

THE OREGON MIST.

United States and County Official Paper.

St. Helens, March 25, 1892.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Pure fresh drugs at Ross' drug store.

Commissioner Barnes, of Mayger, was in St. Helens Wednesday last.

Clothing, first class and best quality at Perry's. Houlton.

Mrs. Thomas Holce, of Gilton, is quite sick at present.

Lundborg's perfumes are the best. Ross has a full line.

Miss Cloe Searcy, of this place, visited friends in Vancouver last week.

Mr. Homer Woodard, of Portland, is visiting Messrs. Dave and Dan Richardson, of this place.

R. P. Graham, of the Portland law school, spent Sunday in St. Helens, chatting among his old friends.

There is only five more days in which to pay taxes before they become delinquent.

Captain James Miller, one of the oldest steamboat men on the river, came down Monday evening in charge of the Toledo.

The Harvest Queen broke down on her way up Monday and did not reach Portland until late at night. The Potter is now running in her stead.

C. A. Snow & Co's. pamphlet, Information and Advice, about patents, caveats, trademarks, copyrights, etc., may be obtained free at this office.

Bavis, Nicholas & Company, we are informed, will move their sawmill from Tide creek to Kalama, Wash., where they have secured a large subsidy from the citizens of that town.

The horrible condition of the road between St. Helens and Gilton leads us to believe the district is without a supervisor. It is hardly safe to travel unless you have a flying machine strapped to your body.

In the case of O. W. Dunbar and George Hibbard, editors and proprietors of the Astoria Town Talk, for libeling Samuel Elmore, tried in the district court last week in Astoria, Hibbard was acquitted and Dunbar convicted and sentenced to one year in the county jail.

Last Friday George Armstrong and Alexander Bonner were brought down from Seapoope and tried in Justice Blakesley's court charged with trespassing on the premises of R. Z. Joy. They both pleaded guilty and were fined $5 each and costs.

John Hillery, father of Mrs. T. C. Watts, of this place, died at Olney, Clatsop county, March 16th, of dropsy. Mr. Hillery came to Oregon in 1852 and settled on a claim near Portland, and afterward went to Wheatland, where he lived until 1861, when his property was all destroyed by the great flood of that year. For the last few years he has been living with his children, his health being poor. He was in his 75th year.

In the United States district court Tuesday, Judge Deady rendered a decision against the steamer Joseph Kellogg. The Kellogg was some time ago libeled, charged with running without a watchman as required by law, being accused with making four trips to Freeport without the watchman. The court held that according to the law the steamer was guilty as charged, and stated that the minimum fine was $500 for each offense.

Cat fishing is the order of the day hereabouts at present. This species of fish, new to Oregon, is becoming a factor in the fish industry along the Columbia river. Last week R. Searcy, by the use of a set net, succeeded in catching over a ton of these splendid fish in one night, 1800 pounds of which he found a ready market for in Portland. Again on last Saturday night he made a similar catch. Besides the nets they are caught in any number with hook and line, affording sport for all classes. The first cat fish in this country were brought from the East (193 in number) about ten years ago and planted in Silver Lake, Clatsop county, Wash. For five years the laws of that territory protected them, at the expiration of which time the lake seemed literally alive with them. From this lake they gradually found their way into the Toutle river and from that to the Cowlitz and into the Columbia. In the meantime several parties secured and planted this species of fish in Seapoope bay and other sloughs and creeks, where they have increased very rapidly until now they are found in great quantity in all the lakes, sloughs and rivers tributary to the lower Columbia, and have grown to weigh as high as three pounds.

Volume 1, No. 1 of the Marion County Democrat is on our table, with the name of Mr. E. H. Flagg appearing at the head of the editorial column as editor and proprietor. The Democrat is a splendid specimen of red newspaper make-up, chock full of red hot democracy from top to bottom, eight pages. In the establishment of the Democrat Mr. Flagg purchased a complete new plant with cylinder presses, both job and news, and is prepared to supply the wants of the Marion county democrats with their job printing as well as publishing the news on Monday morning, a day that no other paper issues in Salem. The Democrat is the only democratic paper in Marion county and will no doubt be highly appreciated and well patronized by its citizens. Mr. Flagg was for several years editor of The Mist, and all must confess was largely instrumental in increasing our population by straightforward methods adopted by himself in advertising the county. After leaving here over three years ago he went to Hillsboro, where he engaged in the newspaper business with success from the beginning, and where he resided until a few weeks ago. His many friends in Columbia county will be glad to hear of his being permanently established at the state's capital, and the people of Salem should congratulate themselves upon having a newspaper man in their midst who is not afraid to speak out his opinion on all matters of public importance.

The steamer Toledo has been placed on the Rainier-Portland route in place of the Kellogg, the Kellogg company having bought her back from the Woodruff Transportation company for the sum of $6000-$8000 less than they paid for her a few months ago, and after expending $2500 in building a new hull they are compelled to take $2000 less than the purchase price. The Kellogg, we understand, will be placed on the Freeport route as a freight boat.

Many years practice have given C. A. Snow & Co., Solicitors of Patents, at Washington, D. C., unsurpassed success in obtaining patents for all classes of inventions. They make a specialty of rejected cases, and have secured allowance of many patents that had been previously rejected. Their advertisement in another column, will be of interest to inventors, patentees, manufacturers, and all who have to do with patents.

In another column of THE MIST will be found the advertisement of the Farmers' & Merchants' Insurance Company, of Albany, Oregon. We take pleasure in recommending this company to our readers as being the most prompt of any in the state in adjusting and paying losses. The editor of this paper did the first business in Columbia county for this company and always found them prompt in all matters connected with the insurance business.

THE MIST, as usual, again scores a point in publishing the proceedings of the republican county convention a week ahead of all its contemporaries. If you want the news read THE MIST.

Don't fail to attend the dramatic entertainment at the Masonic hall next Thursday night. Bear in mind that this play will be produced one night only.

On Tuesday night at Houlton the train ran over and killed a 2-year-old steer belonging to C. S. Emerson.

"Comrades," one night only at Masonic hall March 31.

See the ad. of Mrs. C. L. Colburn in another column.

CLATSKANIE.

W. A. Edgerton was a passenger for Portland on Tuesday.

V. O. Hood also took an airing to visit the metropolis.

Charles Ebermeyer is engaged at Elliott's camp and was in town with the team the first of the week for supplies.

It so happened that our merchants all got out of chop and shorts for feed at the same time, but when the feed was sold out they had to turn to the stock out or try some other substitute. A supply came in on Monday evening.

Another thing that was unpleasant as well as remarkable was a scarcity of fresh butter for two or three days. It could not be found in market here.

C. A. Humphe has been confined to the house again for the past week; A. M. Helverer has also been nursing himself in doors for a few days.

Mrs. John English came in Monday evening to spend some time with her parents and friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Merrill went to Woodland and elsewhere the first of the week.

Henry Brown has his new skid road about ready for getting logs to the stream on the A. Barr place.

The supervisor has been having some needed work done on the Marshland road. The bridge has been built around the iron cylinder at Butan's mill, and the logs have all been taken out so that a horse can get through the entire distance from here to Marshland. It saves climbing a tremendous hill and will be appreciated by the traveling public.

Johnson and Kelly are busy this week hauling lumber from Tichenor's mill, which has started up for a summer's campaign.

Two well known Clatskanians, Cliff Overstreet and Will Myers returned to the city this week, after an absence of several months. They look as though they had fared well while away.

Rev. Westerber, a Scandinavian minister from Portland, came in on Friday evening expecting to go to seaper on horseback, the horse to be sent here by a correspondent. The animal failed to arrive, and the Rev. gentleman remained over Sabbath here, and after the afternoon service, he also held services on Monday evening while awaiting for the steamer. All these services were in English and very highly appreciated.

A meeting of citizens to place in nomination persons to fill the various city offices for the ensuing year was held in the city hall on Saturday afternoon, and was largely attended; that there were no chairs enough to seat the audience, a part having to stand. The following gentlemen however were placed in nomination: A. M. Tichenor was unanimously nominated for president of the council, a position he fills ably at present. He was not at the meeting and therefore did not decline, and it is hoped will give the city the benefit of his services for another year. An entirely new council ticket was nominated, consisting of C. W. Jones, W. E. Conyers, W. H. Foutz, M. O. Bryant; for recorder, R. S. Hattan; for treasurer, A. J. Myers.

MARSHLAND.

Charles McDonald left for Westport Saturday, where he will work in McFarland's logging camp.

Dave McDonald went to Clatskanie last week to continue work for O. E. Elliott.

The boys of back ranch No. 1 have completed the work in Dead Men's canyon.

Mr. Johnston, of Clatskanie, was in the village Sunday purchasing horses.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Graham visited Clatskanie last week.

Several of Marshland's energetic young ladies visited the Clatskanie Sunday school last Sunday. They report having a splendid joy in seeing their respective teachers on their return home, but they say it was alright.

The question for debate next Saturday evening is, "Resolved that the largest city in the state should be the capital of the state." Speakers: Affirmative, Silvio Graham, A. S. Graham and W. L. Graham; Negative, Lloyd Graham, James Wallace and Louis Jarvey.

TREYON ITEMS.

Joe Doherty and Freddie Winchester went to the city of Rainier Sunday.

The young people of Treyon will soon be experts in the art of tampering with the wheels of a wagon.

We would like to know what young man went to St. Helens for last week.

Mr. Domskie is visiting relatives at this place. He intends visiting Astoria and Ilwaco before returning to his home in Truitt.

A. K. Morgan, of Beaver Valley, was visiting at the postoffice Sunday.

Mrs. Lucy Little, of Lost creek, was visiting Mrs. S. H. Tryon this week.

Moore, of St. Helens, we hereby instruct our delegates to the republican state convention to present his name to said convention for nomination to the office of judge of the supreme court, and to give him earnest and united support for said nomination.

Judge Moore was called for, and after thanking the convention for its unsolicited endorsement, made a few remarks in reference to the progress of Columbia county under the republican administration of the county's affairs. At the conclusion of his remarks Hon. G. W. McBride was called to the floor and was greeted with great applause, and in a few well timed remarks endorsed the ticket just nominated.

Thomas Watts, W. H. Conyers and Chas Mayer were chosen as county central committee.

COMMUNICATED.

Error Mist—The county commissioners examined the bridge across the Merrill lake about two weeks ago, and told some parties here that they were not able to do any thing at present but recommend to move the road from the east side to the west side of the lake. It is my opinion that this will be quite impossible, besides it will be very expensive, even as much as to fill the bridge as recommended last winter, (which will be cheaper in thirty years than to reconstruct.)

The present road from Deer Island to the lake runs on a high gravel ridge which is never muddy and always in good condition, and to think that the people are foolish enough to change it to a place which will always be muddy along the foot of a springy clay hill, is entirely out of the question. My attention has been called to still a cheaper way to cross the lake, by grading a road from the railroad to the county grade road along the company's hill. The gravel can be dumped off the railroad track and shoveled out into the lake so as to form a wagon road at a very small expense. The county had an opportunity last fall and still possesses, which they may never possess again. Mr. C. S. Rogers is still here with his steam shovels, and it may be possible that he could still do the work before moving. He offered last fall to fill a bank across the lake with coarse rock and gravel at 25 cents a cubic yard, and was willing to bid for the job. It was undoubtedly a golden opportunity for the county. In changing the road as proposed by the commissioners, will give Mr. C. S. Rogers an expense of $100,000. The cost of buying the right-of-way, surveying and laying out, grading building the road equal to such as we now have, is an amount of the opinion it will cost more than to fill the lake in its widest part.

The cost of building a board fence is about $400 a mile. It will take 1600 boards 12x12, 10 feet long, and 40 cents per board, or $640,000 delivered. It will take 900 posts at about 15 cents each delivered on the ground. It will take four kegs of nails at $5 per keg, and about 40 cents per rod to build it. The cost of buying the right-of-way, surveying and laying out, grading building the road equal to such as we now have, is an amount of the opinion it will cost more than to fill the lake in its widest part. A. F. McDONALD.

School House Notes.

Misses Emily Cox and Tillie Muckle, former pupils of this school, are attending the St. Mary's Academy in Portland, and were home on a visit last Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Mattie Perry commenced school last Thursday. We are glad to have her with us again.

Miss Anna Swager was a welcome visitor at school last Friday.

Newton Sunday was absent this week on account of sickness.

One of our school girls feels very sad. Don't grieve, she will return sometime.

Mary Gilmore was a visitor at school Friday, and Eugene Whitney Monday.

The closing exercises of the La Center school will take place Saturday evening, March 26. Mr. E. A. Beuret has taught the school for three years.

The school at Milton will commence April 4th. Mrs. Ross, of Wisconsin, a sister of Edwin Ross, of this place, has been employed to teach the school.

Last Friday afternoon the pupils ar ranged themselves on the sunny side of the school house and had their pictures "taken." We have not seen a proof of the picture yet, but if it lacks either grace or beauty it is the artist's fault.

St. Helens has the best school in the county; not the most pupils enrolled, but the best average attendance and the longest term of school during the year. Teachers send in your reports and have them published. We want to know what other schools are doing.

A bright little boy of this district questioned his mother one day recently, concerning the beauties and grandeur of Heaven. And when told the stars were part of a gold, he asked, "And the fireworks were gold too?" His mother answered that she thought they were.

"Well," said he, "if the angels should pull up a plank and throw it down to St. Helens wouldn't there be a scramble for it?"

A Million Friends.

A friend in need is a friend indeed, and not less than one million people have found just such a friend in Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds.

If you have never used this great cough medicine, one trial will convince you that it has wonderful curative powers in all diseases of throat, chest and lungs. Each bottle is guaranteed to do all that is claimed or money will be refunded. Trial bottles free at Edwin Ross' drug store. Large bottles 50c and $1.
