HISTORY OF CAR; MAKES LONG RUN

Last November 22 the Maxwell world's champion non-stop car started on its epoch-making run in southern California, under the sanction of the American Automobile Association. On the following January 5 the motor was voluntarily stopped, a total of 22,622.3 miles having been covered during the 44-day grind. The remarkable record was made under the most stringent rules of the American Automobile Association and the strictest observation.

But the termination of the non-stop run by no means ended the demonstration of the power and endurance of the Maxwell, for immediately thereafter the car was literally driven all over the country. The most notable test to which the car was subjected was a comprehensive tour of the rough and severe country of Arizona, Nevada and Mexico. Subsequently the car was driven up the full length of California, Oregon and Washington, over all kinds of road conditions and into Canada, where it was seized by the customs officials.

To date the Maxwell non-stop champion has been driven a total distance of more than 35,000 miles. It has established an international reputation for mileage, power and endurance. The motor has never been touched since the day it started out to break the world's non-stop record. The only adjustments that have been made to it are the replacement of one or two broken wind shields and the ordinary brake adjustments which are required from time to time for safety's sake.

It is the intention of the Maxwell Motor Sales Corporation to continue the car in service. It will immediately resume its itinerary, which includes a call on every one of the 2,500 Maxwell dealers in the United States. The motor will not be touched in any manner. Today the car runs smoother and sweeter than it ever did in its unusual history. By those who have ridden in and driven it, it is declared the car today has more power, speed and flexibility than it ever did. Like old wine, it seems to be improving with age. Its future history, more than its interesting past, merits the attention of all motordom.

COST OF LIVING STILL SOARS

Wholesalers in Portland have withdrawn quotations on many of the staple foodstuffs. During the past week all goods have advanced. Flour has taken another upward shoot and all canned goods have also advanced. Beans, one of the staple articles in any grocery store, have gone from 5 cents to 10 cents, and if the war continues many months longer 12 to 15 cents will be what the American consumer will have to pay. The problem of making enough to pay the groceryman is getting to be serious, and it is not your merchant's fault, for he is exceedingly lucky to get the goods at any price.

FIRST WASHINGTON SHINGLES TO JAPAN

A recent shipment of Washington red cedar shingles to Japan, made by the St. Paul & Tacoma Lumber Company, is said to mark the introdustion of America's most popular roofing in the Japanese empire.

The shingles were shipped green and are for the roof of the new home of one of the most influential Japanese bankers in Tokio, who is said to have been educated in this country. In ordering, the Japanese buyer specified a certain brand of shingle which has been nationally advertised by the West Coast Lumbermen's Association.

Obeyed.

"Arthur Smith," said the teacher, impatiently, "what is it you are fidgeting with?"

Although the lad colored up, he did not reply. The class "squealer" however, was ready, as usual, with full information.

"It's a pin he's got," he said triumphantly.

"Take it away from him and bring it here," said the instructor. The offending pin was taken to her, and there was no more trouble from Arthur. Presently it was the youngster's turn to read, but instead of standing up as the other students had done, he sat still and looked frightened.

"Well, why don't you proceed with the reading?" exclaimed the teacher. "If you misbehave any more, I shall make an example of you."

"Please, teacher," stuttered little Arthur, "I can't stand up, 'cause the pin you took keeps my pants up."
