There are exactly five people connected with the studio who know how this wonderful effect was obtained and they won't tell. Sufficient to say, it is vivid in its realism when it appears on the screen. "The Immigrant" is a Paramount picture and will be shown at the Strand on Wednesday, the 26th.

"I don't want to buy you; I want to hire your ability," is the shrewd wording Frank Grandell gives his offer of $15,000 to "Boss" Hoke in return for the latter's guaranteeing Grandell's election to the mayoralty. "Boss" Hoke's shrewd trick whereby he gets the money without rendering the service, and then completely reverses himself and restores the money to Grandell's wife with whom he is secretly infatuated is but one of many tense situations in "The Reform Candidate," starring Maelyn Arbuckle, which comes to the Strand Theater Monday, the 24th.

Mabel Tallafiero, the bewitching and beautiful young Metro star, will be seen at the Strand Theater Sunday, the 23rd, in "Her Great Price," a five part Metro wonderplay. The production is mounted on an elaborate scale and contains scores of novel and unusual scenes. The story abounds with interest, is intense in its appeal, and teems with startling surprises. In many respects it will prove a sensation.
