PRIZE DIVIDED IN GUESSING CONTEST

Close to eight hundred persons made a guess on the weight of the State of Oregon, dated the 6th day of Hampshire boar "Emergency Lad," September, 1922, in a certain action enthusiastic guessers watched the weighing. This contest has become an interesting feature at each year's fair. This year the majority of the guesses were close although the lavgshire hogs are heavier than they look. The low guess was 240 pounds of clock in the formation and clock in the formation of t
