

OVER THE COUNTY

WARREN

Mr. Benduro, who has been ill, was taken to a Portland hospital last week where he is slowly convalescing.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Duncan and Ray Duncan of Portland spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Duncan.

The many friends of Miss Laura Fair are pleased to see her completely recovered from her recent illness. Her appearance at grange was heartily welcomed.

Haying is nearly through and the crop has proven a bounteous one. Grain and hay crops are good, but vegetable and garden truck is very late and backward.

H. Nordin, son of A. Nordin, will leave in a few days for Texas where he expects to remain for several months. The Nordin family came from Texas to Warren.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Slothower of Vancouver, Washington, spent Sunday with their brother and sister, A. Slothower. Mr. Slothower is one of the heavy prune growers of Clarke county, Washington.

County Fruit Inspector Morris is spending a week or ten days in the Nehalem valley. He is accompanied by Raymond Harms, Alpheus Wellborn and H. O. Morris and is summer pruning and cleaning trees of the logging companies that have been neglected for years.

Death visited the home of Albert Anderson on Wednesday when the scythe bearer took Mrs. Anderson, his helpmate and companion. Mrs. Anderson has been a sufferer for some time but apparently had improved somewhat. The Andersons are only residents of Warren for a couple of years, having come here from North Dakota.

The regular business meeting of the grange was held on Saturday night. A good attendance was present and matters of importance were discussed. Marked dissatisfaction was manifest at the continued absence of some of the officers while the members were so regular in attendance, and the opinion was expressed that their resignation should be asked for. The Morton boys of Bachelor Flat were admitted to membership.

CLATSKANIE

(From the Chief.)

The many friends of Mrs. J. J. Geary will be pleased to know she is so far recovered from her recent illness as to be able to return home, after spending several weeks in the hospital at Portland. She returned home last evening.

Miss Ada Hand and Clyde Holmes, both of this city, were united in marriage on Saturday evening last, Rev. S. Darlow Johnson officiating. The ceremony was performed at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Holmes of Delena.

Miss Eva Baylis has accepted a position in the postoffice made vacant by the resignation of Miss Catherine Sutherland who, with her mother and small brother, George, has gone to Seattle to spend the summer with Mr. Sutherland who is working in that city.

Mrs. Nevada McDonald and H. Kratz are having cement walks placed in front of their adjoining property on Bridge street. This completes the improvement of the street on both sides of its entire length. Thus we are moving, if not exactly exceeding the speed limit.

A. E. Harvey sold another complete Case threshing outfit during the past week. Bert West, of Scappoose, being the thrifty farmer to thus add to his farm equipment. These outfits, aside from their material benefit to their possessors, are going to be a large factor in the development of the county. They spell success and prosperity in capital letters.

Rev. S. Darlow Johnson left on Sunday afternoon last for San Francisco, where he will spend three weeks in attendance at a pastors' training school conducted under the auspices of the Home Mission board of the Methodist Episcopal church as a part of the Centenary program. Rev. Johnson was one of the ten pastors in the Oregon conference to receive a scholarship, carrying with it all expenses incident to the trip. Rev. A. S. Hisey, of St. Helens, also received a scholarship and accompanied Mr. Johnson on the trip.

YANKTON

Relatives are visiting at the home of Rudolph Kapples.

TRENHOLM

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Smith has Mr. Smith, Sr., as a visitor this week. He is past eighty years old, but is very lively for one of that age. He enjoys the sight of the tall timber and seems to think a great deal of the country. He hails from Portland.

A bang up good picnic was held Sunday July 11, at the Clatskanie camping grounds. While old Sol refused to shine, it didn't make a bit of difference with the crowd. Their good nature refused to be dampened with a cloudy day. The kodaks were out doing their best at time exposures. The idea was originated by Mrs. C. M. Smith, who with her family and father-in-law enjoyed the whole affair. Those who braved the cloudy day, with baskets and coffee-pots were: Clifford and Kenneth Fowler, Elmo Satava, Charlie, Marion and Florence Eversaul, Evie Hackett, Earnest, Vern, and Helen Smith, Mrs. Satava, Mr. and Mrs. Smith, and Mr. Smith, Sr., and I. Winberg. Games were played. The creek has been made very attractive by Mr. D. Perry, the fire warden. He has a miniature mill wheel which is turned by the water and it looks very natural. He also made a pole swing which is for the benefit of the campers and picnickers.

DEER ISLAND

Art Daly went to Portland Saturday.
