"The WALKOFFS"

A satire of high social life, of the follies and foibles of the rich

In which a woman struggles to find her noble self amidst alluring vices of the smart set

The modern Romance of a Southern knight who lays siege to the castles of New York snobbery and wins his lady fair

Society's butterflies in brilliant and bizarre satire.

The tense story of a woman who loved the man she tried to hate.

The story of a woman's struggle against the temptation to sell her soul for wealth and ease.

A sparkling gem of modern comedy in a setting of luxurious and magnificent wealth.

DOGS ARE THE BEST JUDGES OF HUMAN NATURE

A ferocious, outlaw dog that had torn and bitten a score of men had been brutally beaten and injured to subdue his viciousness. The animal was chained to a tree. David Raine, who loved all dumb creatures, ventured close to this savage beast and to the horror of its owner reached down and patted Barge, the outlaw. It was an unheard of thing! The animal cowered and made friends with this fearless youth. They understood each other and in "The Courage of Marge O'Doone" this dog plays an important part. More than once he saves the life of David Raine.

"The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come"

Picturized from the famous novel by John Fox, Jr.

This is a fascinating, absorbing romance of the Blue Grass country at the time of the Civil War. As a novel, "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come" ranks with "The Crisis" and the best of modern fiction. As a photoplay, it is said to excel any story of those stirring times before and during the great struggle between the Blue and the Gray. A classic, this, and one you cannot afford to miss.
