POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

Not much can be done with a man who mistakes his prejudices for his convictions.

It is hard to sympathize when a chronic pessimist runs into a streak of bad luck.

Just as we begin to think aviation is becoming a safe proposition, something else happens.

Every now and then somebody reminds us that we ought to do something about Mexico.

Does anybody know what has become of all the second Hententants that we had during the war?

The world might take the war in China more seriously if the Chinese were not such poor marksmen.

It is about time for the European nations to figure out another scheme to try to get another loan from us.

The world moves. People who play golf are no longer considered freaks or menaces to the public welfare.

TROUBLES OF OUR OWN MAKING

"Simple precautions would avert most of the railroad crossing horrors. Here are a few rules, which, if followed, would save many lives," says the Southern Pacific Bulletin.

"Never approach railroad tracks that must be crossed at grade, without this thought: Here is the place where I must play safe! Have your car under control, then you will be prepared for any emergency. You know the importance of having good brakes on your car. Look them over from time to time.

"Probably nine out of ten times there will be no train near enough to check your progress over the tracks. Make no effort to go across, until, by careful use of both eyes and ears, you have sized up the situation.

"All must agree that a little time spent in trying to protect life and limb is a good investment. We use up some time hunting bargains in stores. Better plan to hold onto the life you possess. No bargain counter has another to offer you. When your end comes, you will be a long time dead.

"Remember that a fast train can run the quarter mile from the whistle post to the crossing in fifteen seconds. Do you know just exactly how far you can make your car go in one-fourth of a minute? Most of us fail to do our best in an emergency.

"Do you admire a man who tries to beat a train over a crossing, when he has his family or friends in the car with him, depending upon him for protection? If such a man were to run his business so carelessly as that, we greatly fear that the balance would show up on the wrong side of his ledger. Most of us are very weary of reading newspaper accounts of death and destruction. Let's be rooters for safety at the crossings."

A Splendid Medicine for the Stomach and Liver.

"Chamberlain's Tablets for the stomach and liver are splendid. I never tire of telling my friends and neighbors of their qualities," writes Mrs. William Vollmer, Eastwood, N. Y. When bilious, constipated or troubled with indigestion, give them a trial. They will get you good.

Many a man never gets anywhere because he just drifts.
