According to Frank Wilkins, who has kept a close tab on the river for many years, the Columbia this year will not do any great damage. While the river has been raising rapidly during the past week, Mr. Wilkins says there is no reason to feel uneasy as to flood conditions, for after ten days or two weeks, the water will begin to fall. There is not much snow in the mountains, consequently, a flood is unlikely. Wilkins usually guesses it right and this year he is positive that his forecast is correct.

JOHN A. WILLIAMS IS A BENEDICT

Takes Bride Who Was His Sweetheart in Boyhood Days

John A. Williams, until a few months ago vice-president and treasurer of the Columbia County Lumber company is a benedict. Word has just reached St. Helens' friends that on May 2nd, he was united in marriage to Miss Deborah Evans of Racine, Wisconsin. The marriage is the outcome of a romance which began in Chicago 30 years ago. Mr. Williams boarded at the home of the bride's mother and fell in love with Miss Evans. They were engaged to be married but before the wedding date, there was a lover's quarrel and Williams packed up and left for California. Neither of the couple ever married, perhaps always cherishing the hope that time would bring them together. When Williams sold out his interest in the mill and went east, he renewed the acquaintance of his sweetheart of boyhood days. A reconciliation was effected and the long postponed wedding solemnized.

The Racine (Wisconsin) News gives the following account of the happy event:

The marriage of Miss Deborah Evans, 1418 Park avenue, to John A. Williams of St. Helens, Ore., took place in Chicago at high noon on Wednesday. In the presence of a few intimate friends the marriage service was read by the Rev. E. F. Williams, pastor emeritus of the Wellington Avenue Congregational church, Chicago. In the east parlor of the Palmer House, which had been tastily decorated with pink roses and pink and white carnations, dinner was served to the wedding party in the dining room of the Palmer House, after which Mr. and Mrs. Williams left for a short wedding trip. The bride wore a traveling suit of dark blue serge, a tan hat and a corsage bouquet of pink roses. She was unattended.

The announcement of the wedding comes as a complete surprise to the many friends of the bride and groom, both of whom are well known here. Mrs. Williams has lived here for a number of years with her brothers, John and Ben Evans, and Mr. Williams was engaged in the mercantile business here for several years. He left this city for the west about 15 years ago.

The bride left for Chicago on Tuesday afternoon, accompanied by Mrs. L. M. Merrill, of Rochester, Wis.

OCTOGENERIAN TAKES YOUTHFUL BRIDE

Hezikah Caples, pioneer resident of Columbia City, was united in marriage to Miss Emma L. Hanson at Cathlamet, Washington on Tuesday, June 4th. The bride has been the housekeeper for Mr. Caples for the past several years and is well known in Columbia City.

The groom is past 80 years of age and Mrs. Caples is 22 years of age. The happy couple were in St. Helens Wednesday, returning from a short wedding trip. They will make their home on the large estate of the groom at Caples Landing, which is across the river from Columbia City.

On account of the very poor water pressure for the past few days, the linotype and press in the Mist office which are furnished power by a water motor, were out of commission a great part of the time, which is responsible for the Mist being a little late. The low pressure in the water main is a serious matter and should be investigated at once. If there should be a fire, when the pressure is as low as it has been little could be done to save the property.
