ST. HELENS, OCTOBER 23, 1892.

THE nation mourns—not the death of the president, but of the one most dear to him. Mrs. Harrison, after many months of pain and suffering, yet brave and patient to the last, expired at 10:40 Monday morning, surrounded by her bereaved and heart-broken family and many warm friends. The president's great affliction can be realized only by those who have suffered the loss of their all upon earth—a true and loving wife.

MRS. LEASE FOR HARRISON.

A dispatch bearing date of Topeka, Kan., October 15, gives an interview with Mrs. Lease, the populist party "cyclone," in which we find the following:

"The sensation of the day in Kansas is the interview with Mrs. Lease, who has been accompanying Gen. Weaver in his tour through the Southern states. She recites the indignities they were subjected to, and then declares that 'if a vote for Weaver is in reality a vote for Cleveland in this state her desire is that the populists scratch their ticket and vote for the Harrison electors.' Mrs. Lease, is, next to Jerry Simpson, the strongest leader of the Kansas populists, and her expressed wishes have caused great consternation not only in her own party, but among the democrats.

"Mrs. Lease is showing that she has more common sense than she was supposed to possess. When she was down in Georgia she told the Cleveland democrats that 'they were hurting their fat prophet by their ill-behavior, and that every decayed egg thrown at Weaver meant a gain in the West of a thousand votes for Harrison.' She appears now to have made the further discovery that 'every vote for Weaver is an indirect vote for Cleveland; that every elector taken from Harrison and given to Weaver is merely one given to Cleveland, while every elector seemingly taken from Cleveland and given to Weaver is still a Cleveland elector, and that the democratic game is to use the Weaverites to prevent Harrison's election and throw it into the house, where the democrats control 30 state delegations out of 44. There is no possible show of electing Weaver. The choice lies between Cleveland and Harrison. If the populists prefer the Buzzard Bay prophet they should vote for him directly, and not in the indirect way of voting for Weaver in order to throw the election into the house, where Cleveland has a dead sure thing of it. If they prefer Harrison they should vote for him. They should have too much self-respect to figure in history as mere stool-pigeons for Cleveland.'"

CLATSkanie.

The pleasant weather of the past few days has improved Nehalem even considerably. The varied tints of the foliage on the hills about here present a scene of beauty worth a visit from Portland to see. Four motherless young chickens were wandering around the streets this week in search of shelter and food. The mayor's attention is respectfully called to the matter, as the weather is likely to be colder before they feather out enough for their own protection.

John Hunt seems to have been the only man who remembered there was to be an eclipse of the sun last Thursday morning, but he was liberal with his smoked glass and let his neighbors have a look through it. A splendid view of the eclipse was obtained by those fortunate enough to get a sight through the glass. Merrill's hall has been lighted each evening this week, rehearsing for the "Deestrick Skule," to come off Friday evening. The laughing one hears in passing suggests that there must be some fun in it.

Miss Fannie Meserve, of Delena, was a visitor in town for two or three days. One of the landmarks in the shape of the old schoolhouse was removed this week and its fragments taken to S. Kelly's new place to go as far as they will into a new house for Mr. Kelly's family. The grounds about where the old schoolhouse stood have been very greatly improved lately, and make a magnificent building site, which, we understand, W. K. Tichenor intends utilizing as a location for a dwelling in the near future.

Houses in town are at a premium this fall, partly owing to the desire to get children near enough to attend school. Columbus Day was very fittingly observed here last Friday, the schools taking the most prominent part in the exercises. The two schools of the town were joined by those of the Barr and Marshland districts, under charge of Mr. Powell and Miss Boyle. Quite a delegation also came in from the Finn district, where Mr. Hatton is teaching. At 1 p. m. the pupils, with veterans and citizens generally, having assembled at Conyer's hall, marched in procession to the new school building, headed by the Clatskanie Cornet Band, and took position outside the building to hear the proclamation read by Prof. Cleaton, followed by a recitation entitled "Union and Liberty," splendidly rendered by Mabel Blackford. At the close of this recitation a flag was run up over the top of the belfry, and as it opened to the breeze Mrs. Keasey led the schools in a salute to the flag and pledge of loyalty, after which the whole assemblage united in three cheers for the flag. These being given the march was continued to the upper story of the school building, where seats had been provided and a great deal had been done in the way of decorations. Evergreens and bright tinted maple leaves had been tastefully intertwined and hung about the windows, while evergreen wreaths were suspended overhead. A beautifully arranged cross occupied a place near the platform, and near it stood a table covered by flowers so as to produce a very pleasing effect. A programme consisting of music, recitations, scraps from the events connected with the discovery by Columbus took up the next hour and were both entertaining and instructive. Prof. Cleaton, who had charge of these exercises, closed by a few appropriate remarks and the audience quietly dispersed to meditate and exchange thoughts as to this great country discovered by Columbus 400 years ago. M. O. Bryant displayed a good deal of nerve as well as muscle in getting a flagstaff placed in position on top of the belfry of the schoolhouse, ready for Columbus Day. It was a difficult and somewhat dangerous thing to accomplish.

MONMOUTH NOTES. United States Senator Dolph addressed the students in the chapel a week ago Thursday. Rev. T. F. Campbell also addressed the students on "What to Study and How to Study It." There is enrolled at the present 305 in the normal and 20 in the model. A traveling photographer for the World's Fair Lithographing company made a photograph of the entire school as they marched out to dinner a week ago Friday. A tournament will be given by the athletic society on the 29th, consisting of various athletic sports, racing, and a game of baseball on the college grounds. Miss Fanny A. Ayers, of South Dakota, has just arrived and will teach voice culture, while Miss Bruce will teach instrumental music. Mrs. De Gibson has now 160 boarders at the normal dining hall. The students meet twice a week in the chapel to practice singing. Two glee clubs have been organized, consisting of 12 members each—one of ladies and one of gentlemen. There is a band here, mostly students, consisting of 18 pieces. About two miles of new sidewalk have been built here, and two new churches are being erected—Baptist and Evangelical.

DELENA.

Major Rineson expects to begin work on his new residence this week. William Holsapple returned from Portland last week and expects to reside in Beaver Valley hereafter. Miss Alta Matthews was unable to teach school the first of last week, owing to sickness. Miss Matthews is an earnest worker and much appreciated by all her pupils. Miss Fannie Burk, in charge of the Delena school, is doing good work. Miss Fannie Meserv' spent Friday and Saturday of last week attending the school entertainment at Clatskanie and visiting friends at Marshland. Mr. and Mrs. W. Wonderly also attended the exercises given by the Clatskanie school, and report having had an enjoyable time. We are informed that one of Wm. Holm's children was badly burned a short time since, but not fatally, we hope.

CARICO VALLEY.

Beautiful weather at present. Columbus Day was enjoyed by the Paris school, in District No. 43, by the pupils and parents and friends. Reading, speaking and singing, and a splendid dinner was spread, of which all partook and felt that it was good to be there. Sherman Vosberg is moving his goods to the Floyd Fowler farm, where he expects to live this winter. Jesse Hendricks and wife went to the dance at Houlton last night. We learn there is to be a dance at Alonso Smith's next Friday night. He has just built a new house, 18x24. B. F. Pope did the carpenter work. We learn that Thomas Holstein had a runaway scrape today, breaking one wheel of his buggy and the horse getting away from him. Tom was hurt a little. Frank Myers is home from the bay, where he has been hauling wood. H. Howard came up on Friday and took his little son Harry home to make a visit with his other children. S. Rock came home last night from H. Howard's, where he works. There will be an exhibition at the Paris school house Friday, November

25. It will be the last week of a six months term. We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. For sale by Edwin Ross, druggist.

A Cure for Cholera.

There is no use of any one suffering with the cholera when Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy can be procured. It will give relief in a few minutes and cure in a short time. I have tried it and know—W. H. Clinton, Helmetta, N. J. The epidemic at Helmetta was at first believed to be cholera, but subsequent investigation proved it to be a violent form of dysentery, almost as dangerous as cholera. This Remedy was used there with great success. For sale by Edwin Ross, druggist.

HYMENEAL HYMN.

BY J. P. LOONEY, A. M.

"There be things to mortals given,
Have less of earth and more of heaven."
—Scott.

The following poem was presented by the author at the marriage of Miss Jessie A. Looney to Mr. Willard N. Jones, which occurred at Jefferson, Oregon, October 26, A. D. 1892:

"Wedding Bells."
The bells of the village are ringing
To hymen a joyful chime,
And hearts truly happy are singing
Sweet anthems in consonant time.

(Flowers sent for.)
Now, come, fair youth and sweet maiden,
Go, wear a wreath for the shrine;
Bring flowers with perfumes now laden,
Yes, Amaranth, the rose-bud, the twin.

Bring garlands and bouquets and posies,
Bring Hyacinths hither to the nod,
And perfume with the essence of roses
That grew in the gardens of God!

(Flowers fall to arrive.)
But, haste you! the bride is ready,
Before the roud altar they stand,
While the minister, nerve and voice steady,
Most eloquent raises his hand.

"Cupid furnish them")
They'll wait but a moment—O, what a pair!
They gaze for a breath lest they fall,
When, behold! two white-winged Cupids
Come fluttering down from the wall!

The altar is covered with flowers
That ripened in angelic hands;
Each Cupid holds up bright bowers,
While firm on the altar he stands.

(The recording angel comes.)
I glance up, now, to the ceiling,
And O, what a heavenly look!
I saw a bright seraph above kneeling;
He carefully opens a book.

(The Lamb's Book of Life.)
The pen and the pages, they were golden,
Too perfect for earth. I did think
These, said he, they are mortals,
And diamonds dissolved are the ink.

(He records.)
But list, said he, it is awful,
As he changed to a serious look;
These vows, that are thus made quite lawful,
Should be written down here in my book.

(He returns.)
The magical scene was thus ended,
When he lifted his lily-white hand,
As upward and homeward he wended,
To mansions in the heavenly land!

(The Cupids return.)
I turned my eyes now toward the altar,
And heard in most exquisite tones
Of voice that never shall falter—
"Both flowers and Cupids have flown!"

I glanced now quick up to heaven,
For fear that I might be too late,
To see if an entrance were given
To both through the large pearly gate.

"(The gate stands ajar.)"
The gate stood open as a token,
While a beautiful light through it shone,
That none of their pledges were broken,
And revealed there the great White Throne.

(The Master presides.)
There high above all sat the Master,
And the saints filled with pleasure and mirth,
When to them the Omnipotent Pastor
Read the joyful news just from earth.

(He approves.)
And the great White Throne was surrounded
With Glory to Father and Son,
While the harp of the saints there were sounded
When he gave his approval—WELL DONE!

SUNK AT ASTORIA.

The Barge Columbia a Total Wreck—Two Men Killed. Last Saturday morning, at Astoria, the steamer Ocklaha, Capt. Short, arrived with the barge Columbia from Portland with a cargo of 550 tons of wheat. On making the landing the bow of the barge was stove in, making a large hole. Capt. Short was then ordered to take the barge in between the wharf and the shore, and this being done he and some of his crew went into the barge and endeavored to build bulkheads with sacks of wheat in order to stop the inflow of water. But the hole being large the water gained on them very rapidly, until finally they were warned of danger and at once attempted to make their escape. However, this was not done in time, and after all of them but the captain and a deckhand by the name of Peterson had reached the deck in safety the barge caromed and sunk, resting on one side. This happened just as Capt. Short was part way out of the hatch, the cargo of wheat shifting and pinning him fast and crushing him to death. The deckhand was still in the hold and was drowned there.

The cargo of wheat and also the barge will be a total loss, valued at about $15,000.

NOTICE.

Deserving Praise. We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. For sale by Edwin Ross, druggist.

A Cholera scare. A reported outbreak of cholera at Helmetta, N. J., created much excitement in that vicinity. Investigation showed that the disease was not cholera but a violent dysentery, which is almost as severe and dangerous as cholera. Mr. Walter Willard, a prominent merchant of Jamesburg, two miles from Helmetta, says Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has given great satisfaction in the most severe cases of dysentery. It is certainly one of the best things ever made. For sale by Edwin Ross, druggist.

SOME newspaper man started the report that a Lawrence, Kansas, girl kneads bread with her gloves on, and another practical pencil pusher adds: "Well, so do we. We also need it with our shoes on, with our pants on, and with all our clothes on. We need it dogon bad; and if our delinquents would pay up we would buy a whole hakeshop." To point the moral is not necessary.
