William Russell in "Slam-Bang Jim"

Coming SATURDAY, JAN. 15th

YOU ALL know William Russell, or know of him. He's the big, strapping six-footer who plays in pictures that ARE pictures—real he-man classics of the screen. In "Slam-bang Bill" Mr. Russell has ample opportunity to display many of the talents that have made him one of the foremost of portrayers of the silent drama. Remember—that is a REAL picture; one you'll talk about—and remember.

SEVENTH EPISODE OF

"LIGHTNING BRYCE"

Pathe Weekly — A Good Comedy

THURSDAY, JANUARY 20th

Dainty Marguerite

CLARK

—IN—

"GIRLS"

SHE DIDN'T like the men. They were such conceited, impudent things, and if one of them ever—then one night a mere man, pursued by another woman's husband, fled right into her apartment.

What did she do? Well, you'll have to come and see winsome Marguerite Clark hate (?) men in this captivating picturization of Clyde Fitch's famous comedy.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 18

JUSTINE JOHNSTONE

—IN—

"BLACKBIRDS"

A Painting of the Madonna for which the American millionaire, Crocker, had recently paid a quarter of a million dollars, accounted for the presence of the Countess Leona, the beautiful member of the "Society of Blackbirds," a band of international thieves, at the Crocker house party. There is one turn after another in "BLACKBIRDS," starring beautiful Justine Johnstone.

LIBERTY THEATRE

SUNDAY, MONDAY, JAN. 16th--17th

Maurice Tourneur's Master Production

'The Great Redeemer'

Supported by a Distinguished Cast With

HOUSE PETERS and MARJORIE DAW

The story of a bad man turned good.

A play of heart tugs and heart throbs.

It shows how a man "came back" for a good woman's love.

Wherein Dan Malloy goes down among men, but is never counted out.

In which a man vindicates a girl's faith in his power to make good.

The story of a convict who robbed a train and then painted a great picture.

Wherein a murderer on his way to the scaffold is redeemed from sin.

BUSTER KEATON in "One Week"

Two reels of side-splitting fun arising from the trials of honeymooners.

WEDNESDAY, JAN. 19th

WALLACE

REID

—IN—

"Alias, Mike Moran"

IN THIS picture Wallace Reid gets into one of the most exciting fist fights ever witnessed on the screen. Mr. Reid plays the part of Larry Young, a slacker who changes his name to get around the draft. How an insult to the French flag changed his ideas, and sent him to the firing line, is part of one of the finest pictures Wallace Reid ever made.
