Sheep Ticks Are Great Source of Annoyance

After sheep are shorn, the ticks leave the old sheep to quite an extent and go onto the lambs. Ticks are a source of great annoyance to the animal and consequently are a hindrance to economical gains. The wise sheep owner will dip his flock after shearing, both ewes and lambs. Any of the standard dips may be used. In use of each follow directions carefully. Remember, that it is best to dip twice, twenty-one days apart. The first dipping will kill all ticks on animals but will not affect the eggs or pupae. All eggs will be hatched in 21 days, at time of second dipping. The life cycle of the tick would indicate that 21 days is better. If the work is done carefully and according to directions with dip there need be no question as to its efficacy.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the kind friends who assisted us in our recent bereavement, the death of husband and brother and also for the beautiful floral offerings.

DEMING DRUGSTORES

Spring insects are beginning to make their appearance on several crops at this time, among them the 12-spotted bean beetle, the tomato flea beetle, the beet leaf beetle, aphids on various plants, and cut-worms, which attack a wide variety of young vegetables. Vegetable growers may provide themselves with the necessary means of information and material by which they can prevent these insects from damaging a great deal of the garden. Every vegetable gardener should have a copy of O.A.C. bulletin No. 325. The college is in a position to furnish at cost some "all-in-one" dusting powder which has proved to be very efficient in preventing serious injury by insects of different kinds. This is obtainable through the department of vegetable gardening.

FRIENDS! NEIGHBORS! COUNTRYMEN!

Lend me your ear! I come to praise this town of ours.

I come to ask your loyalty to it.

I want to interest you in its solidarity, in the solidarity of all the people of this community to the end that each one of us shall be more prosperous and happier.

Up at the corner the other day I overheard one of OUR FOLKS relate with much self-satisfaction the fact that he had just received a piece of goods from a big city mail order house, which, he claimed, cost him a few nickels less than he could buy it in this good old town of ours.

An editor's shibboleth is hard-earned, but I have one to spare to bet that this neighbor really lost money if he figured on the charges and unseen costs. He paid the freight, whichever way it was shipped. He bought on faith, and faith at a distance is not a sensible thing these days of shoddy material and incompetent if high-priced, workmanship. He had no chance to first examine the goods contained in his order. If the goods are damaged, he must return them to a distance and take chances on getting his money back after a long period, and perhaps after long quibbling. All this takes time—days and weeks—whereas at home he would never have picked a damaged, or poor, or distasteful piece of goods.

Let us have loyalty!

Loyalty to our town is good personal business. To every soul in the community. Every dollar you spend here makes the man you spend it with the more able to spend money with you for the thing you have to sell, whether you sell livestock, dry goods, potatoes, butter or the labor of your hands.

Sending money to the big city, except where it can't be avoided, is helping the big city and making the whole people of the big city that much more prosperous. Let's keep the money in our own town and make ourselves more prosperous. The big town never does anything for our community save to milk it.

This town and neighborhood is our home. Here we are bringing up our families and educating them. Here is where our happiness lies. Here is also where our duty lies—a duty to do everything in our power to advance the interests of our home and community.

This editor believes that he can serve his home community in no better way than by urging every man and woman to patronize the merchants of this town. Therefore, beginning today, this newspaper will print a series of important articles on loyalty to our town—loyalty to ourselves. We believe that every subscriber will find them interesting, worthwhile reading.
