New Year's Ghost Party

HERE is a pleasant old superstition that jollity in a house during the first week of the New Year brings pleasure and happiness to that household during the entire year.

Our good old Father Time has promised to convene the shades of many notables to meet you New Year's eve.

There should be 20 or more guests, and after the invitations have gone out, the hostess has a little private chat with her guests over the telephone.

Dressed in a misty black robe covered with stars cut from gold paper, the hostess will receive her guests in a room draped all in white.

Games, contests and dancing will follow, and the supper or refreshment table will be filled with things tempting enough to attract even the most ghostly appetite.

Whatever you do, don't let anyone shatter your faith in New Year's resolutions. They are the best things ever if you know how to handle them, and the most discouraging things if you don't.

Fortitude is the quality which keeps you from worrying over other people's troubles.

By-Gone Days

(Items taken from the files of The Mist of December 29, 1893. Days Davis edited The Mist at this time.)

Deputy County Clerk Harris and wife spent Christmas in Portland.

The management of the New Dance at this place is making elaborate preparations for a high time.

Mrs. English and Mrs. Ann Merrill are both confined to their rooms with la grippe.—Dear Island items.

One day last week a large wild cat lost his scalp by coming too near Bert Seffer's house.—Dear Island item.

Prof. W. H. Powell of Oregon City public schools visited friends at Scappoose Christmas and attended the ball there in the evening.

Miss Marie Watts and Bert West students at the state normal school are home for the vacation week.—Scappoose items.

Judge McBride will be here on January 29, when he will hold a short term of court and transact such business as may come up for hearing.

It was a sly affair, but to Professor Cleeton and his bride, The Mist extends hearty congratulations. The ceremony was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Saannah near Vernonia on Christmas day.

The county officers were: Dean Blanchard, judge; E. E. Quick, clerk; T. C. Watts, sheriff; E. M. Wharton, treasurer; T. J. Cleeton, superintendent of schools; W. H. Kysor, assessor; A. B. Little, surveyor and the commissioners were S. G. Schoonover and G. W. Barnes.

The report of the grand jury is published in full. It was a voluminous document and contained many suggestions and was submitted to Hon. T. A. McBride, circuit judge.

The report dealt largely with alleged shortages of certain officers, was signed by J. H. Swager, foreman. The other members of the jury were C. W. Mosher, R. S. Payne, C. L. Olson, Jas. C. Henderson, Wm. J. Sanborn and D. F. Baker.

Editorially The Mist says: "Monday last was Christmas day, but we feel safe in saying that in too many ways it was devoid of all like Christmas gifts which add to the pleasures of the occasion, at least, in many instances. It is the generally expressed conviction that people should be very thankful to have enough to eat and a comfortable place to sleep, so if we have not received those usual little gifts let us not complain."

A cutting affray occurred Saturday evening on the steamer Kehani near Linnton in which J. D. McKay was seriously slashed about the head and left side by A. Sunderland a well known dairymen of Sauvie Island, who used a murderous looking hatchet knife with frightful cleverness and when bystanders interfered Stump drew a revolver and attempted to shoot McKay. The steamer stopped at Linnton where the injured man was given the attention of a surgeon and after having his wounds carefully dressed McKay returned to Portland. The affair Saturday was the result of bad blood which had existed between the men for some time. Stump will not be prosecuted.

Among the business houses represented by ads in The Mist were: Edwin Ross, who conducted a drug store; D. J. Switzer was in the real estate business. One of the big bargains he offered was 160 acres of land, house and barn, 15 acres cleared and fenced and some bearing fruit trees at the very reasonable price of $10 per acre; Hart and Sweetland conducted the St. Helens Meat Market and Thomas Cooper had the St. Helens Ivory stable; Jacob George was host at the St. Helens hotel and the Oriental Hotel was conducted by A. H. Blakesley; J. H. Decker was the "Tonsorial Artist" and McNutt Brothers claimed to be the "leading merchants" of Vernonia and Cornelius, Oregon.

Taking Desperate Chances.

It is true that many contract severe colds and recover from them without taking any precaution or treatment, and a knowledge of this fact leads others to take their chances instead of giving their colds the needed attention. It should be borne in mind that every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality, makes the system less able to withstand each succeeding attack and paves the way for the more serious diseases. Can you afford to take such desperate chances when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of bad colds may be had for a trifle?
