The manager of the Gem theatre has been able to secure two first release photoplays, the Behaven Comedies series and Liberty serial. We are very much pleased to announce to our patrons that we will soon be equipped with a full week's program of the latest and most up-to-date pictures. Two of our exhibits now are first release. Come high, but must have 'em, that's all.

The Strand theatre, which has become known as the "Home of Better Than Best" programs because of the high grade of pictures shown there, is making a change this week as respects the Thursdays and Saturdays program. It will not only have the highest class of photoplays on Sunday, Monday and Wednesday as at present, when Metro and Paramount are shown, but also on Thursday and Saturday hereafter. The management believes that one attends the theatre not to see the best for 5 cents or 10 cents, but the best in pictures, and where the admission is 5 and 15, as it is at the Strand on these nights, those who attend can see the best to be obtained. This coming Saturday the program will consist of "Stingaree" in "The Girl from Frisco;" a four-part drama, "Who Killed Joe Merrion," and a comedy to complete the program. A program lasting one hour and forty-five minutes.
