The Oregon Mist.

United States and County Official Paper

St. Helens, October 14, 1892.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Hon Sol Hirsch, United States minister to Turkey, has resigned and will return to Portland.

Mr. W. H Conyers, of Clatskanie, took in the Worlds Fair Entertainment at Delena last Saturday evening.

Hon N. Merrill and lady, of Clatskanie, were passengers on the steamer Shaver for Portland Tuesday.

Dr. Meserve, of Delena, fell from a scaffold on Friday last while at work on his house, recieving quite painful injuries.

Those who desire to carry their lunch baskets with them on the excursion need not hesitate about doing so, as many will doubtless do so.

A petition to the weather bureau for a nice day for the Sunday excursion would not meet with a remonstrance—not on our part at least.

W. M. Braden, of the Nehalem Journal, Vernonia, stopped in a few moments Thursday, on his way home from Portland. And he was sober, too.

The contract for carrying the United State mail from Delena to Mayger three trips a week, has been awarded to Mr. John Cramer until June 30, 1894.

Mr. M. A Royer, of Reuben, made us a pleasant call Saturday. He had occasion to visit the County Clerk's office in reference to a land claim and went home happy and will vote the straight republican ticket.

Remember that by patronizing the excursion next Sunday you will accomplish two objects, viz: that of enjoying yourself and assisting Columbia county in her exhibit at the Worlds Fair.

The Mist office has just received a large invoice of job printing paper direct from the wholesale house of Blake, McFall & Co., and are prepared to print letter heads, note and bill heads, envelopes, cards, etc., at prices that cannot be duplicated in Portland.

Mr. W. W. West, of Scappoose, Or., made nine entries of Swapshire sheep at the recent fat stock show at Portland, and received seven first premiums and one second premium. Mr. West has a number of Swapshire rams for sale.

Since the rains the first of the week the weather cleared up beautifully, air pure and bracing, and Mount St. Helens looming up in the distance with her mantle of white. A wet blanket, so to speak, dampens the romance of the picture and we drop the curtain.

W. N. Colvig is booked for a democratic speach in St. Helens this (Friday) evening. It is to be presumed that he will satisfactorily explain the McKinley tariff and how the people are taxed to death on articles they don't pay any taxes on.

John Gilmore, the night watchman now patrols and is under pay of the property owners from the mill to the Banquet saloon, clothed with necessary police authrity. This may be considered a good thing during court week, as there is no telling what trouble our legal friends are liable to get into. We advise them to steer clear of the night watchman.

Many years' practice have given C. A. Snow & Co., solicitors of patents at Washington, D. C., unsurpassed success in obtaining patents in all classes of inventions. They make a specialty of rejected cases, and have secured allowance of many patents that had been previously rejected. Their advertisement in another column, will be of interest to inventors, patentee, manufactures, and all who have to do with patents.

A grand republican ralley was held at the court house in St. Helens last night. Among the speakers announced to be present and adress the meeting were Hon. G. W. McBride, Hon. W. N. Barrett and Judge John F. Caples. Time and space are too limited to particularize as to the speeches, but they were good and had the true republican ring in them, showing that the speakers have not lost faith in the republican party by a long shot.

The Holmes Business College, of Portland, Ore., is now a day and boarding school, so parents who send their sons and daughters away to a business school, can feel that they are surrounded by a school atmosphere and home influences. Every young man, and woman as well, should have a business education. It fits them to do business for themselves, and a good bookkeeper or stenographer can always find employment. Send for catalogue of the Holmes Business College. o14-21

If the readers of the Mist notice any shortcomings in this issue of the paper they will please atribute it to the fact that Mr. Beegle has been called upon a second time to mourn for one near and dear to him. Only a few short weeks ago he laid to rest his dearly beloved wife and mother of his baby boy. On Wednesday morning he received a telegram from Hillsboro that his baby boy was dead, and at noon left for that city on a painful errand. While the father may mourn the child as dead to him here, he can draw comfort from the thought that his baby spirit has gone to join that of his mother.

The committee of arrangements in St. Helens to raise funds for the benefit of the world's fair club have chartered the steamer Joseph Kellogg to take an excursion to Portland next Sunday to attent the last sacred concert at the exposition. The concert will take place at 2:30 in the afternoon. The Kellogg leaves Rainier at 8:15 A. M. arriving at Portland in good time for the concert. She will touch all regular landings on the route. This will afford an excellent opportunity for all those who wish to hear the great American band of Providence, R, I., play, and also to hear Madam Morgan, the vocalist sing. Fare round trip 50 cents.

DELENA.

Although the evening of the World's Fair entertainment at this place was very rainy and unpleasant, yet the hall was well filled at an early hour with people from all parts of the county, who listened very attentively to a long and interesting program.

The opening address, delivered by Miss Fannie Burk in behalf of the cause in this county, was a decided success and reflected great credit upon her. The exhibition given by Company "A," Clatskanie broom brigade, was highly appreciated. The young ladies deserve great praise for their efficiency in going through the manual of arms. The song, "On the Stepstone," rendered by Miss Atra Matthews, was so well appreciated that she was loudly encored. Miss Mildred Bole made a gret hit in the masterly manner in which she delivered "The Three Lovers," also "The Famine." Miss Christie Burk's recitation of the "Legend of the Brigands" was highly appreciated. Miss Louise Barr rendered very valuable service in the musical part of the program. Professor T. J. Cleeton declaimed "Spartacus to the Gladiators" to a delighted audience, and his closing remarks in behalf of the World's Fair greatly stimulated and enthused the audience.

The music by Mr. J. G. Henrici of Portland, assisted by home talent, was an especially entertaining part of the program. In fact, all who took part in the entertainment acquitted themselves in a highly creditable manner, and well merited the enthusiastic applause which they received.

The Columbia County World's Fair Club extends its thanks to all who took part in so delightful an entertainment, and for the liberal contribution amounting to $13.67. Also the club is greatly indebted to the Oregon Mist for assisting so liberally in this enterprise. The Mist is always alive to the best interests of the county and deserves the patronage of all.

The Meserve Bros. and the Wagner boys have been to considerable expense in erecting the hall, and good judgment was shown in the arrangement of the stage and dressing rooms. When finished it will be as comfortable as any hall in the county for public use. To them also is largely due credit for arranging and carrying out the following

MISS BURK'S ADDRESS.

Four centuries ago the American continent lay a sea embraced solitude, as it were; unknown to, unheard of, undreamed of by man. Here it lay known only to the bird and the beast, the home of the Redman with his rude wigwam, his dress of deer skin, his bow and arrows.

But lo! one day in Oct. in the year of 1492 there came over the waters three great white winged birds bearing with them angles from heaven as they appeared to the astonished natives. You know the rest, how they came and vanished, these came and went.

A hundred years pass and there exists away down in a remote corner of that "land of flowers" a single, lone colony; over here at Santa Fe, another in all that vast territory that today constitutes the greates republic on earth.

Another hundred years and there extends northward, from Florida to Maine, a line of twelve such colonies, each struggling for existence against all those hardships incident to pioneer life; threatened from without by the cruelties of the savage, from within by an oppressive government.

Another century and something new under the sun, the child, America, liberty, has been born and cradled and fostered. Thirteen colonies circled around it resolutions have been passed: "Articles of confederation" and a constitution has been successively built up about it. Men have fought bled, and died for it. The oppressor is vanquished, he is gone and a wondering world beholds a peculiar people each a soverign who may enjoy "life liberty and the pursuits of happiness" with none to molest or to make him afraid; a people who may say with pride, my home, my country, America.

Another century, the fourth and last has almost passed. The oppressed from every nation under the sun have come to make homes with us, to share our bounties and our freedom.

Today we are a union of forty-four states. Forty-four stars dot the blue of our emblem true. To our inventive genius belongs some of the most valuble of modern inventions. We are a nation of wealth, education and culture, with every man a free man.

Today, we are assembling in our queen of cities, Chicago, a representation of what we possess as a nation; our natural resources; our progress in science, literature and art; our inventions; our wealth and our people; that we may honor him our noble discoverer, Columbus; and that we as a nation may compare our achievements with those of our neighbors; that we may learn of them that we may broaden our views, that we may overcome national and party predjudices; that we may justly estimate ourselves and be stimulated to nobler and higher aims; that our voters may see and reallize the complication and the importance of the interest entrausted to to their care; that they may endevor to so cast their influence as to preserve inviolate those principles of American liberty bequeathed to us by our fathers at the expense of their lives, that we through our negligence and our ignorance may not be called upon to exclaim with madam Roland "Oh, liberty what crime, have been committed in thy name!" For you remember that the orator long ago when we were yet young as a nation declared "we must educate or we must perish through our own posterity."

To this end we are all asked to contribute, and the call comes: Oregon, what will you do? Oregon with your varied resources, your delightful climate, your verdant hills, your fruitful valleys, your noble rivers, your trees and your flowers.

Columbia Co., they say we want your trees represented. Our trees? Of Columbia county our pride. Our noble trees whose verdure never leaves? Yes, fellow teachers, citizens of Columbia county, to answer this call is the object of this entertainment. Upon me has fallen the duty of welcoming you to this our effort in behalf of the enterprise to which after the entertainment, we shall ask you to contribute according to the interest you feel in the undertaking. Hoping that we may interest you in the cause as well as the entertainment. I bid you all a hearty welcome.

This Remedy was used there with great success. For sale by Edwin Ross, druggist.

J. B. Wilson, 371 Clay St., Sharpsburg, Pa., says he will not be without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, that it cured his wife who was threatened with pneumonia after an attack of la grippe, when various other remedies and several physicians had done her no good. Robert Barber, of Cooksport, Pa., claims Dr. King's New Discovery has done him more good than anything he ever used for lung trouble. Nothing like it. Try it. Free trial bottles at Edwin Ross' drug store.

On last Saturday about 2 o'clock the steamer Willamette, of the Union Pacific system, and the Premier of the Canadian line, collided near Port Townsend during a dense fog. There were four persons killed outright and about thirty seriously injured, some with broken limbs and body bruises of all descriptions. The Willamette was on her way from Seattle to San Francisco laden with coal, while the Premier was euroute from British Columbia to Tacoma. The former vessel struck the Premier on her forward quarter, almost cutting her in two, and greatly damaging the collier. The vessels could not be separated until they were towed ashore and then only by the assistance of two large tugs. As soon as they were released the Premier sank to the bottom. The only cause given for the disaster was a mistake in signals.
