

REPUBLICANS WILL ADOPT A PLATFORM

Meeting to be Held in Portland on September 26 by Representative Delegation.

CORVALLIS, Ore.—The republicans state central committee, under instructions from legislative and senatorial candidates...

Delegates to the meeting will consist of all republican legislative and senatorial candidates, and hold-over senators, state and congressional committee members...

Headquarters for the convention will be at the Imperial hotel and the place for holding the meeting will be announced through the press.

This convention is the result of a trip through the state of the officers of the new republican state central committee, Chairman Tooze and Secretary C. E. Ingalls.

"I think it is very important," said Chairman Tooze, "for the republican party to have a platform upon which its state candidates should run."

The Eugene meeting was an enthusiastic one, delegates from every county pledging support to Governor O'Leary in his campaign for reelection.

A Guide To What's Good To Get Some one has said that if bread and butter were new inventions they would have to be advertised before people would accept them as standard articles of food. Even in this progressive age, folks are somewhat wary of leaving the beaten path. They stick pretty close to things they know, when those things come up to their expectations. That is why alert merchants and manufacturers strive to tell about their products and their services in the advertising columns of the daily paper. They want you to know what they have to offer, in the belief that when you do know, you will be interested, and perhaps inspired, with some of their own enthusiasm. Thrifty men and women find that it pays to read the advertisements. It enables them to rest assured that they are not overlooking anything. It lets them know where to locate some desired product or service; where to go for "this" or how to get "that" to best advantage. Without its direction they would overlook much and consequently lose much. They would live in ignorance of many things that might add materially to their wealth, health and happiness. The Telephone Instrument The telephone is a highly sensitive, delicately adjusted instrument. Think of it—without regard to distance, instantaneously reproducing every tone of the human voice. The quality of its service, in great measure, depends upon careful use. As with your watch, automobile or piano—the more care, better results. Among the "out of order" reports received by the company, many result from the carelessness of the subscriber. A telephone may fall from desk or stand, breaking the mouthpiece or throwing the apparatus out of adjustment. The cord may become twisted; meaning a "noisy" line. A damp cloth laid on the cord or the moisture from an open window may cause the "short circuit" and an entire interruption of service. All of these things are avoidable with the exercise of slight care. In protecting the telephone equipment you are protecting your own service. The Pacific Telephone And Telegraph Company
