

OVER THE COUNTY

SCAPPOOSE

E. E. Wist spent Sunday and Monday in Salem attending court business.

Mrs. Spencer and daughter, Jean, of Tacoma, were the guests of Mrs. George Grant Tuesday. They were en route to Seaside.

Mr. and Mrs. Hackett and daughter left Tuesday for Illinois where they will make an extended visit with Mr. Hackett's parents.

The meat market changed hands Wednesday morning and Mr. McKay, the owner now has charge. Messrs. Tonseth and Vanham made many friends while in Scappoose.

Friends of John Watson will be interested to know he was removed to the hospital Monday where we hope for good reports.

Forrest Klum and Bob Lynch who are employed at Skamokawa, Wash., were home over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Blye of Portland, were week end guests at the Metcalf home.

Nina Roscoe spent the fore part of the week with Portland friends.

Mrs. Floyd Grewell has been suffering with a bad case of oak poison this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Grewell have moved their household goods here for the summer.

Mr. Dorris is one of the reserve officers called to immediate duty by order of the president.

The Bee Keepers' association met Saturday in the Watts grocery. Mr. Bower, bee inspector of Multnomah county, was present and proved an interesting talker. Mary Albro, city school health inspector, was also present.

Previous to the meeting J. E. Miller offered a prize of a jar of honey to the lady bringing the finest pan of hot biscuits for the lunch. Mrs. Watts and Mrs. Macdonald were awarded jars of honey.

Mrs. Miller's biscuits were worthy of a prize but she was barred.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Freeze of Tacoma were visiting Mrs. Samson last week. They were joined by Mr. and Mrs. George Allen of Tacoma, and Floyd Grewell and family and all took a trip up the highway to the end three and a half miles above The Dalles.

A team owned by Grant Lynch driven by Henry Larsen ran away last week down Wikstrom hill. Mr. Larsen was severely injured, having his collarbone broken, elbow and two ribs broken and his face and head badly bruised and cut. He was taken to the hospital and the last report states he will recover.

Friends and neighbors met and had a social supper on the church lawn last Thursday evening, followed by a ceremony and breaking ground for the new parsonage. This courtesy was extended to Mrs. Rose Watts who has been a member over thirty years and has done much for the church life in this community.

BACHELOR FLAT

We are all glad to hear that Viola Soderberg who has been suffering from a severe attack of diphtheria at a Portland hospital is very much better and expects to come home soon.

J. M. Burkhead and family took in the celebration at Clatskanie and remained for a few days' camping.

Don't forget the school meeting Saturday evening, July 15. They are now electing those who are not present.

WARREN

The special school election held on Thursday evening caused by the resignation of J. E. Hillier as director, was of a very spirited nature.

The contest for the position between W. C. Cooper and A. H. Carlson was close, Carlson winning the coveted honor by 3 votes. Hillier was elected over by Carlson at the regular election and as he has been janitor of the school he could not hold both positions and resigned as director to hold the janitorship. Carlson has served a former term.

Alvin and Miss Larson spent Sunday in Portland.

O. E. Berglund has completed his new barn.

The early potato crop is a practical complete failure. The continued dry weather is the cause.

Mrs. Bjorkquist and Mrs. Maybee left last week for a visit at Newberg from which point they will visit their old home in Minnesota. Rev. Bjorkquist will "bach" until their return.

John Carlson has just completed a dainty little bungalow for George Carlson.

Teddy Berg has returned from Nehalem where he has been for some months.

A Mr. Anderson has been appointed principal of the Warren school. He has taken up his residence with Albert Anderson.

Miss Cecilia Vivian Salmi of Deep River, Washington, and Mr. Davis Aspgren, a well-known young man of this community, were united in marriage Monday evening at the residence of A. E. Sandstrom. Rev. E. Bjorkquist performing the ceremony. Mr. Walter Johnson was best man and Miss Nina Sandstrom attended the bride. Little Miss June Dahlgren was the flower girl. The Sandstrom home was tastefully decorated for the happy event which was witnessed by relatives and intimate friends of the bride and groom.

The newly wedded couple will make their home in this community and a host of friends wish them a pleasant voyage on the marital sea.

VERNONIA

VERNONIA, Ore., July 12.—(Special to The Mist.)—The Vernonia hotel has been sold to D. Macdonald of Clatskanie. The purchaser is an experienced hotel man and no doubt will maintain the high standard of service for which the hotel is known.

The printing plant of Paul Robinson has arrived, but as yet he has secured no building in which to house it.

The baseball game between Vernonia and St. Helens resulted in a score of 7 to 2 in favor of the visitors. Quite a crowd witnessed the contest which was a better game and more interesting than the score indicates.

The forest fire up Rock creek has wiped out the grading camps and the fire from the Kerry camps looked very threatening to Vernonia people last week. Several hundred fire fighters have been furnished with supplies from here last week. Chief Fire Warden P. A. Dixon stated that all of the fires were under control.

The farmers in this section have about completed taking in the hay crop. The crop harvested was large and of good quality.

The city council has a proposition for a water supply for Vernonia and has called a mass meeting for Thursday night to consider the matter. It is possible that a water district will be formed.

St. Helens was well represented at the ball game last Sunday, numerous fans driving over the Pittsburg-St. Helens road to see their team win the game.

The city now has a dentist, Dr. Cole having located here this week

The Chamber of Commerce and in fact everyone residing in this section is in favor of having a big celebration when the railroad is completed to Vernonia. Preliminary plans are being made but as yet no date has been set.

Mrs. J. C. Bond and daughter Helen left Tuesday for their home in Bend, Oregon.

Hon. Judson Weed, county commissioner, was in Vernonia on Saturday. He expressed himself as being in favor of the opening of Rose avenue as a county road. Should the county court do this work, two curves which are dangerous ones, will be eliminated.

The Vernonia ball team will try conclusions with Wauna Sunday on the Wauna grounds. The Vernonia Juniors challenged the business men to play a game here Sunday.

Mrs. E. S. Cleveland left last week for her home in Ohio. Before leaving she had the Rose building moved back from the street. It is reported that she and her husband will make many improvements on their property when they return to Vernonia.

YANKTON

YANKTON, Ore., July 13.—(Special to The Mist.)—Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Qualle of Portland were visitors at the L. F. Barger home.

The Jersey breeders are planning on a fine time at their picnic to be held at Sunnybank Farm, July 18. The ladies will serve lunch at noon, which is free to all. Everyone welcome to attend these picnics.

BIG SPECIAL COMING TO THE LIBERTY

"My Old Kentucky Home," named after the ballad by that title, and a picture that thrills, is the attraction at The Liberty on Sunday and Monday, with two shows Sunday afternoon. "My Old Kentucky Home" is destined to be as great a success as Griffith's "Way Down East," for it contains all the elements of successful drama. It is a story of the Southland and has action aplenty. The cast is all-star with Monte Blue in the leading role, and the critics pronounce it "one of the best pictures of the year."

Manager Cates has provided a new and improved cooling system for the benefit of his patrons, and those who attend The Liberty during the heated term are certain to find a comfortable place.

GARDEN AND SWEET PEA SHOW, RAINIER

The annual sweet pea and garden show will be held in the Rainier High school gymnasium, Wednesday, July 19. Ribbons and prizes will be given for the best sweet peas, mixed flowers, fruit and vegetables. Uniform vases will be furnished by the society for the sweet pea exhibit, and competent judges will award the ribbons and prizes. Lunch will be served at noon and in the evening there will be a children's parade and entertainment.

One of the rules laid down by the W. B. A. society under whose auspices the show is held, is that all entries must be grown out of doors and in Columbia county and owned by the person making the entry. All entries must be in before 12 o'clock the day of the show. Those interested may secure further information by addressing the W. B. A. society at Rainier.

POULTRY MEETING.

On Thursday, July 20th, at the hour of 1:30 p. m., the last of our series of poultry meetings will be held in the Warren community at the Gabrielson poultry farm. This meeting will include a review of the work at this plant and also a culling demonstration. It is hoped that all poultrymen will be able to attend the meeting, as culling is now a seasonal subject and hens can be perfectly culled at this time.

The Daily Berlin American, a new English language paper, began publication in Berlin in March. This is the first daily in English language ever printed in that city. It is five marks a copy, about eight times more than that of the German dailies.
