The election of Grover Cleveland for president will have no depressing effect upon the commercial world or the money market unless in reducing the tariff on imports...

CONVICT LABOR.

Under this heading the Oregonian discusses at some length the mooted and difficult problem of convict labor, and advances some ideas that may be practical and of vast benefit to the state...

THERE have been other tidal waves in presidential elections since 1824. In 1828 Andrew Jackson received 218 electoral votes against 49 for Henry Clay...

lected the country would not know what to expect of his administration, as the principles of his party are so indefinite in character.

THE NEW INCORPORATION.

The Latest Astoria Railroad Proposition Filed. In Astoria last week I. W. Case, W. H. Wattis and Frank J. Taylor filed articles of incorporation for the Astoria & Eastern railway...

First. To build, construct, equip and acquire, maintain and operate a railway line from a point in the city of Astoria, in Clatsop county, in the state of Oregon, by way of the Nehalem river valley...

The city of Astoria aforesaid shall be the western terminus of said railway lines and city of Portland shall be the eastern terminus of said main line...

Second. Also to build, construct, equip, operate and maintain such other branch lines along and from said main line to such point or points as the directors of the corporation may from time to time think necessary to accommodate the traffic along the line and in the vicinity of said proposed railway.

Third. Also to construct, equip, operate and maintain telegraph and telephone lines, with all the appliances necessary for operating the same along the said proposed railway lines and branches.

Fourth. Also to transfer or carry for tolls and fares, freight and passengers on said railway lines, and to transmit messages and communications on said telegraph and telephone lines.

Fifth. Also to purchase and acquire, own, hold, operate and maintain certain constructed line of railway leading from Young's bay, in said county of Clatsop, to or near the point known as Seaside, in said Clatsop county...

Sixth. Also to lease to any other corporation authorized to lease, acquire, operate or maintain railway, telegraph and telephone lines in the state of Oregon, all or any portion of the said proposed lines to be constructed or acquired as aforesaid.

The capital stock of this corporation shall be Three Million Dollars ($3,000,000), and the same is divided into thirty thousand shares of the par value of one hundred dollars each.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our regular correspondent.) Washington, November 18, 1892. The democratic party has never lacked impudence, but its proposition that the republican senate should help it out of the predicament in which it will find itself after the 4th of next March is a little ahead of its previous efforts in that line.

It is as certain as anything in the future can be that the receipts of the government for the first fiscal year under Cleveland—July 1, 1893, to June 30, 1894—will fall far short of its absolute necessary expenditures, unless Mr. Cleveland calls an extra session and that extra session shall provide for new revenue in some way, and "republican extravagance" will not be the cause, either.

There has been other tidal waves in presidential elections since 1824. In 1828 Andrew Jackson received 218 electoral votes against 49 for Henry Clay, 11 for John Floyd and 7 for William Wirt. In 1840 General Harrison, who had been defeated by Van Buren in 1836, carried the country by 234 against 60 for Van Buren...

be a great deal lower, and manufacturers who use materials upon which there are duties will only import sufficient for their immediate needs, as it would be ruinous to them to be caught with a big stock on hand when the democratic slump in tariff rates goes into effect.

The president had lengthy conferences this week with Chairman Carter, Secretary McComas, and other members of the national committee, and the cordial manner in which he received them shows that he does not consider their management to blame for his defeat.

Hunt's photograph gallery went floating down the river Tuesday, in search of a more promising location. It is on a boat and therefore made to float. Hunt is a pretty good artist, and will be glad to see him floating back when the weather improves.

Our Finn neighbors have been having some trouble among themselves, and the parties interested have been calling upon W. H. Conyers and Squire Lee for law and justice. The honorable gentlemen have been trying to give them some sensible advice in good English, which they are a little slow to take, owing to their difficulty in comprehending the language, as well as a feeling that if one quiets down the other fellow might have the best of it.

Henry Bright has been removing his household effects to the Reddick farm, where he expects to live with his family this winter while he gets out shingle bolts. The heavy rains have raised the Clatskanie until some work has been done at driving logs recently. There was scarcely water enough to make it a success, though it seems as if there had been rain enough recently to fill the stream bank full.

Our watchmaker, Higgins, left on Wednesday for a visit to North Yamhill of ten days or more. The child of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Syverson, of which mention was made last week, died very suddenly Friday night and was buried on Sabbath at lower Beaver. Alex. Chisholm came in on the steamer Tuesday, from Knappa, to shake hands with some of the boys.

The school board is making a final rustle for collection of school taxes to pay indebtedness on the new building. In a recent letter to the manufacturers, Mr. A. W. Baldrige, Millersville, Ill., says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives the best satisfaction of any cough medicine I handle, and as a seller, leads all other preparations in this market. I recommend it because it is the best medicine I ever handled for coughs, colds and croup." For sale by Edwin Ross, druggist.

Johnson & Kelly were doing some good work on Nehalem avenue one day this week, but they had to wade in mud and worked in the rain to do it. W. K. Tichenor has moved his family into town, occupying the paternal mansion during their absence in Portland.

A child of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Rice died in Portland last Saturday morning. It had been taken to the city for a hair lip operation, which was successfully performed a few days previous to its death, which occurred from some bowel trouble. It was brought here on Sabbath and buried next day in the Bryant cemetery.

Mrs. Rutter, the new postmistress at Quincy (lower Beaver), was in town Tuesday trying to find out how to get the new office supplied with mail matter. It seems the mail carrier has not yet been ordered to stop there. The people in that neighborhood have been working by petition and otherwise for some time to get a postoffice. It was a good while before they could settle on a name for the office. Now they have an office and a name for it, and a postmistress, and yet they are not satisfied. They want something to come to the office to give the postmistress something to do.
