FARM NOTES

Farm Help Grows Scarce

very large call for trained farm A very large call for trained farm help is experienced even at this early date, reports J. W. Brewer, farm holp specialist for the foderal and O. A. C. agricultural extension. "If this is the condition now, what will be the situation when spring work is on in full blast and farmers need help in a hurry?" he asks. "Many persons predicted a large surplus of all kinds of labor, and thought help would be easy to get. Send your ap-plications to our Portland office and tall particularly what kind of work tell particularly what kind of work you want done."

Testing Picks Good Cows

The 600 cows tested in Oregon in November averaged 556 pounds of milk carrying 27.15 pounds fat. The best herd averaged 779 pounds of milk with 45.88 pounds fat. The best cow gave 1512 pounds of milk carrying 75.60 pounds fat. Her record in milk was 2½ times and in fat almost three times that of the two or almost three times that of average untested cow, six of poorest having been sent to the butcher for being 10 better, E. L. Westover of the agricultural col-lege has charge of the testing.

Oregon History Endorsed

Oregon history and resources are recommended for more careful study to clubs, chatauquas, high schools and colleges, in a resolution adopted by the recent legislature. Approval of John B. Horner's "Oregon" is indicated in this resolution introduced by Representative Stewart and Mrs.
Thompson, Mr. Horner, professor of history at O. A. C., knew personally many of his characters and had no small part in shaping the events he sketches so cloverly.

America to Feed Germany

Of special interest to farmers throughout the United States is the report recently released from the de-partment of agriculture, regarding the food situation in Germany, and the statement that that country is expecting to secure the greater part these supplies from the United States:

Germany will need a vast quanti-ty of food from abroad during the coming year and she hopes to get it largely from America, according to reports which come from our army of occupation now on enemy territory. It is estimated that among the supplies Germany will need during the next year are three and a half million tons of grain, one million tons of meat, one million tons of fat Experts figure that this food will cost five billion marks. The present value of the mark is about eleven and one-half cents, which would be something less than six hundred million dollars.

semi-official German review of the food situation says:

"The deficit in grain for 1918 is 2,000,000 tons. The crop for 1919 could never have been sufficient, but since Posen, which supplies one-tenth of the grain produced in Ger-many, is added to Poland, the deficit becomes serious. At the present mo-ment there are considerable supplies in government control centers, but

"The fat problem is dangerous.
The supply has gone back 33 per cent from the supply of 1917. Milk is dangerously scarce, the situation being worst in the Rhineland and Westphalia. For the supply of po-tatees the loss of Posen is serious. Eleven billion, seven hundred million pounds of potatoes are needed for the cities. Our potatoes will be completely used up by the middle of May. The sugar supply is very inadequate, likewise the fish supply. Fertilizer cannot be obtained, as the factories lack coal and lime."

How Germany is to pay for this food she wants from us has not been decided but there is a growing idea. that payments are to be made by the sale of foreign securities held by Germany.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Don't use a yellow soap in shampooing white hair and always add two or three drops of bluing to the water.

No doubt some one will be covering coat hangers. Instead of a silk covering, cover the hanger with velvet. You will find that garments will not slip from the hangers.

Be careful not to let a button or book remain unused upon any articles of clothing that are no longer worn. Hooks and buttons will be-come scarcer as the demand for all kinds of metal increases. In fact, there is even now a dearth of that necessary adjunct to woman's toilet—the humble hairpin.

Keep a bunch of straws, such as are served with ice cream soda, in the sick room as they can be bent to conveniently serve to a patient water, milk or light liquid food, either hot or cold and can be destroyed after using. The youngsters can lee be day for the publication of surimons induced to take difficult medicine as prescribed by the Order of Publiby this novel method.

To keep birds from eating your garden take an old rope or stout cord, tie it to the fence across the garden so it will hang low. Hang newspapers on it just like you would hang out a washing. Use clothes pins. The wind will blow the papers and they make a noise which will frighten away all birds.

It is impossible to keep the baby dry on the chest during the early teething period. I find it an excellent plan to pin a dress shield with sliny appearance which is so objec-tionable.

Plenty of Flu-No Deaths

Latouche, Alacka, reports 200 cases of influenza in camp with the only doctor and the only nurse being the first ones on the sick list, but there were no deaths. This is reported as the only place in the United States where influenza was epidemic and no deaths resulted.
