YANKTON ADDITIONAL NOTES

Mrs. Beth Masten who lives near Vancouver, Washington, was a Sunday visitor in Yankton.

Mrs. Vera Day and Mrs. Madge Quate of Portland spent the week-end with the home folks.

G. L. Tarbell, Shirley Briggs and Mrs. Briggs attended services at the St. Helens Congregational church on last Sunday afternoon.

Electric lights are being installed in the church which will be greatly appreciated by all attending evening services.

Rev. E. A. Smith of Portland and Rev. J. L. Whitrey of Columbia City will hold services in the church next Sunday morning and evening; also every evening during the coming week. Everyone most cordially invited to attend all these meetings.

At a meeting of the Columbia County Jersey Cattle club which was held in the grange hall on November 18, the following officers were elected: President, L. G. Smith, Scappoose; vice president, Fred Briggs, Yankton; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. May Briggs, Directors, Mr. Arteman Sr., of St. Helens; and Than Brown of Yankton. A very interesting meeting is being planned to be held at Helena in the near future.

Relative to that well-known gourmand, the bed bug, the department of agriculture says that the male of the species feeds but once in 24 to 30 hours. It must take but few males to propagate the race.

An eastern professor says a 12-cent breakfast is enough for a literary person. We should rather judge that some of them had been practicing living on that amount and that it had all been going to their bodies.

A large proportion of the 2000 turkeys served on southern Pacific dining cars Thanksgiving day were from Oregon, according to John M. Scott, general passenger agent for the line.

SENATOR EDDY MAY BE LIEUT. GOVERNOR

Salem, Ore., November 29.—Senator E. L. Eddy, who apparently will be the next president of the Oregon state senate, will in that event automatically—under a recent enacted Oregon law—be lieutenant governor of the state. In event of the death, resignation or other inability to act on the part of the governor, Senator Eddy would become governor. He also would serve temporarily during any prolonged absence of the governor from the state, as Senator Roy Ritter from Pendleton is now serving during the absence of Governor O'Leary, who is on his way to White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., to attend the national governors' conference.

Senator Eddy is one of the foremost lawyers and lawmakers in the state. As a member of the legislature he has become widely known for his ability as an orator, his knowledge of the law and as an able parliamentarian. He is recognized as having a superiority in the legislature in knowledge of the laws, which accounts for his frequent appointment at the head of the senate committee on revision of laws. He also is a scholar of considerable accomplishment, and one of the very few men in Oregon legislature who must be so classified.

Senator Eddy began his career as a lawyer in Tillamook in the late 80s when he opened an office with James Caples, son of Judge O. F. Caples of Portland. Later Mr. Caples retired from the firm and Mr. Eddy practiced alone for several years and was deputy district attorney for a time. Another partnership at Tillamook was with H. T. Botta.

Mr. Eddy led in the movement that resulted in the organization of the Tillamook county bank, was mayor of the city and was twice elected to the legislature from Tillamook county. Twenty years ago he was a candidate for speaker of the house, but was beaten by two votes by Lawrence T. Harris, who is now a member of the supreme court.

Senator Eddy moved to Roseburg about seventeen years ago where he accepted an appointment in the land office. He is now serving his second term in the state senate from Douglas county. As a legislator he has fought hard on the side of progressive legislation, against trusts and monopolies and against all sinister influences that have sought to control the assembly.

JAPAN PLANS LARGE CATTLE RAISING

Tokio.—Having more than 7,000,000 acres of arable land, a temperature compared with that of the American northwest and everything nature could supply for a cattle raising country, the Hakkaido, Japan's northern island last year had 180,000 head of horses, 32,000 head of oxen, 136,000 hogs, 1,600 sheep and 254,000 fowls. While a good profit heretofore has been made from horse raising, authorities believe cattle raising now that the Japanese are eating more meat, would be even more profitable.

It is proposed to bring 2,500,000 acres of this land under cultivation and turn approximately 2,200,000 acres into pasturage. It is estimated that on this there could be raised 540,000 head of cattle, 300,000 horses, 2,000,000 sheep and 300,000 hogs.

A Mist Wanted will make that sale.

FARMER COOPERATIVES SEEK LEGISLATION

Dallas, Texas, Nov. 29.—The meeting of the national council of farmers cooperatives, to be held in Washington, December 14 to 16, is the result of a common desire on the part of the cooperative marketing organizations throughout the United States to obtain national legislation on rural credits and the same desire on the part of leaders in congress in enacting into a law a rural credits bill that will meet the need of agriculture, according to O. Moser, of the Texas Farm Bureau, and members of the council.

Virtually one-sixth of all the agricultural commodities of the United States now are sold cooperatively, he said, and the success or failure of such institutions is a matter of great national concern. There are now approximately 150 such organizations doing an annual business in excess of a billion dollars.

The conference, while designed chiefly to confer with the national leaders in congress in the matter of the financial legislation will discuss other proper needs of agriculture credit, both from the standpoint of livestock and crop production and of marketing.

Representatives of virtually all of the large cooperative marketing associations will be present and participate in the conference, including the

BACHELOR FLAT

The basket social given at the school house Saturday evening was a great success both socially and financially. The short program by the school children was very well given after which about 20 baskets were auctioned off. Those who didn't have a basket were furnished with sandwiches, cake and coffee. During the evening the teachers sold chances on a five-pound box of candy. Kendall Burkhead drew No. 19, the lucky number. About $38.00 was taken in during the evening which will be used for the benefit of the school. Besides nearly everyone from the Flat several were here from Scappoose, St. Helens and Portland.

Mrs. Florence Larson and Miss Ellen Madsen of Portland came down to attend the social.

Miss Agnes Engstrom is visiting her mother Mrs. Engstrom this week.

We are very glad to see that Miss Ethel Bennett is able to be out after her long illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Brasmer Jr. are visiting at the home of Mr. Brasmer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Brasmer, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Mohn visited with Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Saxton Sunday.

Carl Johnson of Scappoose visited with his mother, Mrs. John McCully several days last week and took in the basket social.

P. C. Jacobsen motored to Eugene Saturday.
