The Marion County Democrat will hereafter be issued semi-weekly, but the subscription and advertising rates will remain the same. Realizing the necessity for a live democratic paper at the state capital, the democrats of the state should show their appreciation therefor by extending a liberal patronage.

Dr. W. C. Belt, a graduate of Trinity University, of Toronto, Canada, is now permanently located here, and is able to attend to all business pertaining to his line of profession. The doctor was formerly medical assistant in the City hospital at Hamilton, Ontario. We wish him success and welcome him among us.

Flores T. owned by W. D. Connell, of Deer Island, won two races at City View last week. In the 2:50 class she won the first and third heats, carrying a purse of $250, and in the 2:40 class she won three straight heats, making the second heat in 2:35 with out a break. This was also for a purse of $250. Flores T. promises to be a winner, and before the close of the season she will greatly lower this splendid record.

Judge T. A. McBride, of Oregon City, Dr. Willis Moore, of Salem, Attorney L. Adams, of Union, Dr. James McBride and Geo. M. McBride returned from Echo Lake, near Mount St. Helens, Monday, having been absent about a week. They were unable to ascend to the top of the mountain on account of snow. At the upper camp they found twelve feet of snow, and did not undertake to go further. In Echo Lake they caught a fine string of trout—about fifty in number—measuring from twelve to fifteen inches long. They all returned well pleased with their trip.

A sad accident occurred at the gravel pit at Scappoose on Wednesday last in which Conductor Rowe of the Northern Pacific work train lost his life. His train of flat cars was backing out from the pit, with Rowe standing on the foremost car as they were backing up. The engineer suddenly applied the air on the brakes, causing a quick stoppage, throwing the Conductor in front of the moving cars, which ran over him, cutting off both legs and both arms. As soon as possible the unfortunate man was taken to the hospital in Portland where he died soon after. It is said that while the train was under way he was throwing pebbles at some chipmunks along the track, and was entirely off his balance at the time of the sudden jerk caused by the application of the air brakes.

The new steamer Flyer, owned by the Columbia River and Puget Sound Navigation company, was burned at Seattle Tuesday night. The Flyer was built a Portland last summer and subsequently taken to the sound, after which it was found necessary to partly rebuild which has just been completed. She cost $120,000, including the machinery valued at $75,000. The owners intend to rebuild her as soon as the insurance companies make an adjustment. Insurance $75,000. The steamer's hull and machinery are not thought to be seriously damaged.

This office acknowledges the receipt of an invitation to attend the meeting of the State Teachers' Association to be held at Portland June 28, 29, 30, and July 1, 1892, issued from the office of the state superintendent; also the announcement and catalogue of "Oregon's" Educational Exhibit at the World's Columbian Exposition, Chicago, 1893. All persons interested in educational matters are requested to aid in this school work and assist in extending educational matters.

CLATSkanie.

Mrs. Mary Lockwood, of La Center, is visiting friends in this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Overturf came in on the steamer last Friday, and are spending a few days with their daughter, Mrs. R. S. Hatton.

We neglected to mention last week that Messrs. Fannie and Abbie Bryant are home again from Centralia, Wash to spend the summer vacation with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bryant.

They finished a nine months term of public school in Centralia, and the fact that they are employed at a good salary for like positions during the coming school year is an evidence that their work as teachers has been successful and satisfactory.

Mr. C. E. Smith and family now occupying the Harvey Genn house are recent additions to the city.

Talking of additions, we mentioned some time ago that Elliott Wood had an addition built to his house, and this week we learn that there is an addition to the family, of one boy. The little fellow is being kindly cared for and gives promise of becoming a worthy citizen and straight republican.

E. J. Page and wife and child are spending the week in town coming in from their ranch on Monday evening with their carriage (baby carriage).

Capt. Jim Shaver is still limping from an injury to his shin a few days ago.

Miss Bryant is another cripple temporarily from an injury received at the sawmill Tuesday.

A casualty that might have been severe happened to C. H. Jones at the new school on King Monday, when the end of a long stalling fall and struck him on the head confining him to the house a couple of days after wards.

A. F. Myers is on a claim this week in the Rock creek region. He thinks a little outing of that kind will do him good.

A strawberry festival is announced for Friday evening for the benefit of the cornet band. The boys want to come out in new suits on the Fourth of July, and there is no reason why they should not do so, if the where-withal can be provided.

Mentioning the Fourth of July suggests the notice that T. J. Cleston, county superintendent elect, has promised to be with us on that day and deliver an oration. Mr. Cleston's political effort in our place was highly complimented, and the public will be pleased to hear from him again on the Fourth.

Mr. Amos Erickson and Miss Lizette Nelson, of our place, took themselves to Portland last Saturday and returned Monday evening man and wife. The girls got out among the boys who gathered about 10 p. m. in front of A. M. Tichenor's residence, where the bride has been living, and made night record with their rate and chatter for some time, keeping the community from getting too sleepy. It was their congratulation to the newly married pair very freely expressed.

Mr. E. C. Blackford of the Chief was taking in the larger city on the Willamette part of this week, returning Wednesday evening.

Miss Doyle, of Portland, is visiting in town and vicinity this week.

Mr. John Ludwig came in from Portland Monday on a visit to his nephew, J. M. and E. C. Blackford, and other friends, and is spending a few days as a vacation. We understand he is engaged to do some of the finishing on the Oregonian and other buildings in Portland.

The Conyers mercantile firm had a good job of cleaning up done around their building recently.

W. A. Edgerton is in Portland this week on business.

A Remarkable Cure of Rheumatism

Messrs. C. G. and Sherman, of Alexander, Texas, write us regarding a remarkable cure of rheumatism there as follows: "The wife of Mr. Wm. Pruitt, the postmaster here, had been bedridden with rheumatism for several years. She could get nothing to do her any good. We sold her a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and she was completely cured by its use. We refer any one to her to verify this statement."

50-cent bottles for sale by Edwin Ross.

TWELVE MEN KILLED.

Explosion in the Shell Room at Mare Island Navy Yard.

VALLEJO, Cal., June 13.—The people here were startled this morning at 11:30 o'clock by a report which shook the town like a sharp shock of earthquake. Immediately the fire bells in the yard were rung, and the conclusion reached that there was a fire on Mare Island, down at the magazine, that belched forth into the sky an immense cloud of smoke. As soon as it was high enough the people's eyes were turned thither, and for half an hour report after report was heard as the shells exploded. Immediately the entire navy-yard force rushed for the scene, and when true facts came to light a horrible scene presented itself. The first spectacle to greet the eyes was the burned and charred bodies of two apprentice seamen on the beach, two hundred yards from the scene of the explosion. To the southeast on a narrow body of a seaman was on the way to the hospital. Going further on to the scene a horrible sight met the gaze. Amidst the ruins and all around on the sidewalks were seen bodies and pieces of bodies scattered here and there. The bodies were taken out as fast as possible, and when all were along side of each other they counted twelve, with Gunner Hittinger, of the United States cruiser Boston, at the head. Some were cut in two, others missing a leg or arm or head. Twelve were killed outright, and three were taken to the hospital wounded, but dying. Two of these were the apprentices picked up on the beach. The explosion had thrown them into the bay, and a boat from a merchantman at Starr mills, on the opposite side, rescued them and went on to the shore and ruins for the others. The cuticle of almost the entire bodies of these was, as well as their clothes, was blown off, and yet they were conscious and were able to move, but will die.

A Million Friends. A friend in need is a friend indeed, and not less than one million people have found just such a friend in Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds. If you have never used this great cough medicine, one trial will convince you that it has wonderful curative powers in all diseases of throat, chest and lungs. Each bottle is guaranteed to do all that is claimed or money will be refunded. Trial bottles free at Edwin Ross' drug store. Large bottles 50c and $1.

WOULD NOT TAKE $10,000.

How Mr. Wilson was Cured by Dr. Darrin—The Doctor Also Cured Mr. Crook of Stricture After Five Doctors Had Failed.

(Morning Oregonian, June 13.)

Editor Oregonian: For twenty-eight years I had been seriously afflicted with piles and pedaps of the rectum. Never in that time did I have a movement of the bowels without pushing the tumors back. I became so weakened and sick that I could not work or attend to business. I suffered all the "torments of the damned" until I came to Dr. Darrin April 2. With their treatment I am happy to say I am perfectly cured. I would not take $10,000 and be placed where I was before the operation. I reside at Mist, Columbia county, Or. J. H. Wilson.

REMARKABLE CURE OF STRICTURE.

Mr. Editor: Having been troubled with urethral stricture for eleven years, and having been cured by Dr. Darrin, I wish to tell others how and where it was done, that they may avail themselves of the doctor's wonderful skill. I have been under Dr. Darrin's treatment three weeks, and am now perfectly well. I never lost a day's work while under his treatment. For months prior to the operation I was confined to my bed with pain and suffering beyond description. Five doctors failed to ease me during the past eleven years. I reside at 264 Third street, Portland. B. C. Cook.

Dr. Darrin can be found at 2704 Washington street, Portland, Oregon; Review building, Spokane, Wash.; the Hotel Northern, Astoria, Or.; from 10 to 5 daily, 7 to 8 evenings; Sunday, 10 to 12.

They make a specialty of the electric as well as medical and surgical treatment of all diseases of eye, ear, nose, throat, catarrh, deafness, bronchitis, le gippe, consumption, dyspepsia, heart, liver, and kidney diseases. All nervous, chronic, and private diseases of men, including stricture, hydrocele, varicocele, and all peculiar female troubles are confidentially and successfully treated. Most cases can receive home treatment after a visit to the doctor's office. Inquiries answered. Circulars and question blanks sent free. Consultation free.

The State Analysis.

JOLLY WAYS OF A "TACITURN" RACE.

New York's German Clubs Have Very Queer Names and No End of Fun.

A very long time ago, possibly as far back as the days of that contagious old prevaricator, Sir John Mandeville, there got into literature and the minds of men a certain fixed definite idea that the Germans were a slow, taciturn, phlegmatic race, with no particular sense of humor and fond of nothing but beer, intricate music and silence. It is wonderful how a misconception like that will cling when it once gets fairly implanted. Every person who has ever been in Germany or among the Germans in this country knows this notion to be a national slander, and still I suppose it is as widely spread and generally believed as ever.

The Germans a taciturn race, eh? Go into one of their cafes on the east side some night and see. The babel of voices that arises is almost deafening. Everybody is talking, everybody is laughing. There is more genuine mirth and merriment than in any Parisian cafe chantant. Phlegmatic, eh? They get more fun and jollity in a night than most of the rest of us do in a week. Why, the Germans are the most sociable, talkative, life enjoying, gregarious, companionable and altogether happy lot of people in the metropolis.

There is scarcely a German resident of New York, who is of normal temperament and any degree of prosperity, who doesn't belong to at least one organization of a jolly sort. It will be odd if he doesn't belong to at least three or four. In the winter season these clubs make the German quarters merry with nightly meetings, dances and dinners. Second avenue is the center of German amusement. Drop over there some night if you want to see the phlegmatic race raising old Ned.

The social club is the great medium of German social enjoyment, and I suppose there must be 2,000 or 3,000 such clubs in New York city. Most of them are never heard of, because they meet at members' houses or in quiet cafes. Sometimes they have the queerest names. There is one called the "Lootenverein" or Pilot association, the members of which are pledged to pilot one another home after meetings. There is the "Die Wasservogel" or Water Birds, so called because its members never touch water. There is the "Bankrotter" club or Bankrupts, of which the members, it is hardly necessary to say, are not at all penniless. There are the "Suppenknocken" or "Samphones," the "Rappelkopp" or Crooked Heads, the "Ochsenfrosche" or Bullfrogs, the "Verein der Chronisch Unzufrieden" or Company of Chronic Malcontents, the "Kahlkopf Guard" or Baldheaded Guard, and so on.

A very well known dramatic club is called Pomuchelkopp, from a character in Fitz Reuter's "Uncle Bragis." One singing society is called the Blue Union, another the Turnip and a third the Paragraph II.

At the meetings of these clubs there is always singing, something to eat and drink, very likely dancing and always the utmost good feeling. Some of them have very amusing performances. Their membership ranges from 10 to 300 each, and altogether they must have 30,000 on the rolls.—New York Herald.

Mice That Giddily Spin.

At a meeting of the Zoological society Mr. Slater exhibited some curious black and white mice recently added to the society's collection of living animals. These creatures are the product of Japanese ingenuity, and show several curious characteristics. Their black and white color is remarkable, since they appear to be merely a variety of the common domestic mouse. They have a habit, too, of pursuing their own tails.

This habit is paralleled in a remarkable way by the "rumbler" pig-sons. In the two cases it may possibly be due to a defect in brain structure. In any case, the peculiarities are handed down from parent to offspring in both animals. The mice are usually called "spinning mice."—Pall Mall Gazette.

Rubber Shoes and Chest Protectors.

Rubber shoes and arctics during wet and snowy weather will serve to keep the feet dry and warm. The so-called chest protectors and all arctics intended to cover only certain parts of the body with thick flannel are not desirable, as they render such an area very sensitive to cold.—Babyhood.

MRS. C. L. COLBURN.

The most beautiful diamond by far that I have ever seen was the one found at Kimberley by a little American named Porter Rhodes. I paid twenty five dollars just to look at it. The sight was a liberal education for a diamond expert. He afterward sold it to the Countess of Dudley for $500,000. It was lost once before it left Africa, and Rhodes presented the Zulu who returned it with a reward of $75,000.—Interview in Chicago Tribune.
