OPEN DIPLOMACY

For several years England, France and Italy fought against Germany. Austria and Turkey. They resorted to "trench" warfare. There was little open fighting except when a general advance was made and when certain objective was reached, the soldiers in the Field Made Merry on MASONS FORM opposing armies "dug in." They re-mained under cover, as much as possible and sallied forth from the not want to "dig in" but they wanted to dig out, therefore they chose to "By daylight the rations began to to dig out, therefore they chose to have an open warfare; no trenches, no long watts, no zero hour for "over the top." A GOOD SHOWING.

The citizens of Columbia county who visited the livestock exposition in Portland last week, were proud and justifiably so, of the excellent showing made by breeders of purebred stock in this county and those of us who did not see the big show, were likewise elated when we read in the Portland papers that breeders from our county had carried off many prizes. The success of the comparatively may say:

The success of the comparatively few exhibitors from this county demonstrates that it pays to raise good cattle and that it does not pay to raise scrub cattle. Prosperous isfactions of living that center about farmers inform us that in no section of the country is there a better opportunity for productive farming and cattle raising than right here in Columbia county and since that appears to be an indisputable fact, we
