WARREN

All of Warren's social set attended the R. Patrick's party given under the auspices of the First Social club, consisting of Misses Nora and Myrtle Larson, Miss Chase and A. E. Lund, at Erickson's hall on Monday evening. All the young people attending and a social program consisting of music, songs and games was carried on. The hall was tastefully decorated with green and white were Ireland's emblem. It was a very pleasant evening, with refreshments were served and all pronounced the affair a decided success.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hammerbeck of Portland, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Engstrom, parents of Mrs. Hammerbeck.

Miss Nora and Myrtle Larson and Miss Chase visited friends in Portland on Saturday.

Miss Berglund of Portland, spent Sunday with her parents here.

Extensive preparations are being made by the ladies of the church, under the supervision of Mrs. C. R. Elvick, assisted by Mrs. J. E. Miller and Mrs. Gust Isaacson, for the entertainment of guests at the open meeting of the groups on Saturday evening. Delegations will be present from all surrounding groups, besides the entire membership of the R. Helens chapter of commerce.

A. Benson is very particular of how his animals are and tries to keep them in proper condition, but he has not put one over on him one day last week. Brother Benson takes much pride in driving to St. Helens with his horse and buggy and started on a business trip to the county seat on the day mentioned. His favorite horse makes her nest in the most opportune place and Benson did not look under the seat of his buggy, nor under the back cover. With his humming of tunes as he drove along he heard or saw nothing out of the ordinary. He hitched his horse at the Plaza square here and lifted the back of the buggy cover and made a backward jump, while Mrs. Eng escaped, coughing and puffing the papers of her escapee. E. A. Galt, who has grown quite fond of driving R. Helens Best Butter and drinking the buttermilk, came to the aid of the farmer and chased the hen around the Plaza in a mad desire to catch her. In their mad fight over Percy Erickson's fowls beds and lawn of the county and were joined by some of the county officials, while Judge Fullerton adjusted his glasses and passed upon the scene from his official window in the court house. The hen was captured and the egg she laid was given to Buttermilk Galt for his efforts, which egg he proposes to put into the cake he is baking for the groups mass meeting. Now, Mr. Benson secretly wishes the seat of his buggy.

A. E. Tardiff exhibited four head of his fine Shorthorn stock at the Tardiff Livestock show last Saturday, carrying off a large number of premiums. His herd is being developed very rapidly and is fast becoming one of the best Shorthorn herds in Oregon.

The members of the Agricultural Society here are Elmer Paulsen, Mrs. M. H. Heggell, Mrs. S. A. Erickson, Mrs. Gust Isaacson and A. E. Morris as chairman. Warren will secure her quota.

The accommodating federal management of the railroads recently decided that the railroad station at Warren did not "pay" and discontinued the agent and closed the station, depriving the Warren people of express privileges as well as station service. Warren groups promptly took up the matter with the federal manager and secured the re-opening of the station and the appointment of C. E. Erickson as agent.

Superintendent E. E. Fay of the Willis E. Clark farm at Newberg, Oregon, visited the Oregon Berkshire Company's breeding ranch at Warren the past week and purchased a foundation herd for the Clark farm, also two bred sows for the Thomas Jensen farm at Dundee. The sows bought for Mr. Clark included a Galtiger of Fatmores Jewel, a stump bred sow purchased by Mr. Jensen at the Oregon state fair, and two fine daughters of Premier's Union, a sow that came to the Berkshire company from the Oregon Agricultural college herd. Mr. Fay also contracted with the Berkshire Co. for an especial herd which will be the first herd of this famous blood line to be bred actual service in the northwest. The Berkshire company is adding to its herd another sow from the McCullough herd of Indiana, bred for April Jensen at Escondido's Improvement, a son of imported Escondido. The Warren ranch is sending out a large number of breeding animals this spring to make room for a hundred weanlings and girls.
