INTEREST NOTES OF THE RED CROSS

Story of the Poilu Who Was Afraid

The worker at an American Red Cross canteen in France has found a poilu who was afraid. You find poilus everywhere in France. You find Red Cross canteens at important railroad junctions in and about Paris. But a poilu in or out of the canteens who was afraid? Bah!

Yet here's the story.

Somewhere in France this American woman, after showing the poilu where to wash and after serving him a comfortable hot meal, asked him when his train left. It was then midnight.

"Four o'clock," was the answer.

"There is a comfortable dormitory where you can sleep until your train comes," said the Red Cross lady.

"Oh, yes, Madame; I have seen it, but I am afraid."

"Afraid?" the canteen worker gasped. She had never heard such words from a poilu.

"Afraid I should never wake up to catch my train; it is so comfortable down there."

The canteen worker looked relieved. Her ideal of the poilu was not shattered.

"Mr. Poilu," she explained, laughing, "don't be afraid. Go and sleep, for you will find a boy scout on hand to wake you at any time you wish."

In the Northwestern Division of the American Red Cross, there are 800,000 members, divided as follows: Washington, 436,433; Oregon, 246,787; Idaho, 98,975, and Alaska, 19,312. This is a large number but there is always room for more. If you are not a member, become one.

That keen interest in Red Cross work is manifested throughout the islands as well as in America itself was emphasized recently in the receipt of $248 from the leper settlement at Molokai, where 98 of the colonists subscribed sums in amounts from 50 cents to $12.

Twenty-one thousand seventy-nine knitted articles were distributed by Lewis A. McArthur, field director of the Northwest Division, in the camps of the Columbia river district in January. The shipments, which came from the Portland, Eugene and Astoria Chapters, were sent to Vancouver Barracks and Fort Stevens. Nearly 10,000 sweaters and 9,000 pairs of socks were used.

Red Cross House to Be Built at All Cantonments.

A Red Cross house soon will be constructed in each of the army and navy training camps.

It is intended primarily to be a lounge and rest haven for convalescent soldiers. It will also be an administration center for the field director of the Red Cross, an emergency lodging for summoned relatives of those "rookies" dangerously ill, and for Red Cross nurses and staffs. A new headquarters for all Red Cross activities in the camp hospital will be provided by the Red Cross house, and it will serve also to develop to full efficiency the Red Cross communication service, through which families and friends of soldiers can obtain prompt, accurate, and detailed information as to their welfare. This service covers the camps in America, as well as the battle front.

One of the first of these structures to be built will be at Camp Meade, for which bids soon will be opened at the office of the department of military relief of the American Red Cross. Construction work in all the other camps and cantonments will be rushed.

For convalescents, many new comforts will be provided by the Red Cross house. These will include a solarium, or "sun parlor," a glassed-in porch, and a stage, upon which "movies" and other entertainments can be given. A billiard room, kitchen, reading, reception, and committee rooms, in addition to a large assembly hall, also will be located on the first floor. The second floor will be given over entirely to bedrooms. Each building will be 100x100 feet.

CANDIDATE FOR CLERK

To the Voters of Columbia County.

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of County Clerk, on the Republican ticket, at the coming primary election. If nominated and elected, my policy will be for retrenchment in county expenses with no patronage to relatives. I will not favor any increase in salary during my incumbency. I have no corporation, clique or coterie to serve, but will serve the people. If I receive the nomination and am elected, I will not hold the office for more than two terms.

Respectfully submitted,
HAROLD P. ROSS.
