

MIST MISTINGS

Dr. S. H. Russell spent Labor Day with relatives and friends in Albany. Attorney John L. Stork was transacting business in Portland last Tuesday. Harold Masten came down from Portland to spend Labor Day with relatives here. County School Superintendent Wilkerson was in Clatskanie Monday on school business. Banker Miles and H. S. Mason were among St. Helens visitors at Clatskanie on Labor Day. Judge and Mrs. Martin White spent Sunday in Forest Grove on a visit with the judge's sister. Manager East of the Liberty was in Portland Tuesday on business connected with his show house. Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Shatto of Portland were Sunday guests of their daughter, Mrs. Eugene Blakesley. Mrs. Roy Gill returned to St. Helens Sunday morning after spending several days in Portland with relatives. Mrs. Alice Wreford has accepted a position as stenographer in the office of County School Superintendent Wilkerson. Mrs. James L. Brooks of Yankton is reported slowly improving from an illness following an attack of the flu last winter. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Warring of Yankton are the happy parents of a new baby girl, whose birthday will be September 2. Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Kiblan and Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Helon spent Sunday and Labor Day with relatives in Cathlamet, Washington. Mr. and Mrs. Jean Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Parker and children of Portland were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Muckle. Misses Helen and Grace Boyd departed from this city last Saturday for Seattle where they will enter school for the coming year. P. J. O'Malley was in Yakima, Washington, for a Sunday and Labor Day visit with his daughters, who are attending school in that city. H. E. Cornthwaite has purchased a fine 250 acre ranch 7 miles from Vancouver, Wash., and he and family will leave this week for their new home. Sherman Miles, H. S. Mason, John Phillip and J. L. Foote were among those from St. Helens who attended the Labor Day celebration at Clatskanie. Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Johnson, Mrs. Morgan and Harry Lyons motored down to Clatskanie Monday afternoon to take in the Labor Day celebration at that place. Through the real estate agency of John Phillip, the farm of Washington Muckle on the Bachelor Flat road has been rented to John Varnitch and Pete Tonich. Mr. and Mrs. Gust Wittnebel and children of Trenholm motored to St. Helens Monday and visited with friends. Mr. Wittnebel is chairman of the Trenholm school board.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunnigan of White Fish, Montana, arrived in St. Helens Sunday morning and are guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Doremann. Mrs. Dunnigan is Mr. Doremann's sister. Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Stevens and daughter, Letha Sue, of Kalama, spent Sunday and Labor Day here the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Cornthwaite and St. Helens friends. Cecil Ross, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Fannie Ross, were passengers on the Georgianna Sunday morning bound for Seattle where they are visiting relatives this week. E. A. Rotger returned Sunday from California, accompanied by his wife. While by no means fully recovered in health, Mrs. Rotger has been much improved by her sojourn in the southern state. Eleven hundred barrels of asphalt were brought from San Francisco on the steamer Klamath and discharged at the mill company's dock Tuesday night. The asphalt is for the Warren Construction company. The many friends of Mrs. J. S. Masten of West St. Helens who has been in a Portland hospital where she underwent an operation will be pleased to know that she is convalescent and in all probability will soon return to St. Helens. If you wish to know as to whether you have any difficulty with your eye-sight, call on Dr. Thompson, advanced optical knowledge and the right glasses. That's his reputation. Next visit Saturday, September 18, Orcadia hotel, all day. 39-2. Fred Vogler brought his yacht Wisdom down to St. Helens Saturday night and spent Sunday and Labor Day here. He was accompanied by a number of friends, among the party being E. N. Strong and Mrs. Strong, Howard Covey, Miss Davis and Miss Daisy Deering. Dr. James C. Martin who has practiced dentistry in Portland for a number of years has moved to St. Helens and opened offices in the bank building, room 14. Mrs. Martin accompanied the doctor and for the present, they are making their home at the St. Helens hotel. C. A. Anderson, who lives near Clatskanie, was in St. Helens Tuesday in conference with School Superintendent Wilkerson. Mr. Anderson who is a director of the Hazel Grove school is one of the old time residents of the Clatskanie section and well known throughout the county. Yolanda, aged 5, Luigi, aged 5 and Angelina, aged 2 years, children of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Serafin were baptized at the Catholic church Sunday morning. After the ceremony, the family and a number of friends went to the Serafin residence in Trenholm and had a family reunion and dinner. The steamer Lake Gebhart arrived in last Monday night and is taking on a cargo of lumber for delivery at Callao, Peru. The steamer's home port is Chicago, and she was built there about a year ago, brought through the lakes and locks to the Atlantic. The Lake Gebhart will carry about 1,600,000 feet of lumber a portion of which will be loaded at Astoria.

J. H. Thatcher was transacting business in the metropolis Thursday. Mrs. Harold Broughton spent the day with friends in Portland Thursday. Sheriff LaBare and Attorney Day were in Mist on legal business last Tuesday. J. Carver took a little salt air at Seaview, Washington, Sunday and Labor Day. A. T. Kiblan, West St. Helens merchant, was among business visitors in Portland this week. T. S. White was in Portland a couple of days this week attending the state undertakers' convention. Mrs. Hi Mott Allen of Los Angeles, Cal., arrived in the city the first of the week for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Ann Cox, and St. Helens friends. Mrs. W. W. Blakesley was hostess at a pleasant little dinner party Wednesday, her guests being Mrs. Hi Mott Allen, Mrs. Anna Cox and Mrs. A. J. Deming. Sunday and Labor Day guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Burcham were Miss Dorothy Mackenzie, and Wm. Shaw of Portland and Wm. Einzig of Seattle. Many St. Helens residents have been varying the monotony of beef, steak with venison steak since the deer season opened. The city hunters have been out in the hills in force and with fairly good luck in nearly all cases. Mrs. B. M. East and son Neal had as week end guests, Dr. and Mrs. D. R. Ross of Salem. The doctor is on the staff of the Oregon State hospital and while here he went out with Neal and Benny Copeland in quest of a big deer to take back to Salem, but the deer refused to be killed. Mrs. Ross is a daughter of Mrs. East. W. A. Taylor, representing the Oregon state fair, was in St. Helens Wednesday in the interest of the fair. Mr. Taylor is desirous that Columbia county be represented at the state fair with an exhibit, and as the state fair meets the week following he county fair he urges that the fair officers forward the county exhibit to Salem. Next Tuesday night the local K. of P. lodge will entertain itself, and incidentally the Pythian Sisters, with one of its well known luncheons. Judge White and Colonel Fullerton put the proposition up to the lodge that they were hungry and not being sufficiently fed at home, and that unless the lodge came to the rescue with food they would soon be reduced to mere shadows of their former robust physiques. Therefore, the feed. School opened Monday in the room in the rear of the city hall. Parts of the second and fifth grades were transferred to this room, the overcrowded condition of the main school building making this necessary. Increased attendance still makes conditions congested in some of the grades and additional room may be necessary. Two more new teachers will also be needed. For the present Mrs. J. B. Wilkerson is assisting the teaching force until teachers can be secured.

So that the young man could be right on time Monday morning to assume his duties as assistant manager of the local telephone office, the stork left a baby boy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Scott early Sunday morning. Just what innovations the new assistant manager will make has not been announced, but it is stated on good authority that he has already exercised some authority over his father. Mother and son are getting along nicely. A special train of six sleepers and two diners will be run from Astoria to Pendleton for the Round-Up by the Astoria Chamber of Commerce. Expenses will be about $60 per, including meals, sleeping accommodations and transportation to and from and during the Round-Up. Anyone wishing to make the trip communicate with Astoria Chamber of Commerce. Stops will be made at way points for those who make reservations. The train will be called the "Lower Columbia River Round-Up Special." Lester Wallington is here for a few days before returning to the University of Oregon to continue his course of study. During the summer months Lester worked at various occupations in order to have the "wherewith" for the winter. Carrying rods for a brick mason in Salem was the hardest job he encountered and picking cherries was about the easiest and most pleasant, he says. Without thinking he mentioned the fact that many of the cherry pickers were girls. Fred Carlson and a young man companion who stated he lived in Portland had a narrow escape from serious injury Sunday afternoon when the Chevrolet roadster in which they were riding left the road near Deer Island and after turning several somersaults, landed right side up near the railroad track. Neither of the occupants were injured and aside from smashing the top of the car, little damage resulted. A crowd soon gathered at the scene and helped get the machine back on the road. It is stated that the machine was traveling at a high rate of speed when it left the road and the indications were that John Barleycorn had something to do with the steering. To The Public The automobile public is hereby notified that J. H. Flynn has disposed of his garage shop and auto accessory business to E. A. and R. O. Harms, who will in future conduct the business at the old stand. Mr. Flynn still retains his automobile agencies at the old stand. Mr. Flynn asks and bespeaks for the new owners the same generous patronage accorded him in the past, and it will be the aim of the new firm to maintain the same superior standard of work turned out in the past with a guarantee and assurance that all repair work entrusted to their care will have expert attention. Patronage of old and new friends solicited. J. H. FLYNN, E. A. HARMS, R. O. HARMS.
