This is a popular bulletin written in plain lang-uage. It will make a valuable addi-tion to any farmer's library.

Chicks Need Clean Feed.

It is not always so much the kind of feed as how it is fed that causes trouble with young chicks. Any of the common grains will give good results if they are clean and free from mold. Chicks should not be fed grain having much hull or a high protein at first.

Small Spuds Poor Seed.

The practice of planting whole small potatoes is a bad one when they are simply culls from the ordinary field. Why are they little? it is because they are diseased. Such seed will not produce good spuds.
