

BY-GONE DAYS

Twenty Years Ago

(From the Files of The Oregon Mist August 3, 1900.)

Fred Watkins, Eugene Blakesley and Frank George were Rainier visitors last Saturday.

Mrs. Florence George came down from Portland Tuesday evening to spend a week visiting relatives.

Martin White made a trip to Quincy last Sunday, returning in the evening accompanied by his mother-in-law, Mrs. Lillich, and her daughter, who had been visiting relatives at that place for a couple of weeks.

It is suggested that for the information of transient wheelmen the city authorities should indicate, by clearly painted signs or other means, that cyclists are strictly forbidden from riding on the walks. In the absence of any sign of warning scarcely a day passes but wheelmen are seen speeding over forbidden territory.

Now that we have the horseless carriage, we await impatiently for the coming of the horseless laugh.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

(From the Files of The Oregon Mist August 9, 1895.)

The oldest inhabitant has never seen hotter weather than has prevailed for the past few days.

It is a hard matter to revive the creamery question in any district with butter about 12½ cents a pound, which would put milk below any possible living price, probably at about 35 cents per hundred or about 2½ cents a gallon.

Parties coming in from Nehalem bring reports of terrific forest fires in the upper Milton creek and Bunker Hill sections. It is said to be almost impossible to get over that route even on horseback. The fire is doing great damage to timber and will no doubt totally destroy large bodies which would have some day been brought into market. The small ranches in that locality, of which there are not a few, will of course be losers to some extent.

Twenty-Eight Years Ago

(From the Files of The Oregon Mist August 5, 1892.)

The county court could do a good act by offering a bounty on the scalps of grey squirrels, as they are very destructive to grain crops. M. Saxon says that they have destroyed about one-fourth of his grain this season, and many others make the same complaint.

The regular customary growl about sidewalks is being heard in St. Helens, and we don't wonder at it. They are pretty bad; the nails stick up just far enough to catch some unwary pedestrian whose thoughts are soaring above the common plane of sidewalks.

Attorney W. B. Dillard, well known to the people of Columbia county, returned to St. Helens last Saturday after an absence of several years. He spent some time in Virginia, after which he came to southern California, but said he found no place he liked so well as old Webfoot. Mr. Dillard talks of permanently locating here and continuing the practice of law. Accompanying him is Mr. Goodshire, an attorney of California.

Oregon's sawmills cut two and two-thirds billion board feet of lumber in 1918. With proper protection, logging, and restocking, these forests will provide for the lumber industry twice this amount forever—but fire must be kept out.

SUNDAY, AUGUST 8th

Personal Appearance Tour

CHESTER CONKLIN

AND HIS OWN COMPANY

Mr. and Mrs. Film Fan,
Everywhere.

Dear Friends:

For years I've been wanting to meet you. I've had bushels of letters from you but we've never met, face to face.

They never would let me go. I was a bird in a gilded cage. When I'd suggest a stunt like this tour that I'm making, they'd pat me on the back and say: "Chester, don't be a boob."

But, one day—only a few weeks ago—they accidentally left the studio gate open. The watchman, who is hired to keep the nosey public out, was dozing off. So I grabbed my vanity bag—my old shoes (size 13)—my moustache, and—here I am!

Oh, no, I didn't come alone. When I flitted, five of my nicest girls flitted with me. They insisted. I didn't want 'em. I wanted to be the star of this show. But they said I'd just HAVE to take 'em, so there! Well, what could I do? I'm only a young fellow. There were five against me, that's all.

There's June Day—(pretty name, isn't it?)—our Titian blende. Watch her do the ghost dance and—oh, n'everything.

Then there's Kledd Karryn—(funny what queer names these movie actresses have. Must get 'em out of a Chinese dictionary)—well, Kledd's the girl I marry. In the show, I mean.

Then there's De Wayne Francis, our prima donna assoluta. Geraldine Farrar hates her. So does Eva Tanguay. Jealousy, you know, girls.

And then, Rose Penney, our haughty Spanish beauty. She just dotes on vamping. She can get anybody's roll. Funny the police never catch 'em—doing it right in broad daylight, just like that, too.

And there's Mary-Louise Garvin, our littlest girl. Hardly need to describe her. You can see for yourself. And she's just as cute in real life as she is on the beach.

I brought Art Penney along, too—the nuttiest nut that ever nutted. Two squirrels were after Art when I spied him. But I beat 'em to it. So Art's with me.

Now for the show. Don't ask me where the plot is. Find it yourself. You'll notice it plotting all over the lot. Anyway, what do you care?

Now, I divide my show into reels—just like a movie, you know. First, comes Reel 1—the overture, whatever that is. This is perpetrated by those lazy guys. After you've survived that, come Reel 2—a movie made especially for this tour. It shows me leaving the studio at Hollywood. You will get a good idea what a gay life it is to be in the movies. Well, lots of things happen—and we end up on the stage, on the beach.

And now—just a minute. Honestly, it's great to see you all with my real eyes, instead of my camera eyes. You know why I'm pleased? It's because you're responsible for every movie star's success. Every time you've laughed with me—in a picture—you've encouraged me to make you laugh still more. And my next pictures are going to surprise you, I know. I'm going to try to make you burst with laughter. When the performance is over, I'll be waiting in the rear of this magnificent auditorium to shake hands with you—that is, if you'd like to. Even if you don't like to, you might do it to please me.

YOURS FOR FUN,

CHESTER CONKLIN,

THE LIBERTY

The Buying Public Wants to Know

THE Buying Public of Columbia County wants to know where to buy most economically, where to buy the best quality, or to get the best service. They want to know about the new things on the market, for business, for pleasure and for the home.

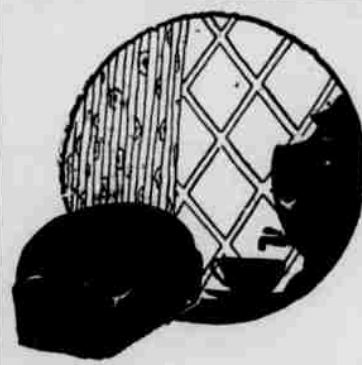

Every merchant and manufacturer has some one or more of these things to offer—something that is different or better than his competitor's. The Buying Public wants to know that—and they will buy accordingly. Advertising is the most practicable way to tell them.

The St. Helens Mist reaches more people than any other paper published in Columbia County. Its large circulation together with its quality as a purely home paper makes it a valuable advertising medium. Well written and reasonable advertising in the Mist is pulling business for others. It will pull business for you—if yours is a worthy proposition.

Phone 20 and have our Ad Man call and discuss your proposition.
